Hindu Riots Not Connected With Gandhi Campaign Beyond Control

Bombay and Three Other Centers Scenes of Armed Strife

BOMBAY (India) May 27. (AP)—Fear, hatred, or their aftermath of doubt and uncertainty, reigned today in four great cities of British India possessions.

A fresh computation of official figures showed that in Rangoon, Delhi and Bombay forty-two persons had been killed, 1,063 and hundreds arrested. Since the week-end the riots have spread out of the bounds of the civil disobedience campaign. They followed the salt raids of Mahatma Gandhi's volunteers and the "nonviolence" a merely [illegible]

BURMESE BESIEGUERED

Rangoon, the Burmese capital, has recovered from the heavy rioting of several weeks ago, but is a besieged city. Soldiers and police are striving desperately to maintain a hold, although, over fighting coolie bands.

Many bodies lie in the city streets and many others are reported to have been carried away by friends or relatives. The official death list stands at sixty and the wounded at 740, but these figures are considered much below the probable totals.

Despite these actions are conditions in Bombay, the great British seaport of the Indian mutiny days, a roll of four dead and injured there represents the only list that seems likely to be materially increased on the coming of further news.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 27. [To the Editor of The Times:] The Supreme Court decided that it was not illegal to be the buyer of booze. In other words they said that your freedom was not in jeopardy, but your life was. They say you can buy it, but it's illegal to transport it. You got to gulp it right where you made the deal for it. Now, how are you going to get liquor into your mouth without transporting it? To really be within strict keeping of the law, the bootlegger is going to have to pour it into you and you are not allowed to lift a hand to assist.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

TELEVISION EYES MADE FOR PLANES

John Hays Hammond, Jr., Announces Radio Device That Baffles Fog

BOSTON, May 27. (Exclusive)—John Hays Hammond, Jr., noted for his radio research work, announced at his laboratory in Gloucester today that he had invented a television system that gives an airplane an eye like a hawk, no matter how thick the fog that hovers over a landing field. The radio eye enables the pilot actually to see the scene below him on a television screen placed ahead of him in the cockpit.

Mr. Hammond and his staff of engineers hailed the new system as one of the greatest safety factors so far developed for aviation. He described the invention as the wedding of the two sciences, radio vision and aviation.

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) May 27. (AP)—Margaret Ferguson, 17-year-old Colorado Springs high school student and one of the youngest girls in the United States to hold a government private pilot's license, was killed today in the crash of her plane east of the city limits.

Miss Ferguson passed her government flying tests last Friday. She was rated by L. F. Bishop, government inspector, as a private pilot and was soloing today in an attempt to qualify as a commercial pilot.

TARIFF BILL DERAILED

Curtis Shocks Advocates

Sends it Back to Conferees on Point of Order Raised by Democrat

Republicans Plan to Redraft Flexible Provisions of Measure

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—The tariff bill went its weary way back to conference tonight, driven there by a ruling of Vice-President Curtis against the compromise flexible provision in the final draft of the Hawley-Smoot measure.

Surprised by the ruling upon a Democratic point of order against the section, Republican chieftains were laying plans to redraft the provision and get the measure again before the Senate. It appeared unlikely the bill will return to the tariff-tired Senate before next week, however, and even then it faces new points of order from the Democratic side.

In the face of today's reversal, Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, told the Senate "We will get this bill out of conference and we will pass it." He spoke up after Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, had inquired if Smoot was "giving up the ship."

The Vice-President held the conferees had exceeded their authority in writing into the bill new language providing that a Tariff Commission rate change should take effect if the President neither approved nor disapproved it within sixty days of its recommendation.

REPUBLICANS CONFUSED

Confusion prevailed among Republicans when Mr. Curtis handed down his decision. Senator Shortridge, Republican, California, one of the conferees, demanded a roll call vote on an appeal but withdrew it after talking for several minutes.

Senator Harrison suggested the Republicans get rulings immediately on the other points of order which are to be raised against the conference rates on cherries, cheese, rayon and perhaps watches. Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, joined in the request in the interest of expediting the legislation.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader, however, protested, but he denied the suggestion of Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, that "the friends of the legislation are trying to kill it."

Watson immediately conferred with President Hoover and the administration leaders were silent tonight on just what steps will be taken to rectify the wording of the flexible provision.

CURTIS'S RULING

It developed that the language objected to by Senator Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, when he raised the point of order was inserted in the bill at the request of Representative Garner, of Texas, the House minority chieftain and one of the conferees.

Garner had praised the new provision as a satisfactory compromise between the Senate and House amendments and it had the approval of President Hoover.

In his rulings, Mr. Curtis cited a rule he had sponsored when he was chairman of the Senate Rules Committee. This forbids conferees from inserting in their report language not submitted to them by either house of Congress.

Senator Smoot quoted statistics to show the measure was "written primarily for agriculture."

Based on 1928 import values, he said it would bring in revenue amounting to $630,456,280 against $522,649,383 under the present law, an increase of $107,306,897.

STANDS ON MERITS

"On the basis of actual experience in 1928," the Finance Committee chairman said, "it is evident that protective rates to agriculture have been increased four times as much as the protective rates to industry as a whole."

"The bill stands on its merits in appearing for a final vote," he continued, adding, it "goes as far as it is possible to go in protecting agriculture in its home market and yet not prejudice the industrial pay rolls, which are such an important

NOTABLES FRYED IN HOAX

Curtis and Davis Laud Hugo N. Frye, (You Go and Fry) as Pioneer New York Republican

ITHACA (N. Y.) May 27. (AP)—How Vice-President Curtis, Secretary of Labor Davis and other Republican national officials were made innocent victims of a hoax of the editors of a humorous column in the Cornell Daily Sun, student newspaper, was revealed by the perpetrators at a dinner here last night.

The editors, who use the name Hugo N. Frye (you-go-and-fry) in publishing their flippancies, desiring, as they stated, "to settle once and for all the dispute regarding the actual birthplace of the Republican party," sent letters to the leaders. They wrote that "a dinner in honor of the sesquicentennial of the birth" of Frye was to be held by students here.

DEPRIVED OF FAME

The "committee" averred that "this little-known patriot of Central New York has been deprived of the fame that should have been his for his part in the organization of the Republican party in New York State." They requested a message "in memory of that pioneer Republican, Hugo N. Frye."

Telegrams which the jokesters said they received were read. Claudius H. Huston, National Republican Committee chairman, they said, sent a telegram of commendation.

Vice-President Curtis was said to have "congratulated the Republicans on paying this respect to the memory of Hugo N. Frye, pioneer Republican of Elmira."

Secretary Davis was quoted as saying, "It is a pleasure to testify to the career of that sturdy patriot who first planted the ideals of our

ASCETICISM BRINGS GIRL $1000 PRIZE

Iowan Wins Championship as Speller in National Bee at Washington

WASHINGTON, May 27. (Exclusive)—Helen Jensen, 12 years of age, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, won the national spelling championship and a cash prize of $1000 in the sixth annual spelling bee held today in the auditorium of the National Museum. Having correctly spelled "asceticism," which stumped Ruth Des Jardins, 12, of Detroit, winner of second-place honors, the Iowa girl established her right to the championship by spelling "albumen." Miss Des Jardins received $500 as second prize.

Twenty-four sectional champions from all over the country participated in the bee, sponsored by the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal and other newspapers. The following words proved stumbling blocks to the contestants:

License, occasional, primarily, approaching, pleasantries, saxophone, conveyance, decreed, pastime, breach, litigation, necessarily, georgette, surety, lieu, philosophical, grievances, abominable, concede, abysses, blackguard, conflagration, and asceticism.

As third-prize winner, Mildred Froning of South Bend, Ind., received $250, while fourth prize of $125 went to Winfield Yarnell of Carlisle, Pa.; fifth prize of $75 to Ruby Van Vactor, Paducah, Ky., sixth prize, $50, to James Drummond, West Liberty, Va., and seventh prize of $40 to David Laughlin, Glen Carlin, Va.

Northcott Sinks Nearer Death in Prison Illness

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, May 27. (AP)—Gordon Stewart Northcott, under sentence of death for the Riverside county "chicken ranch" murders, today took a sudden turn for the worse in the prison hospital, where he is under observation for appendicitis. Dr. L. L. Stanley, resident physician, pronounced his condition as dangerous.

Northcott was taken to the hospital from condemned row several days ago, but refused to permit an operation. He continued his refusal today although his mother, Mrs. Sarah Northcott, serving a life sentence for the same slayings, visited him and pleaded with him to submit to an operation.

Mexican Penal Code Revision Group Named

MEXICO CITY, May 27. (AP)—The newspaper La Prensa said today a commission of eleven jurists had been appointed to frame a new penal code replacing the one put in effect last December by President Portes Gil.

The paper said that trial by jury, banned by the Portes Gil code, will be resumed and many other startling innovations will be dropped.

Among other things the Portes Gil code recognized the right to steal in case of dire hunger and also recognized the right of a deceived husband or wife to kill if his or her mate were caught in a compromising position.

Archduke Otto Will Assert His Right to Throne

BUDAPEST (Hungary) May 27. (AP)—Reports in legitimist circles today were that Archduke Otto, eldest son of the late Ex-Emperor Karl of Austria, on his next birthday will issue a declaration asserting his theoretical rights to the throne of Hungary.

The young Archduke will be 18 years of age on November 20. He is now being educated in Belgium.

Legitimists say that he will make no attempt to disturb the peaceful development of the country. The Hungarian government will announce that agitation in connection with the question of the throne can not be tolerated.

Delay Possible Because of Interruption in Delivery of Hydrogen Supply

BY GUSTAF KAUDER

(Copyright, 1930, in the United States and Canada by the New York Times Company. Elsewhere by Ullstein A. G. All rights reserved.)

PERNAMBUCO (Brazil) May 27. (Exclusive)—The departure of the Graf Zeppelin for Havana has been set for tomorrow morning. The passengers have been ordered to be on board by 6:30 a.m. (1:30 a.m. Pacific standard time,) but an additional twelve-hours' delay is possible because of a two-hour interruption today in the delivery of hydrogen.

Because the trip to Havana presents the most difficult part of the voyage due to little-known weather conditions Dr. Eckener has had the airship thoroughly overhauled. He would have liked to have taken on 700,000 cubic feet of fuel and 200,000 cubic feet of hydrogen, but he will be unable on account of a shortage of the gas supply to receive the desired quantities if the departure should take place tomorrow morning.

Garner is a member of the joint Congressional committee to which all refunds in excess of $75,000 are referred by the Treasury Department before final action is taken.

UNION STATION AT PLAZA ORDERED BY HIGH COURT

State Supreme Tribunal Declares Rail Board Can Force Carriers to Construct New Terminal

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. (Exclusive)—The three major railroads of Los Angeles must build the Plaza Union Station. Two decisions handed down here today, one by the California Railroad Commission and the other by the State Supreme Court, make mandatory the construction of the $10,000,000 structure on the Plaza site, in accordance with an order to that effect issued by the Railroad Commission on July 8, 1927.

The railroads — Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and the Los Angeles and Salt Lake (Union Pacific) system — may carry the battle that has been waged for nearly a score of years back to the United States Supreme Court on a question of constitutional rights, but the consensus of those familiar with the long case is that the railroads at last are beaten in their fight to prevent the construction.

"BLIND SPOT" GONE

The Railroad Commission took the first of today's two vital actions by denying a petition from the railroads for a rehearing of the order for construction. In doing so, the commission anticipated the railroads would appeal once again to the State Supreme Court on the point of jurisdiction.

And almost at the same time, the Supreme Court, sitting en banc, wiped out that avenue of further appeal by handing down a unanimous decision legalizing the Railroad Commission's authority to force construction. The decision has the effect of eliminating that which has come to be known, in the long litigation, as the "blind spot," (in other words, the public utilities body with the properly constituted authority to tell carriers, how and when they shall best serve the public interest.

MOOT QUESTION

It has been a question throughout the so-called Plaza depot cases whether that authority is vested in State regulatory commissions, in the Interstate Commerce Commission or whether the Transportation Act of 1920 left the authority hanging in the air.

The Supreme Court says the Railroad Commission has complete authority and has had it, under the law, even before the passage of the Transportation Act.

Of the many points of exception to the Railroad Commission order for construction raised by the carriers, the Supreme Court ruling recognizes eight as major and discards the rest with the observation:

"We find no other contentions with sufficient merit to require discussion. The order of the Railroad Commission is affirmed."

MAJOR POINTS

Major point one centered on the contention of the carriers that the Transportation Act of 1920 failed to specify the location of jurisdiction in such matters. The Supreme Court observes in this respect that the effect of the last decision of the United States Supreme Court is not to take the essential mandatory power from the State Commission but merely provides that before the State Commission can exercise its authority, the Interstate Commerce Commission must issue the necessary certificates.

"That," says the decision of the high tribunal, "has been done," hence, "the Railroad Commission has the right to order the station."

The second point of discussion was what Congress might have done to center jurisdiction. The decision says Congress might have assumed jurisdiction but did not, thereby leaving it, in the court's opinion, in the Railroad Commission, where it already had been placed by proper statues.

TECHNICAL PHASE

Involved as a component part of this phase of the controversy, but treated with the weight of separate discussion is an element, highly technical to the lay mind, known to the legal profession as "the law of the case." In view of the decision, it is nonessential to explain the point, but in effect the railroads were denied the legitimacy of their contention in this respect.

The fourth of the foremost points considered was the argument of the carriers that "no public authority

ADVOCATES JUBILANT

Ruling on Station Acclaimed

State Supreme Court Action Marks Great New Step, City Officials Say

Railroads' Counsel Probably Will Confer to Determine on Possible Appeal

News that the California Supreme Court has upheld the California Railroad Commission's authority in ordering Los Angeles railroads to build a union passenger terminal in the Plaza area was received variously here yesterday. It was good news to terminal proponents and was hailed by them as another important victory in their years of fighting for this great city improvement. It was not such good news to the railroads which for as many years have contested bitterly every advantage procured by union-station proponents.

"We can ask the United States Supreme Court to review the California Supreme Court decision," was the comment of Frank Karr, veteran Pacific Electric Railway counsel leader in the anti-terminal fight.

CONFERENCE PLANNED

Mr. Karr was without official information last night concerning the exact technical nature of the decision and so withheld further comment, except to say that railroad counsel undoubtedly will confer jointly at an early date to determine what shall be done.

State Railroad Commissioner Carr chanced to be here when news of the decision came and he said:

"This means that a union-passenger terminal for Los Angeles is one step nearer. The decision upholds the basic power of the State to order it. The only further hurdle will be in an appeal to the United States Supreme Court. There is reason to hope that this hurdle, like many others which have been passed, will also be surmounted."

MAYOR MAY ACT

Mayor Porter, who early in his administration went on record as placing his regime in strict accord with the city's long previous official and aggressive stand for the terminal, said he will resume his personal efforts to get opposing interests together in the matter outside the courts. He pointed out that after the United States Supreme Court decision on an Interstate Commerce Commission phase of the matter last November he proposed such a joint conference. The railroads expressed willingness to confer, but said the conferring should be delayed until after the decision which now is handed down.

"Now that the decision has come down," the Mayor said, "I'll find out just what the situation is again and if it is the proper time I will move toward getting the conference started with hopes that we may do something."

City Attorney Werner, like Mayor Porter, is new to the depot contest, but similarly has not wavered in following the pro-terminal precedent set by previous heads of the city legal department. He said last night:

"It is plain that this is a great

FLOOD ROUTS NEW VICTIMS

Refugee Camps Dot Louisiana Hills as Red River Inundates Hundred Thousand Acres

NEW ORLEANS, May 27. (AP)—Refugee camps dotted the hills of Red River and Natchitoches parishes tonight as flood waters from the Red River and its tributaries forced more families from their homes. Thousands of homes were partly or completely covered by water that was still rising today. Men, women and children crowded together in the refugee camps.

Delph Pranta, managing editor of the Shreveport Journal, flew over the flooded area between Shreveport and Coushatta today and reported flood conditions more widespread than in 1927.

Officials reported 105,000 acres under water in these two parishes with another 100,000 emerging from water in Caddo, Bossier and Desoto. Estimates of the homeless inhabitants have passed 6000.

SITUATION GRAVE

Representative Aswell toured the area in Natchitoches parish today and telegraphed national headquarters of the Red Cross in Washington for aid. He described the situation as a "grave emergency" and "distressing in the extreme." He asked for immediate relief for 1000 families.

Meantime, planters and merchants were co-operating with local chapters of the Red Cross in caring for the refugees. The national Red Cross ordered field agents to investigate conditions in Natchitoches parish with the view to offering aid.

YOUTH DROWNS

In Grant parish, William E. Lafoon, 17 years of age, was drowned in the overflow from Sandy Bayou while trying to drive cattle out of the flooded area, according to a report by T. K. McKnight, chairman of the Grant parish Red Cross disaster relief committee.

Farther to the east, Quachita River was rising. In Mississippi, the Pearl River was spreading out of its banks with a stage at Jackson of 31.3 feet, against a flood stage of twenty feet. Back water had reached the ball park at the fairgrounds and was around residences in the lower sections. The crest was expected to be reached at thirty-two feet.

can compel us to construct a union station where such construction requires the acquisition of new properties and the abandonment of existing facilities without due process of law and in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution."

DECISIONS CITED

To this the Supreme Court says: "That contention is not a new one but has been passed upon by numerous State tribunals, contrary to the contention of the railroads herein." To which the court appends a long list of decisions by other State Supreme courts in substantiation of its interpretation and conclusions.

"Fifth is the contention of the Southern Pacific that the order is void as to it because it will require it 'to abandon adequate facilities and to join the other petitioneers in acquiring new property which is unnecessary for a full performance of said petitioners' duties to the public.'

"This argument is made," the court states, "because there has been no finding of fact made by the Railroad Commission of this State that the passenger station and facilities of the Southern Pacific Company are inadequate." But, says the decision, "there is, assuredly, an implied finding to this effect in the order. The argument loses sight of the fact that an adequate building alone will not constitute adequate passenger terminal facilities but that a satisfactory passenger terminal contemplates also that passenger trains may safely be directed to said terminal. The record discloses that passenger trains of the Southern Pacific Company can only reach the present passenger terminal by grade crossings along Alameda street, which are so unsafe, unpracticable and unreasonable, under all the surrounding circumstances, as to require elimination.

"The carriers admit the desirability of eliminating the grade crossings and submitted a plan of their own. (The elevated hook-up system.)

"Both commissions (the State Railroad Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission) have found this plan undesirable and the application of the carrier to proceed in accordance therewith was denied."

Sixth in order of consideration were the arguments of the Santa Fe and the Los Angeles and Salt Lake that construction of the union station would be equivalent to taking their property without compensation and due process of law because "the primary purpose" of the order "is to accomplish the removal of the tracks of the Southern Pacific Company from Alameda street, a matter with which they are unconcerned."

COMMISSION BACKED

But the court rules:

"The Railroad Commission takes a position which we think is correct, to the effect that each company is ordered to join in the erection of the union station because of its own inadequacies in terminal passenger facilities; that the proportionate expense of each has not yet been determined and that when it is determined it is assumed that each carrier will be required to pay because of and in an amount proportionate to the evils in its system sought to be remedied by the new plan. It cannot be assumed that in the event they fail to agree upon a segregation of the costs, the Railroad Commission will require any of the carriers to pay more than the amount necessary to furnish proper facilities to perform its duty to the public."

The decision continues:

"It is also contended, and we think with little merit, that the order is arbitrary because not warranted by the evidence introduced at the hearing. The evidence, indeed the admitted facts, show that the station facilities of two of the carriers are inadequate."

The reference here is to the Santa Fe and the Los Angeles and Salt Lake. The latter, for instance, uses the Southern Pacific station, known as the Central Station, for lack of its own terminal.

CROSSINGS DANGEROUS

Continuing the decision says the evidence also shows "that the grade crossings of the Southern Pacific, the third carrier, are dangerous to life and limb and unsuited to the surroundings.

"The latter matter could only be changed by a complete and expensive change of trackage or a change of terminal and the commission adopted the latter method because of the need of a new terminal by the other two carriers. There is nothing unreasonable or arbitrary in the findings and order made.

"As a last attack upon the order, the carriers contend it is conditional and not absolute; indefinite and uncertain. It is contended that because the order recites that it shall become effective upon the promulgation by the Interstate Commerce Commission of an order issuing and granting proper and sufficient certificates or orders covering and authorizing the constructions, extensions and abandonments authorized in said order of the Railroad Commission, and that the issuance of such order or orders by the Interstate Commerce Commission shall be a condition present to the effectiveness of the order, the order is void.

QUESTION RAISED

"Petitioners ask who is to say whether or not such certificates as might be made by the Interstate Commerce Commission are 'proper and sufficient certificates.'

"We think this question is not properly raised here.

"The certificates on their face are proper and sufficient and comply with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States; the Railroad Commission is so considering them as did the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"No question has been raised by any one as to their insufficiency and since they had been issued and were in existence and became a part of the order of the Railroad Commission at the time the writ of review was issued by this court, no uncertainty existed at such time as to their content and no dispute existed as to their sufficiency.

"WITHOUT MERIT"

"As to the objection that the order does not specify the details of the construction, we think it is without merit. A substantial compliance with the plans is all that is required, variation in details being left to the discretion of the carriers.

"In the instant case, the location of the union station is given, the track layout is fully shown, the land necessary to be taken is definitely marked out and the general dimensions of the station building are given. As to the details of the arrangement, this is left, considerately, to the discretion of the carriers and, as we have stated, a substantial compliance with the suggested plan is all that is required."

DISGRACE TAKEN FROM ARREST

"We Frequently Seize Some Very Nice People," Police Officer Assures Woman

EVANSTON (Ill.) May 27. (AP)—Mrs. Frank Fritcheck cried.

"They arrested me," she told Sergt. William Johnson, "for driving through a stop-sign. Oh, this is terrible. I don't want to have a police record and be considered a criminal."

"There, there, lady," said Sergt. Johnson, reassuringly. "Really," you know, being arrested is nothing; nothing at all. We frequently arrest some very nice people."

Mrs. Fritcheck felt much better and stopped crying.

victory for the city and its need for union passenger facilities. This decision clears up the last bit of pending litigation. There is nothing further to be decided unless new issues are raised and injected into the courts again. I expect to know more about it by tomorrow. Of course, the railroads might appeal from this to the United States Supreme Court."

Assistant City Attorney Milton Bryan, who as a veteran member of the city legal department fought for the terminal for many years, said:

"It seems like a great victory. We got only the bare details in a telephone call from Max Thelen's office in San Francisco, but it appears that the very thing that the city has contended for in this matter has been decided in our favor. Thelen is our special counsel up there."

EFFECT EXPLAINED

"The decision was inevitable, it seemed to me in view of the United States Supreme Court decision last November," commented Jess E. Stephens, who as assistant City Attorney and later as City Attorney directed the unwavering fight of the city for so many years. He still is special counsel for the city in the matter. "The Federal decision was to the effect that the Interstate Commerce Commission does not have the power to order the railroads to build the station. It is inconceivable in view of the various laws that such power does not rest in some of the regulatory bodies and this decision apparently upholds the contention that it rests in the State Railroad Commission. It is a great victory and I'm eager to get the decision and see how far it goes."

The so-called Plaza union terminal cases were originated by complaints filed with the Railroad Commission as long ago as 1916, asking that certain grade-crossing hazards along the rail lines in Los Angeles be eliminated and that a union station be ordered.

The Railroad Commission, in 1921, ordered the railroads to erect a union station on the Plaza area near the new Los Angeles City Hall.

This decision was annulled by the State Supreme Court on the ground that power to direct interstate railroads to build union stations had been granted to the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Transportation Act of 1920. The United States Supreme Court sustained this decision, holding, however, that the Interstate Commerce Commission must make findings of public convenience and necessity and that the expense would not hamper the railroads in performing their other duties, before the order of the State commission could become effective.

COMMISSION ACTS

The Interstate Commerce Commission, on complaint of the city of Los Angeles, held that a union station in the Plaza area in Los Angeles is required by public convenience and necessity. It also held that the expense involved would not hamper these railroads in the performance of their duties to the public. It left the matter open, however, for a definite order on the part of the Railroad Commission.

Such definite order was made by the Railroad Commission on July 8, 1927, this order directing the attorney for the Railroad Commission to file with the Interstate Commerce Commission a petition for the issuance of final certificates by that body. After further hearing and argument in Washington these certificates were issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission on May 8, 1928.

Meanwhile, the railroads had filed petitions for a rehearing of the Railroad Commission's order. These petitions were held, pending action, by the Interstate Commerce Commission and, this action having now been taken by the issuance of the certificates in question, completely confirming the determination of the Railroad Commission upon the merits of the case, the Railroad Commission has now denied these petitions for rehearing and the State Supreme Court has confirmed the commission's authority in the matter.

Various as yet untried avenues of possible litigation against the terminal project remain, it is admitted by counsel.

The long contest to get a union passenger station in Los Angeles had its real beginning nineteen years ago.

THELEN EXPECTS RULING WILL BE SUSTAINED

BERKELEY, May 27. (Exclusive) Max Thelen, San Francisco and Los Angeles attorney who acted as special counsel for the city of Los Angeles through the long years of the Plaza union station litigation, sees in the State Supreme Court decision the beginning of the last chapter in the case and considers it a great moral victory for the people of Los Angeles, City Attorney Werner and the California Railroad Commission.

"This marks a quite clear victory," he told The Times correspondent. "The Supreme Court passed upon every point raised by the railroads.

"I am of the opinion that if recourse is taken to the Supreme Court of the United States, the decision will be affirmed.

"The Supreme Court has completely affirmed all the work done by the Railroad Commission in this case and the decision is entirely in accord with the brief filed for the city of Los Angeles as amicus curiae by City Attorney Werner and with the brief of the Railroad Commission."

ILLNESS OF KING TERMED SLIGHT

Public's Anxiety Calmed by Doctor's Explanation

Rheumatism in Hip Obviates Presence at Court

Indisposition Not Related to Former Ailment

LONDON, May 27. (Exclusive)—The announcement today that King George is indisposed and unable to be present at the third and fourth courts tonight and tomorrow caused considerable public anxiety, but the fears were allayed when it was explained by his doctors that he is suffering only a slight attack of rheumatism in his right hip, which makes it painful for him to stand for the length of time required while the debutantes make their bows before the King and consort.

Any hint of an illness on the part of the King is bound to cause anxiety because the general belief is that he has never really regained his health after the illness of last year which brought him to the point of death.

This is recognized by his doctors, who emphasize his present indisposition as having nothing to do with his former illness, but probably being due either to fatigue or the bad weather of last week.

EIGHT AMERICANS PRESENTED AT COURT

LONDON, May 27. (AP)—The third royal British court of the season, at which eight American girls and women were among the 600 from all nations presented, was a brilliant affair tonight despite the absence of King George because of a rheumatic attack.

The presentees were received by Queen Mary, who in the absence of the King, was aided by the Prince of Wales, resplendent in his scarlet uniform as colonel-in-chief of the Welsh Guards, standing at the side of his royal mother.

AMERICANS PRESENTED

These Americans were presented: Mrs. Frederick Thwaits, Milwaukee; Mrs. George Phelps, Detroit; Miss Helen Howell, Chicago; Mrs. Guy Goff, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Miss Vera Bloom, New York City; Mrs. George Carr, Chicago; Miss Carolyn Windman, Brooklyn, and Miss Elizabeth Plankinton, New York City.

Queen Mary was attired in a magnificent gown of gold brocade, embroidered in gold and colored stones.

She stood before the golden throne, mounted on a scarlet dais under a crimson canopy, graciously bowing and smiling as each woman was presented and made her long-rehearsed curtsy.

LONG DRESSES

The function, which is considered London's outstanding fashion show, gave approval to the new silhouette long skirt, the high waist and feminine lines in general. All the gowns were long, most of them barely clearing the floor. More jewels were worn than in recent seasons, and the prevalence of long hair elaborately coiffed gave the scene somewhat of a Victorian air.

The final royal court for the season will be held tomorrow night. The following six Americans will be presented:

Miss Maxine Adams, Rexburg, Idaho; Miss Carolyn Apperson Leech, Louisville; Mrs. Jacob Baur, Chicago; Mrs. Edward Spafford, New York; Mrs. Hoffman Nickerson, Oyster Bay, N. Y., and Mrs. Franklin Terr, New York.

factor in the size and profitableness of that home market."

Defects which have become apparent in the Tariff Act of 1927 owing to changes in competitive conditions, he said, have been "remedied" in the bill.

Smoot said the bill carries 888 increased rates and 235 decreases with seventy-five items transferred from the dutiable to the free list, and forty-eight articles taken from the free to the protective category. The average ad valorem equivalent of all existing levies was placed at 33.22 per cent and those of the bill at 40.08 per cent, an increase of 6.86 per cent.

FIGURES CITED

A table prepared by the Tariff Commission was cited to show that 68 per cent of the total estimated increase in revenues would result from the higher rates on agricultural raw materials.

Imports of agricultural raw materials were valued at $512,450,270 in 1928, the duties amounting to $195,235,634, or 38.10 per cent. Smoot said the bill would raise the duties to $250,688,234, or 48.92 per cent, an increase over the law of 10.82 per cent.

Imports of manufactured products made from agricultural raw materials were valued at $163,062,467 in 1928, with duties of $66,176,607, or 36.15 per cent. The bill, it was estimated, would boost the revenues to $89,472,920, with an average ad valorem of 48.87, or an increase of 12.72 per cent.

"I am sorry indeed my official duties prevent me from attending the dinner.

"I congratulate the Republicans on paying this respect to the memory of Hugo N. Frye and wish you a most successful occasion.

"With kindest regards I am very truly yours,

Congresswoman Pratt wired: "Greetings and all good wishes to all of you who are gathered to pay tribute to the memory of Hugo N. Frye. I wish it were possible for me to be with you."

Senator Grundy also added his praise to the "sesquicentennial project."

NEW YORKERS TO MAKE SEA SALT FOR GANDHI

NEW YORK, May 27. (AP)—Amid cheers and jeers of a huge noonday crowd, Raymond Duncan, brother of the late Isadora Duncan, dancer, dipped up a bucket of sea water at the Battery today to make salt for Mahatma Gandhi.

Duncan, who will take the salt to Gandhi when he sails for Paris next week, said his act was a gesture of love to the Indian leader from his American sympathizers.

"We send him our love and sympathy and remind him that we once had a tea party at Boston," he said.

Attired in a long chalmys with its folds draped around his shoulders and a silken fillet around his flowing locks, Duncan, an exponent of Grecian attire and a believer in the simple life, led a parade of twenty followers in the ceremony.

A squad of police held back the crowd that gathered at the Battery.

RULE CHANGED ON AMATEURISM

Olympic Committee Accepts New Belgian Proposal

English Amendment on Pay by Employer Voted

[Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, May 27. (Exclusive)—Olympic Congress subcommittee on amateurism accepted a further Belgian proposal on amateurism, together with a British amendment on the same subject.

The Belgians propose that "granting of leave with salary paid shall not be considered as compensation for loss of salary." The British amend this by adding "payment of salary shall be made only by the employer and cannot be made by any club or federation."

FOOTBALL RULED OUT

The debate on amateurism lasted two hours. There were no fireworks. When a vote was finally taken twenty-six supported the Belgian proposition and ten opposed it. The English amendment obtained a majority of only one, 19 against 18. The committee's recommendation will be submitted to the plenary session of the congress tomorrow or the day after. If, as is expected, the congress accepts the committee's rules regarding broken time and payment of salary during leave the Los Angeles games in 1932 will bear the hallmark of amateurism pure and undefiled.

The new definition, it is believed, will rule out the participation of international football associations. Members of the congress here expressed the opinion that this absence of football at the Los Angeles meet will be less serious as a financial danger in America than it would be under the same conditions in Europe. They feel that by 1936 it will be possible to find a loophole through which football associations will be admitted to the games.

BERLIN TO GET 1936 GAMES

Murray Hulbert, vice-president of the American Olympic Association, expressed the conviction that the Olympic Games of 1936 will take place in Berlin.

"I am as certain of this as I am of the fact that they will take place in Los Angeles in 1932," he said.

While here Mr. Hulbert is trying to form an athletic federation in Berlin to keep Americans here in closer touch with athletics at home. At the same time he is finishing plans for the formation of a "pool" to collect and provide funds to bring worthy but impecunious European athletes to America.

HOOVER MAKES SAFETY APPEAL

Speaks at Conference on Traffic Problems

Remedy Held Responsibility of Communities

Stronger State Regulation Urged by Lamont

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—President Hoover and Secretary Lamont joined today before the third national conference on street and highway safety in approving its efforts to solve the dual problems of decreasing automobile fatalities and unsnarling traffic congestion through the adoption of uniform vehicle codes by the separate States.

President Hoover welcomed the delegates gathered for "the application of massed intelligence to the solution of a peculiarly difficult problem." He recalled the work of the 1926 conference, and characterized the continuing loss of life on the highways as "a national concern of grave importance."

TEXT OF ADDRESS

The text of his address follows:

"The great loss of human life in street and highway accidents and the toll of suffering among surviving victims, is a national concern of grave importance. You thus are gathered here to consider a humanitarian and economic problem which touches every man, woman and child in the land.

"The last national street and highway safety conference, held in 1926, carefully worked out a program of measures for improvement of traffic conditions. It was then unanimously agreed that responsibility for carrying out these recommendations should lie with the States and local communities; that voluntary organizations also should lend their co-operation locally, and that the national conference should reconvene only if need for it should appear.

HAZARD INCREASES

"In the years that have intertened there has been much effort to better traffic conditions, but the accident rate nevertheless continues to rise because the increasing volume of traffic outruns our efforts. Without these earlier efforts, conditions today would be much worse, but still the steadily increasing traffic has outrun all measures of safety.

"This conference has therefore been called in response to a widespread recognition by governors, State and municipal officials, and associations devoted to the subject, of need for a new appraisal of the situation in the light of experience and for determination of further courses of action upon which all can agree.

WAY PIONEERED

"It is encouraging to know that in some States and localities, where remedies have been actively applied, the accident increase has been curbed and traffic congestion has been somewhat relieved. The way has thus been pioneered.

"But universal improvement can come only gradually and through continuous and combined effort in many different fields and on a nation-wide scale.

"The members of this conference, by working out further remedies through the best-qualified judgment, are rendering an invaluable service. It is the application of massed intelligence to the solution of a peculiarly different problem.

LOCAL PROBLEMS

"The Federal government can properly assist in obtaining the spread of information and ideas and co-ordination of activities, but it still remains the fact, nevertheless, that the State and local authorities, with the co-operation of the public, must be responsible for the practical application of remedial measures. The remedies developed by this conference must therefore rest for their final effectiveness upon the action of the States and the communities, supported in every possible way by the great body of citizenship.

"I appreciate the response shown from all parts of the country in the assembly of this conference, and I am confident that by consistent application of the recommendation which you will develop there may come a distinct betterment in the conditions of our street and highway traffic. On your efforts thus largely hinges the safety and well-being of a large percentage of our people. I conratulate you upon what you already have accomplished and assure you of my best wishes for the success of your further efforts. And I bespeak for you the earnest co-operation of every citizen."

LAMONT SPEAKS

Secretary Lamont, chairman of the conference, likewise warned that "reports from the tariff front leave no doubt as to the seriousness of the situation." He urged as a solution the extension of strongly centralized motor vehicle regulation by the States.

"The States which have strong centralized State motor vehicle administration," Lamont said, "including drivers' license systems with mandatory examination, have shown a much smaller rate of fatality increase than has occurred in the other groups of States."

The Commerce Secretary said in the North Atlantic States fatalities increased only half as fast as registrations, while in the group of nine Middle Western States for which comparable figures are available, the fatality increase exceeded registrations by 10 per cent. In a group of eight Southern States, he said, fatalities mounted by 286 per cent, while registrations increased 224 per cent.

DRY AGENT CENSURED AT CONTEMPT HEARING

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. (AP)—Charges against Louis C. Walker, prohibition agent recently cited for contempt of United States Commissioner Fisk's court here, were dismissed by United States District Judge Kerrigan today after he had severely censured the agent for his "unbecoming conduct" before the commissioner. Judge Kerrigan said the contempt charges against Walker, although dismissed, should be considered as a "warning to all members of the prohibition department."

TWO "OUCHES" PER MINUTE

Every Thirty Seconds Somebody Falls Down Steps or Gets Hurt Some Way in Home

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—Every thirty seconds some one gets hurt in an American home, the United States Bureau of Standards has found out in a study of accidents in the home. Today it announced a plan to cut down the average. Two million club women are expected to take part in the program.

Mishaps in the home constitute one-fourth of the yearly 100,000 fatalities from accidental causes. Some one, usually a woman or child, is injured by a fall every half-minute, generally by slipping on a rug or slippery floor or pitching down the stairs. These were found to be the most common reasons for accidental falls.

REASONS POINTED

Poor illumination, sometimes due to the fad for subdued lighting, sometimes to economy, is responsible for many of the falls. Lack of closet space in modern homes, which causes women to put ironing boards, mops and brooms at the head of stairs, especially those leading to the cellar, causes many painful bumps and bruises and, sometimes, broken backs and necks.

Club women of North Carolina, selected by Mrs. John F. Sippel, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, co-operated with the Bureau of Standards in making the survey.

Every time a club woman suffered an accident in her home she immediately reported it to her club president. The president, in turn, communicated with the State president, Mrs. E. M. Land, who relayed the information on to the Bureau of Standards.

BUMPS TABULATED

The women were at this for four months until bruises and bumps were tabulated and catalogued from 6292 North Carolina homes. There were 469 accidents of sufficient severity to interrupt usual activities or, an average of one severe household accident in every thirteen homes for the period.

This figure thirteen is to be used in the coming campaign. Women will be cautioned all over the country not to let their homes be "the unlucky thirteenth."

The General Federation of Womens' Club will co-operate with the Bureau of Standards, starting next fall, by extending the survey of home accidents to every State in the Union in an effort to lessen their number.

SEALS EAT THEIR WAY INTO GRIEF

Japanese Seek Revision of Treaty as Animals Get Food-fish People Need

TOKIO, May 27. (AP)—Uncle Sam's herds of fur-bearing seals in the North Pacific have grown so numerous under the kindly shield of a four-power treaty framed for their protection in 1911, and are devouring such quantities of the fish which Japan needs to help feed her teeming human population, that the Tokio government is pressing Washington for revision of the international seal convention.

So effective has the protective agreement been, say the Japanese, that "the beaches of Iukannon," in the American-owned Pribilof Islands, of which Kipling wrote poetically in "The White Seal," are again almost as populous as in the golden age, "Before the Sealers Came."

Tokio contends, therefore, that the restriction on killing seals may be relaxed without threatening the herds with extinction and with great gain to Japan's fishing industry.

Diplomatic communications on this subject have been passing across the Pacific for months. The Japanese government, which joined with the United States, Russia and Great Britain in the 1911 convention, complains that the seals, nearly all of them American, cause a loss of 20,000,000 yen ($10,000,000,) a year to Japanese fishing interests.

All Passengers Escape Injury in Launch's Wreck

LEWISTON (Idaho) May 27. (AP) Brief reports received today from the Portland-Lewiston good-will party said that no passengers were hurt in the wreck of the Lono, launch which crashed on a rock in the Snake River.

The Lono will be repaired and the party will continue the trip up the Snake, members of the party advised from Rogersburg, Wash.

The Kateletan, carrying newspaper men, engineering experts and other members of the Portland party, had preceded the Lono up the river.

The two boats came up the Columbia and Snake to Lewiston, and will go as far up the Snake River as they can, the passengers hoping to reach Weiser and demonstrate the feasibility of resuming river traffic at least to Lewiston, "Idaho's only seaport."

The Lono washed into a rock in Bear Creek Rapids, thirty-five miles above Lewiston, and sank.

Angeleno Freed in Murder Case at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27. (AP)—Murder indictments against Carl Champion of Los Angeles, and Thomas J. McKnight of Tulsa, Okla., have been dismissed on motion of the State following the admission of Sanford Satterfield, a prisoner in the Oklahoma State prison, that he had given false information implicating them in the murder of Paul Miller, Indianapolis policeman. Transportation to their homes was furnished both men.

Satterfield, interviewed at the prison by a deputy prosecutor from Indianapolis, said he implicated McKnight and Champion in the hope of obtaining a reward for their arrest and also the hope of obtaining his release from solitary confinement. Satterfield is under indictment in connection with the Miller murder.

Hatchet Slayer Pleads Guilty

STOCKTON, May 27. (AP)—Confessing the killing in the midst of his trial on a murder charge, Byron H. Vickery, 57 years of age, resident of San Joaquin county for more than half a century, pleaded guilty to manslaughter and was sentenced to San Quentin prison today.

Vickery, member of a well-known family of the Lodi section, hacked William Smith, laborer, to death with a hatchet the night of April 3, last, at the Weinstein cabins. The slayer did the deed when Smith refused to get out of Vickery's bed. Both men had been drinking heavily.

MISSING AIR TRIO TAKEN BY NOMADS

Spanish Flyers Reported Safe But Captives of Moroccan Tribesmen

MADRID, May 27. (AP)—Commandante Burguete and Capt. Nunez Maza, Spanish aviators who have been missing since Wednesday, are safe but are held by nomadic tribesmen near Cape Bajador, Morocco. Their mechanic, Vincente Ferrer, also is safe but one of their planes was damaged from a forced landing and the other is in a sand dune.

Information of their safety was contained in a communique issued this morning by the Department of Moroccan Affairs but details were lacking. It is not known if the flyers are held for ransom, but the government is negotiating for their rescue. The tribesmen merely sent a message to a Spanish outpost in the Cape Juby region, saying the aviators were in their hands.

The flyers left Cape Juby for Spain and when they were not heard from an intensive search was begun by Spanish and French authorities. They were accompanied by a Moorish chieftain, Mohamed Ben Elbuya, of whom no word has come.

BANK MONOPOLY SEEN BY DAWES

Ambassador's Brother Says Nation to Have New Era

Centralized Control Sighted as Eventually Inevitable

Such System He Believes to Be Dangerous Condition

MADISON (Wis.) May 27. (AP)—Henry M. Dawes, brother of Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, forsees a monopolistic control of banking in the United States.

Addressing a conference of business men last night the former Comptroller of Currency, said, "No plan has been devised by which chain banking can be stopped after it becomes a menace. Its ultimate result will be the substitution of centralized and, I fear, eventually monopolistic control of banking as contrasted with the present system of local independence nationally co-ordinated."

He predicted the independent bank cannot survive the competition of the chain, and explained that the question of chain banking is correlated to the government, temperament, and extent of the United States.

He said claims that centralized groups make for safety and efficiency "will not stand up under analysis."

CHINESE REBELS SCORE TRIUMPH

Nationalists Badly Defeated in Honan Province

Loyal Troops Dig in to Await Reinforcements

Nanking Flatly Denies Losing Northern Clashes

SHANGHAI, May 27. (AP) — The Northern Alliance rebel armies numbering 200,000 men, independent dispatches said tonight, badly defeated the Nationalist government forces in heavy fighting in Honan Province during the past three days.

Forced to give way before the furious onslaught, the Nationalists dug in, awaiting reinforcements before renewing the sanguinary conflict.

With their main forces strung along the railroad south of the Yellow River in Honan, the rebels directed by Gen. Yen Hsi-shan and Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang have engaged the government armies since the 8th inst. The tide of victory, which at first bore the Nationalists westward toward Chengchow, the rebel base on two railroads, seemingly has turned against the government troops, led in person by President Chiang Kai-shek.

Suppressing news of the fighting, the Nationalist government issued this statement from Nanking, its capital:

"The Northerners' claims of victories are groundless. In order to bolster the spirits of loosely confederated adherents in a forlorn cause, it is necessary for the rebels to claim victories in battles that never were fought."

The Nationalist silence concerning the battle front in Eastern Honan apparently extended also to the battle area in the center of the province, where yesterday Nationalists and rebels were reported in combat. There the Nationalists advancing along the Peiping-Hankow Railroad met the rebels marching toward Hankow and attempted to drive them back into Chankchow.

FAMOUS VIOLINIST PLAYS AS BLIND STREET PAUPER

CHICAGO, May 27. (AP)—A prince of violinists hid behind the tatters and smoked glasses of a blind pauper on a Chicago street corner.

From his $40,000 Stradivarius flowed the same golden notes with which he had cast his spell over rapt audiences in many a crowded concert house. Little clusters gathered about.

A few dimes and pennies jingled in the beggar's cup, and the listeners straggled on.

Jacques Gordon, for nine years concert master of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, whose cultured bow draws $1000 in the concert hall, wheedled $5.74 from a casual street-corner audience yesterday.

The famous violinist undertook his beggar's role to decide a dispute concerning whether the public appreciates music for itself or is attracted by the magnetism of society audiences and the fame of the artists. With a group of friends he conspired to play the beggar on a corner of Michigan Boulevard.

So Jacques Gordon settled for his conspirators that people go to concerts because they love music. And he gave away to charity the $5.74 "box-office" receipts of a street-corner recital.

WYLIE ATTACKS LONDON TREATY

Ex-Navy Chief Brings Laugh at Senate Hearing

Limitation of Eight-Inch Gun Cruisers Made Target

Action Likely to be Put Over to Special Session

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—Naval officers resumed their attack on the London naval treaty before the Senate Foreign Relations and Naval committees today as Senate leaders decided to postpone action on it until the special session is called, probably next month, by President Hoover.

he rugger, retired admiral, H. A. Wylie, who was commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet a year ago, brought an uproarious laugh in the Foreign Relations hearing when he growled that "we will have to go out of business by-and-by—we have had too many conferences."

REED JOINS IN LAUGH

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, one of the delegates to the London conference, joined in the laughter.

One after another of the navy chieftains assailed the treaty for its limitation on 8-inch gun cruisers and asserted these are the only type adaptable to American needs.

Admiral Wylie gruffly asserted that "to compare the 6-inch-gun cruiser with the 8-inch is like comparing a rifle to a revolver."

Senator Reed brought out from each of the witnesses after their examination by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, a foe of the pact, that America will get eighteen 8-inch-gun cruisers under the treaty compared with fifteen for Great Britain.

Senator Johnson said he expects to conclude the calling of naval experts by Thursday.

EARLY VOTE PLANNED

Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations Committee is prepared to call an early meeting of the committee to vote on the pact. An overwhelming majority for the treaty is apparent in the committee.

Those heard today by the two committees included Rear-Admirals W. H. Standley, assistant chief of naval operations; M. M. Taylor, director of war plans for the Navy; George H. Rock, chief of the Bureau of Construction; Ridley McLean, budget officer of the Navy, and Capt. J. K. Taussig, commander of the U.S.S. Maryland.

All asserted the American fleet needs 8-inch-gun cruisers in preference to the 6-inch guns, and that the 5-3 ratio with Japan has been abandoned by the treaty. They said this is disadvantageous to American safety.

JAPAN'S NAVY CHIEF RUMORED READY TO QUIT

TOKIO, May. 27. (AP)—Admiral Kanji Kato, it is generally reported, soon may resign his post as chief of the Japanese naval staff board because of his dissatisfaction with the naval tonnage permitted Japan under the London naval limitation treaty. His impending resignation has been rumored for several days, but had not been presented early today.

The admiral, chief of the naval party contending that Japan should have received a larger ratio than 69.6 per cent with Great Britain and the United States, is said to have asserted he is unable to assume the responsibility of defending the empire with the fleet permitted.

The position of Premier Hamaguchi's government would not be badly weakened by Admiral Kato's resignation, well-informed observers believe. The support given the treaty by Admiral Takarabe, Minister of Marine, who was a delegate to the London conference, is expected to counteract any effect Kato's resignation might have, and enable the government to fill any naval vacancies resulting from antipathy to the treaty.

BANK ROBBERY LOSS IN ST. LOUIS GROWS

ST. LOUIS, May 27. (AP)—The loss in the Grand National Bank burglary Sunday morning was raised to $220,000 today by tabulations submitted by the bank and six of its customers whose safe-deposit boxes were robbed. This includes cash, bonds and jewelry. The total, police say, probably will be increased as estimates of losses are obtained from twenty-three other customers whose boxes were robbed.

TONSORIAL TONE RAISED BY WOMEN

Barber Convention Told Advent of Bobbing Ended Off-Color Talk in Shops

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. (AP)—The "gentle sex" was given credit at the fifth annual convention of the California State Master Chirotonsors' Association here today for "having raised the standard of barber shops all over this country," and barbers were lauded as an advertising medium for California.

"Fifteen years ago," said C. A. Belmont, general vice-president and field representative of the Associated Master Barbers of America, "the ordinary barber shop was a lounging place for gossiping men. The general conversation usually needed a censor. Today, however, all is changed. Women have become fixtures as barber-shop customers and subconsciously they have raised the general tone and character of such establishments."

Joseph Wolcki, convention committee chairman, asked: "Where does a tourist go when he first comes into our boundaries?" "Why, to get a shave or a hair-cut, while relaxing in the chair he naturally begins to talk of his trip." This, he said, gives the barber opportunity to rouse the traveler's interest in California.

(AP)—Culminating lengthy agitation for the change, a one-hour and twenty-minute reduction in transcontinental fast mail train time between Chicago and San Francisco was announced here today by Postmaster Todd following a conference with Postmaster Friend of Oakland and G. The change, effective June 2, will expedite early delivery of eastern mail to bay region business houses, putting the mail in San Francisco at 8:10 a.m., instead of 9:30 a.m., as now.

PRISONER WANTED HERE REFUSES TO FLY BACK

EL PASO (Tex.) May 27. (AP)—Frank D. Fernekes, 32 years of age, is wanted so badly in Los Angeles on a forgery charge that the Los Angeles police sent Detective Miller here for him in an airplane with instructions to return the prisoner by plane.

Equipped with extradition papers, Miller obtained custody of Fernekes and trouble started. Fernekes refused to return by airplane. Pleadings and threats were useless. He declared his blood pressure was too high. A physical examination by a doctor refuted this claim. He still refused.

Miller took his prisoner before Judge Howe, who ruled that an airplane is a common carrier and the prisoner must get air-minded. Still Fernekes objected. When the airplane company officials presented the tickets, Fernekes refused to sign, and the company refused to take him as a passenger without his signature on the ticket. Miller and his prisoner started for Los Angeles by train today.

Treasury to direct the industrial-alcohol division.

The change will transfer about 2000 employees of the Treasury to the Justice Department and is expected to bring about a reduction in the number of prohibition administrative districts as well as a reorganization of administrative forces.

Mitchell said committees of both the Justice Department and the Treasury have been revising enforcement regulations but that none of the plans has been finally decided on.

NEW PRISONS PLANNED

The bills providing for prison reform include all of Mitchell's plans for reorganization of the Federal prison system. They call for $7,000,000 to be spent over a six-year period in building two new Federal prisons, two reformatories and an indefinite number of Federal jails for short-term prisoners.

The Attorney-General said, however, the Federal prison for the Northeast, to be located in the vicinity of Erie, Pa., will be the only one to be started until next year.

The Presidential recommendation for $1,700,000 to acquire a site and commence construction on this penitentiary was sent to Congress late today. With it went a request for $800,000 to acquire sites and begin work on two Federal jails and an additional $200,000 for repairs to other buildings to be used in housing prisoners.

The bills also provide for a system of schools, within the prisons, and for the Public Health Service to take over the care of the health of the inmates.

They provide for a hospital for defective delinquents and for the formation of a definite parole system under a new parole board.

SYSTEM OF SCHOOLS

To carry out these phases of the program the President recommended Congress provide $175,000 for fifty-four salaried probation officers to be appointed in the judicial districts where judges have indicated a desire to begin probation work. The President also requested $500,000 for the establishment of industrial enterprises at all Federal penal and correctional institutions not now having them.

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—The Treasury today suspended Roy C. Lyle, prohibition administrator; William Whitney, counsel, and Earl M. Corwin, investigator, indicted in Seattle on graft charges. The men were suspended pending the outcome of their trials.

Maurice Smith was appointed acting prohibition administrator in Seattle.

Senator Jones, Republican dry of Washington, in a statement today predicted "triumphant acquittal" for Lyle and Whitney.

He said the indictments were "made on secret, one-sided charges urged largely by confessed and convicted law-breakers."

Senator Jones, the sponsor of the stringent "five and ten" law for Volstead violators, also announced today he would vote for prohibition modification if his State—Washington—should so vote in a referendum.

His statement was in comment on the Republican State convention, which recommended modification, an action which Jones said he thought represented a "small section of the people." He made clear he believes in the dry law.

NEWS OF MIDDLE WEST

These news briefs of happenings in the Middle West are collected by The Times' Chicago correspondent, and are sent by leased wire to Los Angeles. Efforts are made to obtain late news which will be of interest to the many former residents of that section, who are now in California.

NEBRASKA

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Whitmore, early residents of the valley, celebrated their fifty-second wedding anniversary at Lincoln.

Mrs. Bridget Hynes Langan, 74 years of age, passed away in Maple Grove. In 1879 she took a homestead and resided on it until her death.

A watch which had been lost more than two years in plowed ground was found by Ted Parson on his farm near Spencer, and, on being wound, started to run.

IOWA

Iowa is believed to have set the pace for the nation in increased construction during April, when contracts let in the State revealed a gain of 127 per cent over April, 1929.

Rev. F. Herbert Moehlmann, pastor of the Trinity American Lutheran Church at Waterloo, has resigned and will enter the United States Army as chaplain in June.

Grant of $10,000 a year to the University of Iowa school of religion at Iowa City by the Rockefeller Foundation has been continued for another five years, officials announce.

MINNESOTA

A. P. Salmonson, 55 years of age, for the last fifteen years postmaster at Kandiyohi, dropped dead at his home there.

While in a barber chair at Lake Wilson, Charles H. Smith, 58, was stricken by heart disease and died in a few moments. He was a farmer in Cameron township thirty-two years.

INDIANA

Illinois State police are patrolling the State line in the northwestern part of Indiana in an effort to halt bootlegging of Illinois gasoline into Lake county cities.

Reverend Father Richard F. Betz, assistant rector of St. Anne's Rectory, Terre Haute, was killed instantly and two youths with him injured seriously when his car skidded on fresh gravel on a hill six miles north of Clinton.

Wedding flowers dropped their heads in funeral poise during the marriage of George Weiser and Miss Maxo Horner at Indianapolis. The hands that nursed them from buds had been stilled. Mrs. Nettie Weiser, mother of the bridegroom, had carried all her household plants to the bride's home. As she was returning with the wedding cake she met death in an automobile accident. Her husband, Emmett E. Weiser, was critically injured.

OHIO

Grattan H. Baker, 81 years of age, former president of the City National Bank of Tiffin, is dead.

Herbert C. McClelland of Piqua has been named to the State Conservation Council to succeed the late Joseph E. Pflueger of Akron, who died Monday.

Clark Baker, 25, athletic director of Cedarville High School, is in a serious condition in a hospital at Xenia, with a bullet wound in the left chest above the heart, received when the gun he was cleaning accidentally discharged.

John Cripa, 70, retired Akron contractor, former city commissioner and well-known member of the Masonic order, is dead.

SOUTH DAKOTA

Jonas Vilhauer, eighth-grade student, had his left forefinger cut off at the first joint while working in the manual training room of the high school.

Eighty-four students will be given diplomas at Augustana College commencement exercises June 3 at Sioux Falls. The senior class of forty-five is the largest in the school's history.

MISSOURI

A resolution was adopted by the St. Louis county court to petition the State Highway Commission to name highway No. 77 Lindbergh Boulevard.

The Bank of Elkland at Elkland, Webster county, was closed by its board of directors. The bank's last statement showed it had $40,100 deposits.

By the terms of a compromise agreement at Cape Girardeau the University of Missouri will receive $25,000 from the estate of Charles Klepe, a farmer. Klepe's will provided a gift of $50,000 to the university, but relatives attacked the legality of the will, charging that Klepe had been unduly influenced and was not in possession of his faculties at the time the will was drawn in 1925.

KANSAS

The Hutchinson Universalist Church and the East Side Cemetery will receive the greater part of the $60,000 estate by Mrs. Henrietta Briggs Wall, one of the city's earliest business women, who died there recently.

Much interest is directed to activities of the Rajah Rabbitry at Wichita, which has been placed in the hands of a receiver, Cy Seymour, manager of Hotel Lassen. Seymour says that every effort will be made to pay the common creditors and operate the business on a paying basis. A few investors have placed large sums of money in the concern. It is reported 1,000,000 shares of stock at $1 per share has been sold.

ILLINOIS

Edward B. Smith, owner of a clubhouse at Thirty-fifth street and Grand Boulevard, Chicago, in the days when trotting-races and cutter races were held on the South Side, is dead.

Frank Elliott, vice-president of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, has been elected president of the board of trustees of the Fourth Presbyterian Church.

Sol Levinson, Chicago lawyer who originated the outlawry-of-war plan embodied in the Kellogg Peace Pact, has given his boyhood home in Nobleville, Ind., to the Red Cross.

WISCONSIN

Mailed in Racine thirteen years ago, a letter was delivered by Postmaster Herzog to the First National Bank and Trust Company, which is a block from the postoffice.

A loss estimated by leading growers at $250,000 was caused by a frost which visited the Northern Wisconsin cherry district. Veteran orchard men declared this was the first serious frost so late in the year.

BAN ON TAX COLLECTION DEMANDED

Illinois Attorney Seeks to Force Reapportionment by Novel Method

CHICAGO, May 27. (AP)—An injunction against collection of his Federal income tax is the novel weapon with which John B. Keogh, an attorney, hopes to force legislative reapportionment in Illinois.

In United States District Court yesterday Keogh filed request for an order restraining Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackidge, internal revenue collector, from collecting his 1929 tax on the ground that the 1928 internal revenue law is unconstitutional.

Because Illinois has not ordered a reapportionment since 1901, it has violated its own constitution and the national government is culpable, Keogh said, in that it has failed to insure the proportionate representation and the republican form of government provided by the northwest ordinance of 1787 and the fourth section of Article IV of the Federal Constitution.

MURDER JURY SELECTED

EUREKA, May 27. (AP)—A jury was completed this afternoon to try Clarence L. King, charged with the murder of his common-law wife, Minnie M. McCoy, in the redwoods of northern Humboldt county, February 20. Ten men and two women comprise the jury.

Britten asked him if ... would carry much ... opinion. Vinson re- ... they had given him the ... that two cities were in ... for the location of ... the site and that he "expects both cities to kill each other off."

FORCES ADMISSION

This statement was taken by observers to mean that Vinson favors neither of the sites on the Coast and that he is prepared to wage a dilatory campaign to delay the selection of a west coast base.

He brought up and pursued the idea that there was something "sub rosa" back of Admiral Moffett's about-face on the dirigible sites. He forced the admission from Moffett that had the committee followed the admiral's recommendations made in the spring of 1929 that Camp Kearny would have been selected for the base, and that the committee would never have heard of Sunnyvale.

Vinson also pointed out that the Secretary of the Navy had originally limited the special navy board to the investigation of sites in Southern California. "When this fact became known there was a good deal of disturbance and howls from other progressive places on the Pacific Coast," Vinson said. He then declared that pressure had been brought to bear on the Secretary of the Navy to open the investigation to all of California and the Pacific Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO'S ROLE

Moffett said that he could not answer for what may or may not have happened in the Secretary's office, but that he recommended that the survey include all of the Pacific Coast on a motion from the general board.

Still trying to bring out some reason other than those Admiral Moffett has already given for his selection of Sunnyvale in the north as the base, and the concurrence of the junior officers on the board, Vinson cast San Francisco in a sinister role.

Vinson continued his cross-examination by asking Moffett if on the trip to Southern California, all he "found at Los Angeles Harbor was the fleet," while at San Diego the area was "honeycombed with naval activities."

Admiral Moffett made a statement, surprising many at the hearing, at this point by saying that the Navy needs Camp Kearny right now as the heavier-than-air base.

Vinson pounced on the naval officer's statement and demanded if the same drawbacks to a lighter-than-air base do not hold true for a heavier-than-air base. These drawbacks suggested by Moffett yesterday were dust, lack of water and proximity to Mexico.

Moffett explained that North Island is already so crowded that the Navy is leasing three additional heavier-than-air fields, has tried to buy two, but because of high prices, had been unable to do so and needs the space available at Camp Kearny.

"We have spent millions at North Island, on your recommendations, which is just as vulnerable from an attack from Mexico as Camp Kearny," Vinson told the admiral and demanded why an attack on North Island field would not be as disastrous as an attack on Camp Kearny if the dirigible base was located there.

Moffett replied that it takes eighteen months to two years to build a dirigible hangar whereas the heavier-than-aircraft hangars can be replaced more quickly and cheaply.

Observers at the hearing estimated that in a few years millions will be expended in the Camp Kearny site as a heavier-than-air base if the Navy takes it over, in spite of Admiral Moffett's statement.

Vinson continued his cross-examination in a similar vein on the probable duties of the airship, and the question of east and west coast sites for bases with telling effect in his attempt to break down the majority report of the special board.

TESTIFIES AGAIN TODAY

Previous to Vinson's cross-examination Moffett created a furore in the committee by saying that the Akron will be based at Lakehurst, later adding, "until the west coast hangar is ready."

Before he made the latter statement Moffett was extremely vague as to what would happen to the dirigible and many members took his statement to mean that the Akron will be based in the East permanently.

Chairman Britten and the admiral exchanged a few pleasantries, which seemed oddly out of place at a committee hearing, on the splendid climatic conditions of San Diego, from a social standpoint and the desire of navy officers and their wives to be stationed in so delightful a spot. Admiral Moffett also mentioned the fact that Agua Caliente is in close proximity to San Diego and intimated that it probably is an added attraction to the San Diego station.

Admiral Moffett returns to testify tomorrow.

WHAT---MEXICO SAVAGE? HISS THE FILM VILLAIN

MEXICO CITY, May 27. (Exclusive)—Charging that two actors appearing in a Spanish talkie scheduled to be shown at an early date in a leading Mexico City theater have "insulted Mexico and Mexicans" by declaring publicly that "a savage dialect is spoken in Mexico," the Mexican authors' union has requested the city government to suppress the film in Mexico.

The two actors referred to are Andres Perello de Segurola and Manuel Conesa both of whom appear in minor roles. The leading actors of the film, which is "El Cuerpo del Delito," the Spanish version of "The Benson Murder Case," are Antonio Moreno, Ramon Pereda and Maria Alba. At several previews of scenes from the picture the public has hissed Perello de Segurola and Conesa. Two genuine all-Spanish talkies have already been shown in Mexico City, both of them having drawn large audiences. Mexicans have long prided themselves on the fact that "the best Spanish in the world is spoken in Mexico."

BILL PROPOSES AIR DEPOT SHIFT

Hurley Asks Transfer from San Diego North

Would Also Move Bombers from March Field

Funds to Finance Surprise Measure Sought

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 27. (Exclusive)—Secretary of War Hurley today asked Congress for permission to shift the army air depot now at Rockwell Field, San Diego, to an undeveloped site donated by the city of Alameda to the Army Air Corps; the transfer of a bombardment group from March Field, Riverside, Cal., to a site in Marin county, near the Golden Gate, and the necessary reallocation of funds amounting to close to $2,000,000 to make these changes possible, by the draft of a bill which he transmitted to the House Committee on Military Affairs.

Although the proposition of changing the air corps depot from San Diego to San Francisco has been under advisement for more than two years, observers here are interested to find out just why the Secretary of War submitted a draft of a bill authorizing these changes so late in the present session and at a time when the House Naval Affairs Committee is holding hearings in the dirigible base site controversy between San Diego and San Francisco.

SWING PLANS FIGHT

Should the House Military Affairs Committee report out a bill authorizing the changes demanded by the War Department in the present session Representative Swing of El Centro, leader of the Congressional faction favoring the San Diego lighter-than-air craft site at Camp Kearny, served notice on the proponents of the former measure that he will fight such a bill to the utmost of his resources.

The northern contingent favoring the location of the dirigible base in Sunnyvale, near San Francisco, says that Secretary Hurley's action today was based on the fact that 1100 acres, partly tide lands submerged at high water, was offered the War Department free by Alameda if it would spend $500,000 on the site for an air corps depot before December 31, 1931.

ALAMEDA LAND

The Secretary pointed out that the Rockwell Field depot was only temporary. He cited the facts that the depot would serve the Rocky Mountain region, the Pacific Coast region and parts of the Hawaiian and Philippine regions of the Army Air Corps operations. He stated that the Alameda location is an ideal spot for such service. He asked that $743,000 authorized for the present Rockwell Field depot be transferred to the proposed Alameda site. Of this amount $243,000 is to be spent for air depot shops and $500,000 for the preparation of the field, building of a seawall, grading, buildings, railroad tracks and drainage.

Regarding the transfer of the bombardment wing, headquarters and group originally scheduled under the Army Air Corps' five-year program for March Field, Riverside, the Secretary asks that the $1,256,000 required for this unit be transferred to the establishment of the Marin county base. Of this sum $803,000 has already been appropriated for Rockwell Field and the remaining $453,000 has been authorized.

The Secretary of War recommended in the letter of transmission, which carried his bill to Congress, that a pursuit group slated for Rockwell Field be transferred to March Field although no further recommendations for appropriations were made for either Rockwell or March fields.

In order to build up the Marin county bombardment group field the Secretary advocates the following expenditures: For hangars, $45,000; field shop, $100,000; paved aprons, $50,000; preparation of the landing field, railroad tracks and drainage, $258,000.

PRISONER GOES TO EAT--- MAYBE HE'S STILL EATING

CLEVELAND, May 27. (AP)—Two Jamestown (N. Y.) detectives would like to find their prisoner who went out to eat last night and still is out.

The detectives, Franklin Fox and Elmer Lee, were taking Leonard Lancaster, alias Leo Lans, from Cincinnati to Jamestown to stand trial on a forgery charge. They also took him along when they stopped here at the home of Fox's sister-in-law, Mrs. G. M. Boyd, to break the monotony of the long automobile ride.

About dinnertime, Lancaster said it wouldn't be quite proper for him to eat with the Boyds and suggested he'd just as soon shift for himself at some restaurant.

"Run along," said Fox, as quoted by Cleveland police, "but be sure to come back." Lee was resting.

Lancaster beamed. "I'll be back in a little while," he promised, and sauntered out.

That's the last police found out about him, except that he escaped April 27 from the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., while serving an eight-year term for forgery of government bonds, that he left in a government car and that there is a $500 reward for his capture.

"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 27. (Exclusive)—On June 22, San Diego and Imperial counties will be combined in a new customs district with headquarters at San Diego, according to President Hoover's order signed on May 22.

Before the adjournment of Congress it is expected that President Hoover will send to the Senate for confirmation the names of the two collectors for confirmation. They will be: Louis Schwaebe for reappointment as collector of the Los Angeles District No. 27, who was first appointed by President Harding and reappointed by President Coolidge and whose third commission will be signed by President Hoover, and William H. Ellison to be collector of the new customs district including San Diego and Imperial counties with headquarters at San Diego.

186 Pianos Loaned FREE

We are vacating the major portion of our storage warehouse, and the excess stock will crowd our store beyond its capacity. We must dispose of this excess. Our entire stock has been priced at greatly reduced figures and anyone contemplating the purchase of a piano in the next few months cannot afford to miss the opportunity. All pianos not sold outright will be placed in the homes of families who are interested in owning a piano in the immediate future, and for the valuable advertising we will receive by having good families use them. We reserve the right to select the homes in which these pianos are to be placed.

SMITH'S DEFEAT CLAIMED BY DRY

Hoover's Victory Attributed to Church Influence

Pickett Testifies Before Senate Committee

Regards Prohibition Purely Moral Question

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—The opinion that the election of President Hoover in 1928 was attributable to the activities of churches and temperance organizations and not to the Republican party was expressed before the Senate lobby committee today by Deets Pickett, research secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Appearing to deny charges of Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts, that the board had violated the principle of separation of church and state by political activities, Pickett asserted it had done nothing not guaranteed by the bill of rights of the Constitution.

DENIES LOBBYING

Pickett appeared in place of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the board, who is in Detroit to debate with Clarence Darrow on prohibition. He told the committee none of the organization's funds had been used in lobbying.

Most of the testimony revolved around the Presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith. Pickett testified the board had distributed copies of Smith's record on prohibition for the information of the public. He insisted prohibition was a "moral" issue and not political.

His opinion on the 1928 election was expressed after Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, had read an article written by him which appeared in The Voice, one of the board's publications, in November, 1928.

The article said, in part:

"The bald truth is that the inefficiency of the Republican organization in this campaign was startling. Except for the counsel of Senator Curtis (now Vice-President,) the Republican management was lacking in the advice of astute and experienced political leaders. The fight was won, not by the Republican party, but by the W.C.T.U., the Anti-Saloon League, and other temperance organizations."

After he had finished reading, Blaine asked:

"And you take credit, that is, your organization, among other organizations, for the election of Mr. Hoover, instead of that credit going to the Republican organization?"

"What you have read," Pickett replied, "is my opinion."

HEW TO THE LINE

Blaine asked the witness if he contended that the activities of the board were not intended for the purpose of influencing votes in behalf of Mr. Hoover."

"They were intended," Pickett said, "to make clear Mr. Smith's attitude on prohibition, let the effect be what it may. We hew to the line, let the chips fall where they will. If it did have a bad effect on Mr. Smith, he was responsible for it himself by dragging in a non-political issue into a campaign."

The article also quoted Mr. Hoover as saying in a conversation before his election that he did not expect to carry any Southern States.

Senator Caraway asked the board's research secretary whether it concerned itself "with any problems before Congress."

"If it pertains to moral problems," he replied, saying his organization was interested in prohibition and gambling.

"Gambling in stocks?" inquired Caraway.

"I don't know much about that. It might be a good thing if we did."

Pickett said the annual receipts of the board averaged approximately $135,000.

WIFE REMAINS ARTIST'S IDEAL YEAR IN AND OUT

LONDON, May 27. (NANA.)—An artist who can paint his wife more than half a hundred times and still find her the world's loveliest woman deserves a prominent niche in the hall of devoted husbands.

Gerald Kelly, English painter, has had a picture of his wife Jane hung in the Royal Academy every year since 1923. His "Jane" canvases number fifty-five and include "Jane in White," "Jane in Pink," and so on until the colors became exhausted and the artist began painting vintage Janes on each year.

"I painted Jane before we were married," said Mr. Kelly, "and I shall go on painting her every year until I die. It is my favorite occupation. Besides, I want her to be remembered when I am forgotten."

The English painter makes it difficult for artists who blame "artistic temperament" for their philanderings to get their excuse over.

SECURITY-FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF LOS ANGELES — SAVINGS-COMMERCIAL-TRUST — 1875

ESCROW with SECURITY-FIRST

THE ESCROW is a service which has been very highly developed by Security-First National Bank. It is an old-time province of a Bank to hold money pending the completion of a transaction, but from this original and simple meaning of the term, this Bank has developed a system which is of the greatest value and protection to those who use it.

The purpose of a Security-First escrow is two fold. First, that each one of the parties to a transaction shall understand clearly every detail which may affect him...such as who is to pay the money and how much; how the money is to be divided; if a commission is to be paid, to whom, and when; whether mortgages and liens are to be paid by the seller, or assumed by the buyer; who shall pay the fees and costs of the escrow and for recording the papers; exactly in whom shall title be vested.

Second, that with a clear understanding reached and instructions signed by all parties, the Escrow officer can proceed to carry out these instructions. If this proves impossible the money is returned to its owners.

Long experience, careful training, the selection only of suitable persons to act as escrow officers, and a well-thought-out system of checking escrows gives to a Security-First escrow a superiority in protection; but the fees are no higher.

DARKNESS REFUSES TO STAY PUT

Automatically Turns on Own Lights by Use of New Photo-Electron Tube

CHICAGO, May 27. (Exclusive) The coming of darkness turned on the lights for H. D. Sanborn of the General Electric Company as he gave an illustrated lecture before the Illuminating Engineering Society at its auditorium tonight.

In revealing the uses of the electric tube in medicine and industry, including the talking pictures, he demonstrated the more recently developed photo-electron tube. The room was darkened and immediately the photo-electron tube turned on the lights of a miniature city on the stage.

Because only a shadow is needed to start a photo-electron-controlled relay the tube may be adapted to safety devices, charting light for weather records, and even as a substitute for the tape at the finish of a race, Mr. Sanborn said.

Franco-Italian Accord Against America Urged

(Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.)

ROME, May 27. (Exclusive)—Invoking the inevitability of Europe being pitted against America in a future struggle, the Fascist Deputy, Signor Gray, made an appeal to France to see the light and make an accord with Italy so Europe can have a united front, in a speech on the Italian naval budget before the Chamber of Deputies tonight.

Signor Gray denied that Premier Mussolini's recent speeches have raised any new obstacles to resuming the efforts to settle the Franco-Italian differences. Il Duce's speeches were merely a reaffirmation of how the Fascist regime and Italy have become identical and how the House of Savoy and Premier Mussolini work hand in hand, and how in Italy action is suited to the word and nothing else, declared Signor Gray, adding that therefore nothing could prevent a resumption of the negotiations between the two Latin countries.

REEDLEY, May 27. (Exclusive)—With only 100 students in their accustomed classes in the Reedley Joint Union High School and Junior College today, the student strike in protest of the trustees' refusal to reappoint Dr. E. W. Hauck as principal, continued with more than 500 absent from classes.

Adamant in their demand that the school trustees resign, the students have the backing of a large part of the population of the district. They also are said to have the support of the minority members of the board in favor of resignation of the board in the interest of harmony in the school and in the community.

TWO FAVORABLE

While Dr. J. D. Hare, chairman of the board, declared today that no action was proposed at last night's secret session of the board, the rumor persisted that Dr. C. H. Traber, one of the minority members of the board, sought to have the board resign as a means of re-establishing classes and bringing about accord in school affairs. H. H. Bennett, the other minority member and champion with Dr. Traber of the reappointment of Dr. Hauck, is said to have acquiesced in Traber's proposal, but the other members of the board refused to accede to the proposal.

NEXT MEETING FRIDAY

The board has taken no official cognizance of the student strike, although the members individually have given it considerable thought. Dr. Hare said that something probably will be done about it when the board meets Friday night. He also indicated that the appointment of a successor to Dr. Hauck may be taken up at that time.

In the public session which followed last night's meeting behind closed doors, the only action by the board had to do with appointment of teachers and discussion of the budget.

The strike is costing the district $350 a day in funds received from the county and State upon a basis of average daily attendance, Dr. Hauck said.

Tornado Strikes Illinois Town

STREATOR (Ill.) May 27. (AP)—A tornado struck Streator late today, causing damage here and on near-by farms estimated at $250,000. Two persons were hurt.

The factory of the Motal Stamping Corporation, from which about 500 employees had just left for their homes, was virtually destroyed by the wind.

LOCUST PLAGUE AT OUTSKIRTS OF BASRA

BASRA (Iraq) May 27. (Exclusive)—The locust plague is still traveling eastward. Masses of the flying pests are now only four miles from this city. Armies of boys are being paid 8 cents daily to beat empty tins and strike trunks of palm trees, driving the insects on to the next man's land.

STOOP-SHOULDERED BOYS STOOPING TO TRUANCY

SACRAMENTO, May 27. (Exclusive)—Vierling Kersey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, is trying to make up his mind whether the boy who plays hooky from school is likely to be stoop-shouldered or if a boy who is stoop-shouldered is likely to play hooky.

Kersey became perplexed on this question after studying the report of Lillian B. Hill of the educational department, which shows that 74 per cent of truancy cases investigated revealed that the youth who doted on ducking school also was guilty of inerect posture. The average hooky plaer, Kersey learned, is not a dumb-bell in spite of his absence from classrooms. Out of 127 cases studied the boys had an intelligent quota of 91, which is above average. Forty-six per cent of the truants were from broken homes, 61 per cent from poor families and 78 per cent were of physical deficiency.

TAR PARTY SUSPECTS ARRESTED

Five Brothers in Wealthy Family Held in Kidnaping and Mistreating Dentist

HAMMOND (La.) May 27. (AP)—Deputy sheriffs tonight arrested five brothers, Charles, Gordon, Henry, Ike and Newton Starnes, members of a wealthy family of Tangipahoa parish, on charges of tarring and feathering Dr. S. L. Newsom, prominent Hammond dentist.

Dr. Newsom said he was accused by the brothers of paying attentions to one of their wives. He said he was kidnaped by the five men last night, handcuffed, tarred and feathered and thrown into a street of Hammond with a warning to leave town.

Dr. Newsom drove to his home at Columbus, Miss., but late today returned with his father. His friends rallied to his support and with the aid of the Sheriff and Chief of Police plans were made to prosecute the brothers.

The young dentist, a graduate of Tulane University, denied the charges of the brothers and declared he will remain in Hammond and practice his profession.

The brothers technically were charged with conspiracy to commit a felony, wounding less than mayhem, assault and battery with a dangerous weapon.

DISPUTER FACED BY BAPTISTS

Northern Conference in Cleveland Today Will be Attended by 20,000

CLEVELAND, May 27. (AP)—Two possible controversies, one involving relations with the Federal Council of Churches and the other centering on the proposed union with the Disciples of Christ, are in prospect at the annual Northern Baptist convention.

The sessions open tomorrow and will last six days, with 20,000 delegates and visitors expected in a record gathering the latter half of the week.

Convention officials said some of the conservatives object to the Federal Council, of which the Northern Baptist convention is a member, on the ground that its theological views are too modern. A year ago at the Denver convention Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the Methodist Episcopal Church and president of the Federal Council was slated to make the keynote speech, but was given another place on the program because of protests by conservatives.

Both majority and minority reports are due by the commission considering grounds for union with the Disciples of Christ. Opposition to the merger is expected to come from one group of Baptists who hold that baptism by immersion is a "rite which has no saving function."

NEW YORK, May 27. (AP)—So-called Jamaica ginger, asserted cause of death and paralysis in various sections of the country, is an intoxicating liquor, Federal Judge Caffey ruled today.

Judge Caffey's ruling was made in an appeal in the case of the government against the Nomel Products Company, Inc., which manufactures a ginger extract containing 81 per cent of alcohol.

SUIT AIMED AT WIDOW OF SENATOR

Two Judgments Sought Against Remaining Bit of Mrs. Tabor's Property

DENVER, May 27. (AP)—Two court judgments seeking title to the last bit of property remaining to Mrs. Elizabeth Tabor of Leadville, widow of the once wealthy and influential Senator H. A. W. Tabor, have been asked in the District Court here.

The two petitions were filed by Elmer W. Neighbor as administrator of the estate of the late Theodore L. Neighbor and Mrs. Theresa Frantz. They ask that seventy-five shares of stock in a Springfield (Mo.) wagon company, left to Mrs. Tabor by her brother, the late Peter McCourt, be sold to satisfy a claim of the Neighbor estate against her and to pay off a promissory note held by Mrs. Frantz.

Mrs. Tabor, once the toast of gay western society in the boom days, is aged and infirm now.

COAST SCHOOLS LEAD IN NATION

First or Second in Every Factor of Computing

Kersey Report to Governor's Council Lists Points

High Standard of Students and Teachers Told

SACRAMENTO, May 27. (Exclusive)—California ranks first or second in every factor by which school systems are measured and has more than double the economic ability of the average State to support that system, Vierling Kersey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, today informed the Governor's Council. Six factors in which California leads the nation were listed by Kersey as follows: More pupils enrolled in the schools in proportion to the total population, the students annually attend school for more hours of instruction, pupils remain in school for a greater number of years, teachers have a higher average standard of training than elsewhere, students devote a greater time to study of vocational subjects and the California youth makes greater educational progress.

California also ranks first, he declared, in the amount of wealth and income per school child, although there are six States that annually spend more on their public school systems.

Kersey advised the council that unemployment among school-teachers is not as acute this year as it was three years ago. During the present term the excess of teachers is 1709, as compared to 3385 during the term 1926-27. Credentials were issued this year to 7693 teachers, as compared to 7230 three years ago.

COLISEUM FIRE KILLS FIVE MEN

Others Believed Perished in Oklahoma City

Falling Wall Traps Many Trying to Save Autos

Monetary Loss in Building and Cars $500,000

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 27. (AP) Trapped by falling walls of the Coliseum, huge auditorium in the stockyards district of Oklahoma City, at least five men perished today in a fire that destroyed the building with an estimated loss of $300,000.

Five bodies had been recovered early tonight and firemen and fifty city prisoners were digging in the still smoking debris for bodies of other persons who were reported to have been trapped as they sought to save new automobiles stored in the Coliseum annex.

The dead:

R. A. (Dick) Mason, 29 years of age, city fireman.

Dave Meiser, 31, packing-plant employee.

Gordon Smith, 24, used car salesman.

An unidentified Negro.

Thomas Smith, 20.

Tons of debris stood between workmen and partly erect walls where additional bodies may be found.

CAUGHT BY FALLING WALL

Six or seven men were reported by witnesses to have been trapped in the annex as they were attempting to push automobiles out, when the stage wall fell back into the annex. The Negro is believed to be one of this group.

J. B. Chapman, C. E. Bell and W. J. Bell, firemen, suffered burns and injuries but it is believed they will recover.

Firemen were hampered throughout the day by great crowds of curious who collected about the building and blocked the one direct thoroughfare that connects Oklahoma City proper with the packing area —Exchange avenue.

Approximately 150 new automobiles were stored in the annex of the building and volunteer rescue workers rushed in to get them out. Some of the cars had no batteries and had to be pushed. It was not believed that the danger was great, as the fire at that time was confined to the main auditorium. Several workers who escaped reported that two groups of men pushing cars were caught when the stage wall fell.

INVESTIGATION STARTS

The auditorium, completed late in 1920, had housed most of the great gatherings since then. Alfred E. Smith spoke there in 1928 when he visited Oklahoma during his campaign for the Presidency.

The building was estimated to be worth $200,000 and the cars $100,000. Insurance was carried both on the building and the cars.

An investigation into the cause of the fire was launched tonight by C. R. O'Neal, State Fire Marshal, after a preliminary survey had been made by E. G. Cooper, deputy.

TOWING SHIP ORDERED TO BYRD'S AID

Navy Reverses Decision Denying Request for Tug to Help City of New York

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—Secretary Adams reversed a decision of the office of naval operations that a Navy tug could not be sent to the aid of Rear-Admiral Byrd's bark, the City of New York, but Byrd today informed the Navy the tug had been offered too late and the bark would be towed to the Canal Zone by his steamer, the Eleanor Bolling.

Byrd asked, instead, that the tug be made available after the bark passed through the canal. The commandant of the Fifteenth Naval District, Rear-Admiral John R. Y. Blakeley, was instructed to have the towing ship, the Sciota, ready for that service.

On Saturday, the office of naval operations declined Byrd's request for a tug because of a policy that naval vessels could not be sent to the aid of privately owned ships unless the latter were in distress.

Steel Merger Proposal Legal, Says Mitchell

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—Atty.-Gen. Mitchell announced this afternoon that investigation by the Department of Justice into the proposed merger between the Bethlehem Steel Company and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company has failed to disclose violation of the Clayton Act.

Mr. Mitchell said there had been reports that Bethlehem money was used to purchase Youngstown Sheet and Tube stock to enable the latter to vote for a merger with the Bethlehem company. He said the department found nothing to indicate the reports were true.

The Attorney-General added the Department is continuing to look into the proposed merger.

COAST SHIP BUILDING CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 27. (Exclusive)—Three California representatives opened a campaign today to have twelve of the thirty-five freighters, authorized by the Shipping Board's five-year building program, constructed on the West Coast. The twelve freighters will serve in intercoastal trade. The three representatives are Kahn and Welch of San Francisco and Carter of Oakland. The trio said that they represent not California alone, but the entire Pacific Coast from Seattle to San Diego, when they called on Commissioners O'Connor, Cone and Sandberg of the Shipping Board.

PACKARD STANDARD EIGHT PRICES REDUCED

The Packard Motor Car Company has just advised us by telegram that effective May 28th prices of all current models of the Standard Eight have been reduced $400. The new prices are as follows:

Closed Models
Five-Passenger Sedan	$2085
Two-Passenger Coupe	$2125
Two-Passenger Convertible Coupe	$2150
Five-Passenger Coupe	$2275
Five-Passenger Club Sedan	$2275
Seven-Passenger Sedan	$2385
Seven-Passenger Sedan Limousine	$2485
Open Models
Two-Passenger Runabout	$2025
Four-Passenger Phaeton	$2025
Seven-Passenger Touring	$2125
Four-Passenger Sport Phaeton	$2325

Prices at Factory

These reductions are made because the factory expects to announce in the Fall new cars which, though the same in size and of practically unchanged appearance, will have enough changes to classify them as new models. The new cars, like those we are now offering, will, of course, have straight eight motors exclusively.

The new prices give today's purchasers a very great price advantage, and also immediate use of the largest selling and most popular car in the fine car field.

Now, it is even more true—by $400—that you are paying for a Packard. Why not own one? You will never have a better opportunity.

Two-thirds of those who buy the Packard Standard Eight give up other makes of cars. Thousands prefer to buy out of income. Your used car will be accepted as cash and, if of average value, will more than make the down payment on a new car.

RAIL RATE BILL STIRS OBJECTION

Pittman Says Measure Can be Changed Because of Omaha Attack

WASHINGTON, May 27. (Exclusive)—The Pittman bill forbidding railroads to compete with Panama Canal boat lines by charging lower rates to Pacific Coast points than to intermountain points was attacked before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today by C. E. Childs of the Omaha (Neb.) Chamber of Commerce.

As chairman of the traffic committee of the Mississippi Valley Association Mr. Childs said the bill would prevent the Interstate Commerce Commission from authorizing the railroads to make export and import rail rates lower than the domestic rates on traffic moving in and out of the Gulf under South Atlantic ports, and that this would be a blow to the Middle West. Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, author of the bill, said such a result is not intended and a change can be made to take care of that.

RICHEST OF ENGLISHMEN SUCCUMBS

Baron Ashton, 80 Years of Age, Leaves Fortune That Exceeds $100,000,000

LONDON, May 27. (Exclusive)—Baron Ashton, 80 years of age, known as the "King of Lancaster," the richest man in England, died today in his Lancaster home. He left a fortune estimated to be well more than $100,000,000.

He made his entire fortune in the liquor business, which in recent years yielded him a profit of $1,250,000 yearly. Lord Ashton was noted for his generosity and eccentricity. He gave the city of Lancaster a $1,000,000 Town Hall and a statue of Queen Victoria for the park. He also made generous contributions to the Liberal party, which has been one of his chief interests for years.

In 1928, however, he spiritedly attacked David Lloyd George and has since refused to associate in any movement with which Mr. Lloyd George has been connected.

Although he leaves no heir, Lord Ashton was married three times. His third wife, whom he married when he was 65 was his first sweetheart. She was married previously, but when her husband died she consented to be the wife of Lord Ashton.

TWO JURISTS CITED FOR SEA TRIP

New York Judges Facing Charges Growing Out of Free Voyage to Europe

NEW YORK, May 27. (Exclusive) Supreme Court Justice William T. Collins, product of New York's gashouse district and protege of the late Charles F. Murphy, Tammany Hall chieftain, today joined the growing band of New York jurists cited for breaking the laws they administered.

Collins, along with his fellow-jurist, Judge W. Bernard Vause of Brooklyn, was summoned by Dist.-Atty. Crain on charges involving misdemeanors. Both are accused of accepting, while holding public offices, free passage to Europe—one of the "favors" in addition to a $250,000 fee handed out by steamship officials in return for the lease of the city-owned North River piers.

In announcing that he had called upon Chief Magistrate McAdoo to issue the summons, Crains declared that there are three separate charges against Judge Vause and one against Justice Collins.

Here 4000 expert needle workers reproduce the creations of stylists who have built the reputation of many an expensive custom tailor. Here, fabrics from accredited mills are tested and re-tested for all-wool content, color fastness, durability and moisture resistance before they are bought, and tailored into the clothes you wear. Here daily shipments of newly made garments are sent to the F&C Coast-to-Coast stores, where styles are shown months ahead of the time other clothiers will start calling them "new".

Such are the tremendous resources of Foreman & Clark. Resources that mean clothes packed with the best dollar-for-dollar values in the country—values that enable us to make more sales in our season than the ordinary clothier sells in four—to produce hand-fashioned clothes that have gained us the greatest repeat business in the clothing industry.

Pickwick Corporation Issues Report for Year

Total Net Operating Income Set at $778,969

Increase of 50 Per Cent Shown on 1928 Figures

Net earnings of Pickwick Corporation for the year ended December 31, last, amounted to $778,969.31 after all charges including Federal income-tax reserve, equivalent to $1.02 a share on the average amount of common stock outstanding during the period, Charles F. Wren, president, announced yesterday.

These earnings compare with $514,589 in 1928 after all charges, and represent an increase of more than 50 per cent. They do not include $1,465,135 unearned profits realized from the merger of its former operating subsidiaries last year into Pacific Transportation Securities, Inc., and Pickwick-Greyhound Lines, Inc., which were credited to surplus.

GROSS MOUNTS

Gross revenues for the year amounted to $2,417,850.04. This includes $1,331,039.52 revenues for the sales of manufactured products, parts, etc.; $474,143.47 revenues from terminal operations and $612,667.05 from dividends, interest and miscellaneous income.

Expenses totaled $1,397,883.80 and included general and administrative expenses, $172,719.14; cost of manufactured products and parts sold, $945,027.43; and other expenses $279,117.09. This left a gross operating income of $1,019,966.24.

"This statement includes only profits derived from stock interests in affiliated motor-transportation companies in the form of cash dividends, and does not include surplus earnings in excess of such dividends," Mr. Wren pointed out.

NEW PLANT READY

"The new plant at El Segundo for the construction of Duplex fifty-three-passenger coaches, Pickwick Duplex Urban seventy-passenger coaches, and the Nitecoaches will be in full operation about the first of June. The capacity will be about fifty coaches per month, and it is felt that this manufacturing unit will be a source of increased earnings.

"The Pickwick terminal facilities and hotel buildings are all leased under favorable terms for a long period of years.

"The corporation now owns substantial interests in many of the most important motor transportation lines in the United States. Among its partners in the ownership of these lines are the Greyhound Corporation, Southern Pacific Company, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company and others."

WEST COAST TRADE TONE UNCHANGED

Twelfth Reserve Area Bank Survey for April Notes Little Change

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. (AP) Isaac B. Newton reported today that business activity showed little change during April this year as compared with March, in the seven Pacific Slope States that comprise the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. Mr. Newton, the economist-chairman of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank, summarized conditions thus:

"Industrial production in the aggregate was practically unchanged from March. Trade indicators offered a mixed picture, but on the whole showed improvement from the low levels of recent months. The agricultural outlook improved from a production standpoint. Wholesale commodity prices averaged slightly lower than in March. There was no basic change in credit."

The Federal reserve agent, from the mass of data gathered by the bank's statistical staff, had the following to say about agriculture:

"Climatic conditions point toward satisfactory yields of most crops in 1930, although light rainfall in recent years has resulted in a noticeable lack of sub-soil moisture in some of this district's important agricultural areas. Condition reports indicate that deciduous fruit crops will be larger this year than in 1929 but smaller than in 1928. This year's moderate-sized crop of citrus fruits is being marketed satisfactorily. Declining prices for lambs and wool have had an adverse effect on the position of the sheep-raising industry, while prices for cattle, although somewhat lower than a year ago, have been maintained at relatively high levels and cattle markets continue relatively stronger than other live-stock markets."

Industrial output in April was low, as in March, and well below the 1929 level. Lumber and copper output rose, but oil output, building and construction were lower.

Largely due to a late Easter, retail trade improved.

Profits Point Up for Aid of Water Utility

Earnings of American States Water Service Company, California subsidiary of American States Public Service system, for the first five months of this year will show a substantial increase over the same period last year, it was learned from officials of the company yesterday.

Since the oil-drilling campaign in Venice started, the company has had an increased demand for its water service, necessitating the addition of a new pump, wells and mains to its Venice plant, at an expenditure of about $12,500.

Renewal of oil-drilling activities at Huntington Beach has also increased the utility's water service in that district.

MELON TRAINS RUSH EAST

More Than 55,000,000 People to Eat Imperial Valley Cantaloupes This Season; 10,000 Cars Used

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Long trains of refrigerator cars are now pulling out from the Imperial Valley in the annual spectacular sprint across the continent to lay fresh melons on the breakfast tables in the great eastern cities.

More than 55,000,000 people in the United States and Canada will be supplied through this fast freight service with Imperial Valley cantaloupes, honeydew and honeyball melons this season.

Employed in the tremendous task of transporting the Imperial melon crop will be approximately 10,000 "reefer" cars, which speed from the valley to the eastern markets faster than any other freight car and almost as fast as the passenger cars.

CARS MOBILIZED

For some time yet the melon movement will not reach its peak, but for several weeks prior to the early season shipments the Southern Pacific perishable officials were busily at work mobilizing cars in preparation for the peak period. Approximately 6000 cars were concentrated in the valley at the start of the season, and as soon as the melons are unloaded in the East the trains are rushed back empty.

In trainloads running as high as 140 cars the melons move out of the Imperial Valley to Yuma, Ariz., where the long trains are broken up in blocks for routing to the eastern market centers. Melons destined for Chicago arrive the sixth morning after leaving the valley. New York trains are ready for unloading on the eighth morning.

In this golden stream of melons rushing eastward will be about 28,000,000 cantaloupes, honeydews and honeyballs. The exact number, on the basis of current estimates, is 27,727,500, or a half-melon for the breakfasts of 55,575,000 people.

The total crop is placed now at 14,000 cars of cantaloupes and 5000 cars of honeydews and honeyballs. This figure of 19,000 cars is a considerable reduction from earlier estimates, due to adverse weather conditions. Growers report that it is doubtful that production will reach 100 crates an acre.

CROP REDUCED

Acreage reports several weeks ago indicated a total area planted to melons of about 30,000 acres. This was a marked increase over the previous season, and prompted fears of an oversupply for the eastern markets. The recent rains, however, are believed to have cut the crop almost 30 per cent, indicating total shipments about as large as last season.

The growers, by mutual agreement, are holding the shipments to a sugar content in cantaloupes of 9 per cent, which is 1 per cent higher than the State standardization law requires. Honeydews and honeyballs are held to 14 per cent sugar content.

Before leaving the Imperial Valley the Southern Pacific ices the refrigerator cars with 12,600 pounds of ice, 10,600 pounds of which are placed in the bunkers before the cars are loaded with melons. To transport the melon crop out of the Imperial Valley alone the railroad will utilize 239,400,000 pounds of ice this season, or 1,197,000 tons. At Yuma and Tucson the cars are reiced to insure the arrival of the melons in the East in fresh condition.

Brick and Tile Unit Reports Orders Gain

Reflecting the upward trend of building activity in the Southwest since March, order bookings of Gladding, McBean & Company for face brick, terra cotta and tile during the first three weeks of this month were 90 per cent higher than for the same period of April, which in turn showed an increase in volume of 75 per cent over March, Fred B. Ortman, vice-president and general manager of the company, stated yesterday.

Mr. Ortman estimated that the total bookings for May would exceed April orders by 100 per cent.

Prospects for a fair volume of orders this year for the company's products in the Hawaiian Islands were also reported by the executive, who has just returned from a visit to Honolulu. The islands apparently suffered less from the depression following the market break than the States and building construction, which is at a high level, is expected to continue so for the next two years, Mr. Ortman said.

ELECTRICITY USE GAINS ON FARMS

Services Expected to Reach One-Million-Mark in Four Years

CHICAGO, May 27. (Exclusive)—Electric service will be extended to a total of 1,000,000 farms in the United States within the next four years, it is declared by the Middle West Utilities Company in "Harvests and Highlines," a 112-page study of electric power in agriculture, which was published today.

Rural electric lines 150,000 miles in length are now in service and the number of farm electric customers reached in the last eight years is almost as great as the number of all kinds of electric users, at the end of the first twenty-five years of the history of the electric light and power industry, the book states.

RICHFIELD NET RECORDS DROP

Earnings for First Quarter Equal 37 Cents

Compare With 91 Cents for Year Ago

Oil Curtailment and Gas War Affect Income

Net earnings of Richfield Oil Company of California for the quarter ended March 31, last, yesterday were reported at $936,740.13 after depletion, depreciation, intangible drilling expenses, interest and Federal income taxes, equal after preferred dividends to 37 cents a share on the 2,043,514 shares of common stock outstanding at the end of the period. This compares with $1,927,261.88, or 91 cents a shares on 1,917,386 common shares in the 1929 quarter.

In common with other California oil companies, the lower earnings for the first three months this year reflect participation in the curtailment of production and the lower prices received during the gasoline price disturbance that prevailed on the Pacific Coast during the greater part of the period, James A. Talbot, chairman of the Richfield board, and C. M. Fuller, president, pointed out in the statement to stockholders.

STABILITY EXPECTED

Belief was expressed by the executives that a stable price structure may reasonably be expected for the remainder of the year which should result in earnings per share consistent with or better than those of last year. Due to the consistently increasing consumer demand for Richfield products, domestic sales of gasoline, lubricating and fuel oil exceeded those for any quarter in the history of the company, the report stated.

Inventories of $20,142,000 as of December 31, last, were reduced approximately $1,000,000 during the quarter and seasonal demands will very substantially reduce inventories during the next few months, according to the report, which said the management of the company feels greater strides have been made in the petroleum industry in the past six months than during any period for several years previous, with shut-in production and a corresponding curtailment in refining throughout having greatly improved economic conditions.

WELLS SHUT-IN

The company's daily production of crude oil and casinghead gasoline is slightly under 30,000 barrels per day with more than 15,000 barrels per day of crude oil production closed in to comply with the State curtailment program. For the first three months of this year the production of crude oil and casinghead gasoline amounted to 2,649,000 barrels.

The recent discovery at Potrero, adjacent to Inglewood, where the company has valuable and well located holdings, the discovery of a deep sand in the Belridge area on which structure the company has large holdings in fee, and the discovery at Point Concepcion, establish Richfield's crude oil reserves as much greater than ever before reported, the stockholders were informed.

Comparative figures for the quarter ended March 31, 1930, and the corresponding period of 1929 follow:

March 31:	1930	1929
Net operating income	$3,199,810	$3,306,968
Depletion, depreciation, abandonments and drilling expenditures	1,310,827	1,236,794
Net income before interest and Federal income tax	1,879,173	2,132,184
Interest charges	702,433	74,922
Provision for Federal income tax	40,000	130,000
Net income available for dividends	936,740	1,927,262

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 27. CHAIN BANK FOE ANSWERED

Minneapolis Financier Replies to Argument Against System by Chase National Economist

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, May 27.—The opinion of Benjamin M. Anderson, Jr., Chase National Bank economist, who opposes any extension of branch banking in the United States, is challenged by Lyman E. Wakefield, president of the First National Bank of Minneapolis, and vice-president of the First Bank Stock Corporation, which controls many banks throughout the Ninth Federal Reserve District.

After explaining that experience that there are many small towns and villages not able to support a unit bank, where a branch bank can meet the situation, Mr. Wakefield says:

"New York's domination of American banking rests to a certain degree on the correspondent system, which Mr. Anderson advocates as the perfectly adequate relationship of the large and small banks. The trade-area-branch system, the regional group plan or the combined group and radial branch proposal, would promote a greater financial independence of the trade areas or group regions.

"Mr. Anderson places considerable stress on the point that a small bank in a one-crop community can attain the needed diversification through resort to the open market and call loans on the New York Stock Exchange. That is perfectly true, but pursued to its ultimate conclusion it means the continued drawing away of a community's accumulated capital. A diversification of areas, of risk and resource, which would permit a region to retain its capital safely within its borders appeals to me as the better way."

The battle lines are forming!

The political and financial leaders of both Austria and Hungary have been visiting Paris and London and New York lately in the hope that each of these countries will be able to float a substantial foreign loan to "carry on"—on borrowed money.

Neither country has recuperated since the war. Both are hard up today and unemployment has been growing steadily for eighteen months in both places.

Hungary, its farmers largely interested in wheat and wine, has suffered untold disaster in the low prices. Budapest and Vienna daily report new bankruptcies and many suicides.

The League of Nations helped Austria once, but she is no longer able to finance herself out of income. The same goes for Hungary.

Chancellor Schober of Austria, former Vienna Chief of Police, has lately visited several European capitals, for the sole purpose of arranging a new loan.

When the peace treaty divided Austria and Hungary into several economic parts, the conferees probably did not realize what they were doing.

No nation, no matter how worthy, can have political freedom without economic independence. Any nation that is forced to live on borrowed money indefinitely must finally throw up its hands. For it cannot exist any more than an individual earning $10,000 a year and spending $20,000 can.

This is the position of both Austria and Hungary today. Outside loans may give them a breathing spell, but unless they can build up their trade to enable them to pay their way in the world, it will be far better for them to join hands with other nations in a sound economic union.

Twelve years have passed since the war, and neither of these nations has so far met the test of economic sovereignty.

The Importance of Checking Your Investment Position

THE past year has been one of momentous changes in industry and finance. Rails Continue to Reflect Earnings Drop

Oils Firm on Reports from California Field

NEW YORK, May 27. (AP)—Stock market behaved erratically today in a relatively dull session. Professionals, who were virtually the only participants, seemed uncertain whether to take the bull or the bear side in this abbreviated trading week, and tried both sides at both, with the result that the market, viewed from the close, was highly irregular.

Bears searching for weak spots singled out the farm implement shares in view of the disappointing sales reported by manufacturers of agricultural machinery for April and the first half of May. They singled out their old friends, the utilities, finding enough encouragement in the current rumor crop to send up prominent issues 1 to 3 points.

RAILS WEAK

Rails, as was to have been expected, were heavy, for the batch of April earnings generally showed a preponderance of decreases. The first forty-four carriers reporting showed decreases averaging 27.7 per cent in the net railway operating income items for that period.

Most of the so-called private buying of Steel got up to 174 1-2, its high for the movement, although it reacted from that level and closed a point lower. National Biscuit was strong, while American Can, Westinghouse and General Electric

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, May 27. (AP)—Bond prices pursued an erratic course within narrow confines today. Promising activity was mixed with some sharp reactions at the trading continued sluggish throughout the trading session on the New York Stock Exchange.

The issue of prime industrial bonds brightened considerably, foreign bonds held steady in a good market, and increased demand for United States governments developed with prices tending upward generally. The other side was the dullness in railroad bonds, and sharp fluctuations that occurred in some individual issues, notably St. Paul adjustment 5s, which drooped 3 points, and Pelts Exchange warrants 7s, which yielded 7 points.

Sales volume increased appreciably from yesterday, when the turnover established a low mark for 1930.

The quiet market in railroad bonds resulted in the highest grade items of the group losing some ground. A conspicuous exception to the narrow price range of most rail issues was the Soo Line 4s, which gained more than a point. Missouri Pacific convertible 5½s were strong to reach a 1930 high, but reacted at the close.

Stock privilege issues showed the depressing effects of a dull share market, but rallied toward the close, with the American Telephone 4½s closing 2 points higher, and Philadelphia Reading Coal and Iron 6s up 1 point. Changes in other convertibles were small and irregular.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the sales are omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

Edison and Douglas Aircraft Work Higher on Firm Market as Trading Holds Quiet

Southern California Edison and Douglas Aircraft were the strong spots on yesterday's session on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange as trading operations continued sluggish and the market as a whole held firm. Edison advanced 1¼ points to close at the day's top of 66 and Douglas spurted 1⅝ to also end high at 21⅛. Each was traded in less than 1000 shares.

While the balance of the market held to generally steady levels the volume of sales was too meager to indicate definite movements. The fractional changes, however, were for the most part upward. Among the broader movements Pacific Mutual Life recorded a drop of 2 points to 85, and a single transaction in Signal Oil and Gas A lifted the stock a point to 35. Goodyear Tire preferred, up a point at 97, was the only other issue to show more than a fractional change. Pacific Mutual rights fell off 10 cents to 3.45.

Transamerica, Standard Oil of California and Richfield, each with a turnover in excess of 1000 shares, accounted for the bulk of the trading. Transamerica on sales of 2800 shares led the activity but eased back 3-8 net to 42 3-4 after touching 43½. Standard Oil and Richfield were both unchanged at 70 and 22, respectively. Rio Grande firmed up ½ to 21½ while Union and Union Associates yielded small fractional amounts to 45 5-8 and 44 1-4, respectively.

Western Pipe and Steel, which has not been traded for some time, advanced 7-8 to 23⅛ and Taylor Milling, which over recent weeks has shown signs of steady accumulation, added 1-4 to mark another new top for the year at 31 1-4. Pacific Finance and International Re-Insurance eased fractionally.

Sales totaled 11,533 shares valued at $469,548; previous day, 8678 shares valued at $404,942.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

A surety bond of $25,000, a license fee of $600 cash and a cash deposit of $1000 to protect the city against loss in the event the owner or operator fails to remove equipment after its usefulness has ceased, are among the stringent restrictions placed by the City Council at Santa Monica on the construction of oil derricks and starting of drilling operations.

The recently adopted ordinance specifies that only steel derricks will be allowed. Drilling will be under regulations imposed by the petroleum division of the California Mining Bureau.

While the Council was drafting drilling regulations, petitions for a referendum against the oil ordinance were filling rapidly, according to information at the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce, headquarters of the fight to place the issue before Santa Monica voters.

The Santa Monica-Ocean Park League, formed by petitioners for the right to drill, are actively combating the referendum campaign against the ordinance.

League leaders declare they are willing to back any movement prohibiting oil drilling in the northerly portion of Santa Monica, including the highly developed residential sections along the main boulevards, providing the referendary petitions are withdrawn and an agreement entered into whereby wells may be drilled in a certain part of Ocean Park.

Two Completions Expected

Following up its success of two weeks ago when it completed Taylor No. 54 in the Ventura-avenue field for 1000 barrels daily at about 3500 feet, the Shell Oil Company is making preparations to finish two other wells on the same lease late this week.

These projects are Taylor No. 50, finishing at 3800 feet, and Taylor No. 56, stopping the drill at 3970 feet. Shell developed part of the deep zone on this lease and is now working out the shallower stuff. The Taylor No. 54 is settling down to about 700 barrels a day.

Electric Job Progresses

Drilling with an electrical outfit driven by Diesel engines, the Standard Oil Company's Vickers No. 134 in the old Inglewood oil field is down 2230 feet and has gone into the oil sand. It has cored sand and shale from 2207 to 2230 feet.

This is an interesting drilling job for the reason that it is employing a new type of power, using direct current generated by an internal combustion engine. The well is expected to finish between 2700 and 3000 feet.

Gerber Looks Wet

On its big lease near Point Conception in Santa Barbara county the Standard Oil Company yesterday was swabbing its Gerber No. 1 wildcat in a second water shut-off test and the job was reported to be looking wet.

This is the second cement job for Gerber. The first was made at bottom, which was 4600 feet. After it tested wet there the hole was plugged back to 4535 feet for the present test.

Newhall Well Active

In the old Newhall field P. B. Anderson's No. 1 well is drilling in an oil sand at 1230 feet on Sec. 1, 3-16. The older wells in this area, found their production at about 1500 feet, although a few produce from depths around 1375 feet.

To Test Hartmann

The Petroleum Securities Company is setting liner to make a combination test in its Hartmann No. 1 well out on the north flank of the Ventura-avenue field. The hole went to 8136 feet but ran out of favorable formation and plugged back approximately 100 feet, where the test will be undertaken. The cores are said to have shown some good cuts.

This is the lease where the Maggenheimer interests drilled two dry holes several years ago. One hole had to be skidded and the other showed some promise, but could not be successfully completed.

Ready for Test

The Union Oil Company late yesterday had finished putting a control head on its Del Rey No. 1 at Venice and was starting to run tubing preparatory to make a combination test. Reports from the field indicated that the well was showing considerable gas pressure at 3500 feet and that it probably will not be necessary to swab for production if a water shut-off is obtained.

Drilling in Sand

Although it is getting rather deep, the Hobson No. A-2 of the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company, a wildcat seeking an extension of the Seacliff oil field, now is drilling in oil sand at 7240 feet and is thought to have reasonably good prospects. Chanslor-Canfield did the pioneering that discovered oil at Seacliff and is now trying to find a field extension between it and the Ventura-avenue field.

Appalachian Gas Corporation in Expansion Step

Appalachian Gas Corporation has completed plans for the acquisition of a 75 per cent stock interest in Southwestern Natural Gas Company, according to an announcement released yesterday. This gives the Appalachian company further diversification in sources of supply and markets by the gaining of access to the Quinton fields of Oklahoma, the largest gas reserve of an exclusive natural gas-producing field in that State.

This deal follows the recent acquisition of a substantial stock interest in Memphis Natural Gas Company and indicates a policy of expansion which is broadening the position of the Appalachian Gas Corporation in the natural gas industry.

The corporation holds a number of long-term contracts including those to supply natural gas to Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation. Through the subsidiaries of these companies, Southwestern Natural Gas Company will sell natural gas to distributing companies for domestic and industrial purposes in Muskogee, Sapulpa and Boynton, Okla., and will also furnish gas directly to industrial consumers in Tulsa.

Bar Association Gains Members

Thirty-eight new members have joined the Los Angeles Bar Association during the last month, according to Charles L. Nichols, membership committee chairman.

As an incentive for lawyers to join during the campaign, several concessions have been made. To the new lawyers who have gained their right to practice law by recent examinations, the privilege of nonpayment of current dues is extended, and lawyers who are members of bar associations within the county may join the metropolitan association by paying but half of the local yearly fee. The goal set by the committee is 500 new members.

BIAS CLAIM WAIVED AGAINST JUDGE WILSON

Attorneys on both sides of a case on trial before Superior Judge Wilson waived claims of prejudice yesterday when Judge Wilson admitted that when he was practicing law he had been the attorney for the defendant. Judge Wilson's suggestion that he might be disqualified was disregarded. The case was that of Harry and Theresa Fisher and Margaret and Peter Bauset against Johnson Irish and C. W. Herndon for $80,000 damages asserted to have been suffered in an automobile accident.

NEW KINNER MOTOR ON PRODUCTION SOON

Kinner Airplane and Motor Corporation will go into immediate production on its new 125-horsepower B-5 engine, an approved type, certificate for which has just been issued by the Department of Commerce, it was announced yesterday. SQUABBLING STARTED ON YOUNG PLAN

Security for $100,000,000 Intended for Reich Offers Chief Settlement Obstacle

(Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, May 27. (Exclusive)—After reaching a complete agreement on the principle yesterday the bankers and treasury experts meeting here to settle the modalities of the $300,000,000 Young plan issue today settled down to serious squabbling regarding technicalities.

Following the meeting Gates W. McGarrah, president of the Bank of International Settlements, stated that he hoped the difficulties would be ironed out by the end of tomorrow's session, but it now seems doubtful that the issue will be offered early in next week as was expected.

The chief obstacle to a settlement today was found in the question of security for the $100,000,000 intended for the Reich. The other slice is guaranteed by a special reparations tax against German railroads, but a number of bankers, particularly the British, want an ironclad lien to protect the exclusive German slice of the issue.

British Accept Board's Findings on Arab Rioting

LONDON, May 27. (AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency reports that the British government in an official "white paper" has generally accepted the findings of the Palestine inquiry commission in regard to the nature of last August's Arab-Jewish outbreaks and about the Zionists' complaints against the Grand Mufti, the Palestine administration and the Arab executive.

A "white paper" issued today outlines the British policy in Palestine in view of the forthcoming session of the mandates commission of the League of Nations.

Though not a final statement of the British government's policy for the future of the Palestine administration, the "white paper" indicates broadly which point of the commission's report the government considers the most important for further investigation or action.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. (AP)—Announcement by Ralph J. Chandler, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, that two new liners are to be built for the coastwise trade, was received in San Francisco steamship circles today.

The plans announced by the Lasco Line executive said the liners will cost between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000 each. It was reported that they will be built either in Los Angeles or San Francisco yards.

H. G. Smith, president of the National Council of American Shipbuilders, with headquarters at Washington, who is visiting San Francisco, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon tomorrow at the Palace Hotel, Pacific Coast Dry Dock Association sponsoring the event.

SEATTLE, May 27.—First of the 1930 pack of Alaska salmon, several thousand cases from the Bristol Point cannery at Cordova, will arrive here Thursday aboard the steamer Yukon.

Four new ships in various services out of Seattle are on the list to call here this week. The Hikawa Maru, Nippon Yusen Kaisha, and the Nyanza, Knutsen Line, arrived here today. The steamer Bradglen, Reardon-Smith liner, will arrive tomorrow and the steamer Winnipeg of the French Line will be due Saturday.

Reports on the arrival of the new motorship Hikawa Maru said that Capt. S. Akikoroshi was greatly pleased with the performance of the vessel on her maiden trip to the Pacific Northwest. The ship stopped at Victoria today, ten days and thirteen hours out from Yokohama, having left there the 17th inst. She was a full day ahead of schedule.

TACOMA, May 27.—Tacoma's harbor is host today to the new English steamer Bradglen, which called on her maiden voyage from Liverpool, to lift 750 tons of cargo, a cargo of lumber and plywood from local docks. Reardon-Smith Company is the owner.

Two intercoastal carriers, the Missourian and the Maine, docked here today to discharge east coast cargo. Both vessels will load lumber, ship and general freight for New York and abroad.

PORTLAND, May 27.—A libel action against a quantity of cargo salvaged from the wrecked steamer Admiral Benson was filed in federal district court here today by the Pacific Salvage Company, Ltd., of Vancouver, B. C.

The action asks the court to place the funds now in the hands of the United States Marshal for private sale that the receipts might be divided equally between the salvage company and a trustee to hold the other half until further orders from the court.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Hollywood Revue." Helping hand taken by that of talkie in this sequel to "Bulldog Drummond." Kenneth McKenna is the star.

California, Main nr. 9th—"High Treason." Highly imaginative description of war in 1940. Made in England and featuring Noah Beery.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"All Quiet on the Western Front." A mighty drama of war and its effect. This is one which should not be missed.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Hell's Angels." Reviewed in today's Times.

Criterion, 845 South Grand—"The Divorcee." A daringly handled exposition of the modern woman in which Norma Shearer gives one of the finest performances.

Figueroa, 1235 Vine—"The Miracle of the Wolves." A spectacular awakening of medieval France produces several astonishing scenes.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6706 Hollywood Boulevard—"The Light of Western Stars." Out where the West begins there romance and Richard Arlen and Mary Brian make the most of it.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Paris Bound." The screen softens the life of Louis Nizer's ex-wife in good entertainment. With Edmund Lowe.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Sherlock Holmes' Case." More sophisticated sleuthing by that master mind, Philo Vance.

Palace, Broadway bet. 6th and 7th—Dorothy May Carey, Ramon Novarro vaudeville and singing both in a Mexicanic romance.

Paramount, 6th at Sixth—"Devil's Holiday." A most unusual drama of reincarnation, skillfully directed and ably played by Nancy Carroll, Phillips Holmes and others.

Rialto, Wilshire at La Brea—"The Light of Western Stars."

R.K.O., 8th at Eighth—"Rich People." A fresh airy romance of the wealthy with Constance Bennett and Regis Toomey.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Cuckoos." One laugh after another is had at the expense of those two clowns, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Those Wise Dance." A policeman stands off a whole gang of crooks in this film melodrama.

United Artists, 934, nr. 9th—"One Romantic Night." Liberties have been taken with this screen adaptation which serves to introduce Lillian Gish to talkies as a princess with a sense of humor.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"The Benson Murder Case."

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Flirting Widow." The happier side of life's changes brought to the screen partially through the efforts of Dorothy Mackaill.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Brothers in Law." Cricket and the like deftly outwitted by Billie Dove in French settings.

Westlake, 625 Alvarado—"Free and Easy." Buster Keaton breaks into sound with plenty of comedy.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at Eleventh—"The Criminal Code." A remarkable bit of stage artistry, beautifully portrayed by a cast headed by Arthur Byron.

Biltmore, Fifth and Grand—"Strictly Dishonorable." A New York success about Italian romance, which may or may not prove disappointing. Starring Margaret Perry.

El Capitan, Hollywood Blvd. nr. Highland—"Brothers." A sure-fire stage hit in which Burt Lytell returns to the theater he was brothers.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine nr. Hollywood—"Once in a Lifetime." Ring Lardner and Moss Hart's comedy on the rise and fall of some-writing returns by popular request.

Majestic, Broadway near First—"Dover Road." Pershing ten with A. A. Milne—if not like ten.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"Skidding." A war buzzy finds readjustment in a tragic drama. Interesting but only fairly sympathetic.

President, Broadway at Eighth—"Elizabeth Gets Her Coat." A comedy of widespread adulthood and light indiscretion. With Marion Lord.

Vine Street, 1615 Vine—"The Great Lafayette Castle." George Fawcett makes a welcome return to the stage, but in a somewhat time-worn dissection between vaudeville and labor.

VARIETIES

Dalton, 4th and Main—Burlesque.

GOVERNOR NOMINEE DISBARRED

State Senator Joseph and Thomas Mannix Both Put Beyond Pale in Oregon

SALEM (Or.) May 27. (AP)—State Senator George W. Joseph, successful candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor in the recent Oregon primaries, and Thomas Mannix, Portland attorney, today were ordered disbarred permanently by the State Supreme Court.

The decision upheld the recommendations of a board of Oregon lawyers appointed by the Supreme Court that Joseph be disbarred for life for an asserted attack on Justice John L. Rand, and Mannix for three years. The court in its decision today said that Mannix, who brought disbarment proceedings against Joseph should not be permitted to practice law in Oregon again.

The case grew out of the administration of the E. Henry Vemme estate which went to the Supreme Court. After Mannix brought disbarment proceedings against Joseph, the gubernatorial nominee retaliated and brought the same proceedings against Mannix. The disbarment action of Joseph was based on his asserted attack on Justice Rand. Joseph contended that political and financial interests influenced decisions in cases cited and that "Mannix was too friendly with Rand."

DAM POWER PACT TO BE FORWARDED

City's Revised Contract Covering Boulder Supply Backed by Ordinance

The revised contract between the city and the Federal government concerning the purchase of hydro-electric power from the proposed Boulder Canyon Dam will go forward to Washington this morning, probably by airplane, City Attorney Werner said yesterday.

The City Council yesterday adopted an emergency ordinance containing the contract, thus giving it approval. Upon Mayor Porter's signature and first publication the ordinance becomes effective, without the customary thirty-day wait.

The change in the contract provides that, in the event the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California does not use all its quota of power to pump water into the proposed Colorado River aqueduct, the city and the Southern California Edison Company and associates share equally the surplus, depending upon which can put it to use, with the additional provision that the district can reobtain the power when the need arises. The Department of Water and Power is specifically stated to be a party with the city and pledges its revenues to the contract.

The contract states that with a 550-foot dam the power developed will amount to 4,240,000,000 kilowatt hours, while if twenty-five feet are added to the height of the dam it will mean an additional 90,000,000 kilowatt hours annually.

The contract divides the power as follows: Nevada, 18 per cent; Arizona, 18 per cent; water district, 36 per cent; Edison company and associates, 9 per cent; Los Angeles city, 12 per cent, and twelve Southern California cities, 6 per cent.

State Puts End to Stock Sales

Issuance of an order to E. H. Cude & Co., Los Angeles brokerage firm, to discontinue the sale of stock of the International Consolidated Corporation, was announced yesterday by State Corporation Commissioner Athearn.

Action followed receipt of a report by the department that an attempt had been made by the broker to switch Leonard Golz, 408 Manchester avenue, into International Consolidated Corporation stock after Golz had bought other securities through the firm.

Commissioner Athearn said that International Consolidated Corporation does not hold a permit from the department authorizing it to sell and issue its securities in California.

LEWIS BRIBERY PLOT DEPICTED

Mrs. Love Tells of Phoning About Jury's Stand

She Says $10,000 Finally Agreed on Not Received

Husband Outlines Deals He Made With Weaver

An amazing story of a bribe that was almost but not quite paid to Mrs. Caroline Love, juror in the first Julian overissue case, to vote not guilty for S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, although she had already made up her mind that he was innocent, was told by the woman herself in Superior Judge McLucas's courtroom yesterday afternoon.

From Mrs. Love, her husband, W. B. Love, and J. H. Weaver, the go-between in the bribery plot, the story was unfolded yesterday during the trial of Lewis on a charge of having supplied $10,000, half the price agreed upon as the bribe.

MRS. LOVE ON STAND

Under the direction of Dep. Dist.-Attys. Costello and Jones, who are presenting the case against Lewis, the three witnesses told their tale to a jury of eight women and four men who must decide the fate of the former oil promoter, already serving a seven-year sentence for mail fraud at McNeil Island Federal prison.

Lewis acting as his own attorney forced a number of admissions from both Love and Weaver during his cross-examination of the two which he asserts tend to discredit their testimony. At the close of the court day Mrs. Love was still under direct examination.

REFUSES TO TESTIFY

One important victory rested with Lewis last night when Miss Leontine Johnson, his former secretary, called to the witness stand by the prosecution, refused to testify, claiming that anything she might say might incriminate her.

With the jury out of the courtroom Costello and Jones argued to Judge McLucas that Miss Johnson's expected testimony was important to the prosecution and that none of it would in any sense tend to incriminate her.

"Miss Johnson is my client and I have advised her not to testify in this case," was announced to the court by William B. Beirne. "Miss Johnson is under indictment in another case and I have informed her that the questions which are to be put to her may have a bearing on her future trial."

MISS JOHNSON EXCUSED

The entire question of Miss Johnson's testimony was settled when Costello, Jones, Beirne and Lewis were called to the bench by Judge McLucas. She was excused without answering any questions relative to the case.

"We will squeeze old Lewis for what we can get out of him and then go after the other defendants because they have the big money," is what Weaver told Mrs. Love at her San Pedro home, according to the woman's testimony of yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Love in her version of the plot related from the witness stand that she was first approached on the matter of the bribe by her husband.

"My husband told me that Weaver had called on him and informed him that he could get some money from the Julian defendants," Mrs. Love said.

"I met Weaver a number of times and we discussed money. I told him that I did not believe that Lewis was guilty," she continued. "The matter was discussed by myself and my husband some four or five times with Weaver.

WROTE LEWIS LETTER

"Later I wrote Lewis a letter at his downtown club and invited him to deal directly with me. I told him to wear a flower in his buttonhole if he wanted to deal.

"Two days later Lewis came into the courtroom with a colored handkerchief in his pocket and the next day I called him up on the telephone."

It was over Lewis's stout objections that Judge McLucas admitted Mrs. Love's testimony regarding the first telephone message.

"I called Lewis and told him who I was," testified Mrs. Love. "Then I told him that the returns were

USURY TRIAL STILL DRAGS

Harold Davis and Two Other Witnesses Fail to Aid State in Introducing Documents

Three more witnesses yesterday failed to aid the prosecution in getting any of the necessary documentary evidence into the record of Superior Judge Aggeler's court, where sixteen business men are on trial for asserted conspiracy to commit usury.

Called as a State's witness, former Chief Deputy District-Attorney Harold L. Davis declared flatly that he could not say that photographic copies of documents the State seeks to introduce into the evidence were copies of original Julian pool agreements taken before the 1927 grand jury by Henry S. MacKay, Jr., so-called pool manager.

Davis, who was in charge of the investigation of the Julian matter at that time, further stated that after the original agreements were taken to his office from the grand-jury room perhaps a score of investigators, both Federal and county, as well as numerous secretaries, had access to them.

T. P. Conroy, once secretary of the Julian Corporation, and Lilah Bourdo, at that time Conroy's secretary, followed Davis on the stand but were of little assistance in identifying any of the papers. Miss Bourdo was still on the stand when court adjourned.

The first witness yesterday was M. M. Kauffman, employee of W. I. Hollingsworth, one of the defendants. After hours of argument between opposing counsel, Kauffman eventually testified that he was present at two meetings at which the Julian pool was discussed but maintained stoutly that at one of these meetings S. C. Lewis, president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, had stated that pool members owned their stock outright and could sell at any time they wanted to, although he (Lewis) wished they would not dispose of it at that time. The contention of the defense is that the pool agreement was in no sense a loan and that if no loan existed no usurious interest could have been exacted.

Before Kauffman took the stand, Special Prosecutor Stafford made a statement to the court in which he

COLLECTORS PUZZLED BY BARD'S BOOK

Volume to be Auctioned May be Rare First Edition or . . . Something Else

BY ALMA WHITAKER

There's a deep, dark book mystery rumbling in Hollywood.

Has a thirteenth copy of the first edition of Shakespeare's sonnets turned up, or is the edition to be auctioned at the Hollywood Art Galleries this evening, ostensibly as belonging to the late Frank Keenan's library, something else again?

It reposed all this week in a locked case at 6767 Hollywood Boulevard. Collectors of rare books wandered in and marveled. Other rare editions lie around it and in the bottom of the case is a circular about the auction of the Keenan library. Inquiry as to cash price brought the information that it is $1600 . . . but no information about its history is available.

Now what makes this so remarkable is that experts say there are only twelve known copies of the first edition of the sonnets extant. Two repose in the British Museum, two in the Bodelein collection and two in the Huntington Library. Capell owns one, another is in Ryland's library, another in the Elizabethan Club, and three are owned by a Mr. W. A. White, a Mr. Mildmay and a Mr. H. B. Jones, respectively.

If, therefore, this is a thirteenth copy, collectors all over the world stand ready to snap it up, for, possibly, as high as $50,000. But for some reason this precious find has not been advertised and is not listed in the catalogue of the Keenan or any other collection. Yet there it stands, purchasable before the auction at $1600, and going to the highest bidder tonight.

It is printed in quaint old English, is dated 1609, and bears the words "Never before imprinted" upon its title leaf. Its cover is of that faded old motiled color, and old age reeks through its pages.

Now it appears that there were some clever reprints done in England, which have been purchased for such sums as from $2 to $5. Some have been brought to Los Angeles. They are interesting facsimiles but not precious like the genuine first editions.

Police Uniforms to Be Inspected

Inspection by the Police Commission of the new uniforms for the Police Department was set for June 4 and 5 yesterday, when Inspector C. C. Jackson asked for a date on the inspection.

President Thorpe stated that the inspection will be held at Central and other divisional stations to avert taking the men away from their divisions. Half of the divisions will be inspected on June 4 and the others on June 5.

Because the new badge ordinance has not yet been passed by the City Council, sending of the dies east is being delayed and the old badges will be worn by officers for the inspection.

FORTUNE OF MILLIONS DIVIDED AMONG FIFTY

Distributing a $5,000,000 estate among fifty beneficiaries, the will of Grace Velie Harris, grand-daughter of John Deere, implement manufacturer, is on file in Superior Judge Stephens's court with a decree of judgment establishing the rights of various legatees under the will. A final decree of distribution will be filed today.

Meanwhile the papers were taken to the postoffice by special messenger for dispatch by air mail for filing in the courts of Illinois, where most of the property disposed of was owned.

Mrs. Harris died April 8, 1929, at her home at Carmel Highlands, although she was a resident of Pasadena.

The distribution decree to be filed today will not affect one bequest of $100,000 as there is some question as to whether the beneficiary is the national Girl Scout organization or the local chapter. The money was left to "Girl Scouts, Inc."

Other legatees are as follows: W. G. Sidney Harris, Garden Grove, $50,000 and interests in Orange county; Stephen H. Velie, Kansas City, Mo., brother, $3100 and one-third of the residue; Martha J. Fleury and Demaris Deere Velie, Rock Island, Ill., grandnieces, each $62,500 and five-forty-eighths of the residue; Marjorie Velie Heard, Moline, Ill., niece, $25,000, income from a $100,000 trust fund and five-twenty-fourths of the residue; Charles K., Josephine and Kate D. Velie of Minneapolis and Grace Velie James of Milwaukee, nephew and nieces, $5000 each, and one-twelfth of the residue.

BOWL DRIVE PLANS LAID

Campaign Committees Named at First of Series of Breakfasts for Music Leaders

Comprehensive plans for the annual membership campaign of the Hollywood Bowl, as outlined yesterday at the first of a series of committee breakfasts to be given at the Bowl tea garden, leave no doubts concerning the disposal of some 7000 ticket books and the attainment of better attendance records than ever before for the summer concerts, which will begin this season on July 8.

Mrs. Grace Widney Mabee, chairman of the membership campaign, announced the appointment of her committee chairman, the list of whose activities illustrates the extent of the drive and the effort which will be made to contact with every possible group and organization interested in cultural development throughout the city.

COMMITTEES NAMED

The committees and their leaders are: Women's organizations, Mrs. Daisy Bannerman Coats; schools and colleges, Mrs. F. O. McColloch; international, Mrs. Arthur Wright; professional, Mrs. Louise Jaques; men's organizations, Mrs. Orville Routt; civic, Mrs. E. M. Lazard; sororities and fraternities, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Raymond; residential, Mrs. A. F. Elmquist; music studios, Mrs. Bernard Brown; industrial, Mrs. Herbert Booth; boxes, Mrs. Queen Boardman; apartments and hotels, Mrs. Sam Frankenberg, and others which are in the process of organization.

Several hundred music patrons and supporters of the Hollywood Bowl attended the meeting yesterday and were enthusiastic in the reception of the guest artists, conductors and Bowl officials introduced by Glenn M. Tindall, business manager of the association, who presided.

Alfred Hertz, who will open the concerts this season, declared the Hollywood Bowl is destined to grow by leaps and bounds.

MUSIC NOTABLES SPEAK

Others who spoke briefly were L. E. Behymer, Carrie Jacobs Bond and Robert Noble, chairman of the speakers' committee, and those introduced by Mr. Tindall were Mrs. Alfred Hertz, C. E. Toberman, David T. Babcock, Mrs. Burdette Norton, Dr. Willsie Martin, who gave the invocation, and several members of the music committee, including Mrs. John Boyce Smith, Patterson Green, Mrs. Isabel Morse Jones, Mrs. Blanche Rogers Lott and Jay Plowe.

In addition Charles Wakefield Cadman, Elsa Alsen, Pietro Cimini, "Daddy" Waldon and 93-year-old "Grandma" Wakeman, chairman of the old timers' committee, were called upon for bows.

Conductors for the summer season at the Bowl will be Alfred Hertz, Karl Krueger of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, Bernardino Molinari of Italy, Pietro Crimini and Enrique Arbos of Spain.

For the duration of the membership campaign until the Bowl opens July 8 there will be committee breakfasts every Tuesday at 11 a.m.

The ordinance of intention for the opening of Ninety-fifth street between Wilmington avenue and Beach street was adopted yesterday by the City Council. It was set for hearing of protests July 10, next.

DR. GOODEN HONORED BY HIS CHURCH

Head of Harvard School Consecrated at Service as Suffragan Bishop

In the presence of more than 1000 persons, including local church officials and visiting bishops and clergymen, Dr. Robert Burton Gooden was consecrated Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles at a colorful service conducted yesterday at St. Paul's Cathedral.

DR. ROBT. BURTON GOODEN

"Receive the Holy Ghost for the office and work of a Bishop in the Church of God, now committed unto thee by the imposition of our hands," read Bishop Stevens, as a part of the order of consecration, "Be to the flock of Christ a Shepherd."

Co-consecrators with Bishop Stevens were Dr. William H. Moreland, Bishop of Sacramento, and Dr. Louis C. Sanford, Bishop of San Joaquin. Dr. Gooden was presented by Dr. Walter Mitchell, Bishop of Arizona, and Dr. Thomas Jenkins, Bishop of Nevada. Rev. Herbert V. Harris of Trinity Church was master of ceremonies.

The consecration sermon was preached by Dr. Edward L. Parsons, Bishop of California, who discussed the qualities which should be possessed by a bishop, declaring that a true priest must be learned, wise, strong, humble, devoted to the will of God and the service of humanity.

Bishop Gooden has spent the twenty-six years of his ministry in Los Angeles and for the last sixteen years has been headmaster at Harvard School, a position which his new duties will compel him to relinquish and to which another leader will be appointed by Bishop Stevens.

LIQUOR DECISION HITS POSSESSOR

Prima Facie Evidence Must be Rebutted by Him

Appellate Court Clears Up Scope of Wright Act

Habeas Corpus Plea Denied in William Paar Case

Possession of liquor is prima facie evidence of violation of the Wright Act and must be rebutted by the possessor, according to a decision handed down yesterday by Division One, District Court of Appeal.

Acting Presiding Justice Craig wrote the decision, which was concurred in by Justice Thompson and Justice Pro Tem Gates. The decision pertained to the application of William Paar for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain release from imprisonment after conviction by the Municipal Court for unlawful possession of intoxicating liquors in his residence.

It was argued by the petitioner that possession of intoxicating liquor in the dwelling is expressly authorized and is not unlawful.

NATIONAL ACT QUOTED

Reference was made to Sec. 33 of the National Prohibition Act, stating:

"After February 1, 1920, the possession by any person not legally permitted under this title to possess liquor shall be prima facie evidence that such liquor is kept . . . in violations of the provisions of this title. . . . But it shall not be unlawful to possess liquors in one's private dwelling while the same is occupied and used by him as his dwelling only. . . .; and the burden of proof shall be upon the possessor in any action concerning the same to prove that such liquor was lawfully acquired, possessed and used."

In view of the fact that California adopted only the penal provisions of the act it was pointed out that the part dealing with the "burden of proof" had not been taken over.

EXPLANATION MADE

The decision presents the situation thus:

"The petitioner bases his plea in this proceeding upon the theory that having violated no provision, as he contends, requiring such authorization to possess liquors, and being free from the burden of proving lawful acquisition or possession, he need do no more than rest upon the permissive clause of Sec. 33."

After lengthy consideration of the question raised the court concludes that at no time has it been indicated that ordinary rules of evidence should not apply to the proviso as to possession in a dwelling when that proviso is involved in a prosecution under the State law or that one charged with the violation here in question need offer no evidence in response to a prima facie case.

Thus, California courts establish a State rule that possession is prima facie evidence of violation, as is the case in the national law quoted, Sec. 33.

The court denied the petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

PRIZE LLOYD DOG POISONED

Actor Engages Detectives to Trace Perpetrator; Three Other Show Entries Die

Circumstances surrounding the death of a championship Great Dane dog owned by Harold Lloyd led to the launching of a private investigation when a chemist reported yesterday that traces of strychnine poison were found in the contents of the dog's stomach. The dog died Saturday night fifteen minutes after it had been taken from a show at the Ambassador to its kennel in Westwood, according to L. J. McGuire, in charge.

Lloyd engaged private operatives yesterday to try and determine where the dog received the poison after Charles Tanner, a chemist, reported to Dr. Eugene Jones, veterinarian of Sherman, that strychnine had been found.

Three other dogs which were taked for showing at the Hollywood show of the Los Angeles Kennel Club at the Ambassador also died, but, according to Jack Bradshaw, manager, and Dr. John McKenna, veterinarian for the show, they are positive these dogs died from natural causes.

According to McGuire, who is in charge of Lloyd's kennels, the Great Dane, Champion Illo von der Rhon, imported by Lloyd from Germany in 1927 and valued at $2500, was found dead fifteen minutes after he transported the Lloyd dogs to their kennel. An autopsy was performed immediately by Dr. Jones, who submitted the stomach contents for analysis to Tanner. The latter reported yesterday he found traces of strychnine.

"I am determined to learn where the dog was poisoned," Lloyd said yesterday in announcing the engagement of private operatives. "It is next to impossible for a stranger to get near the kennels in Westwood.

"I feel confident the dog did not get the poison in any food around the kennel. It is certainly not my purpose to cause alarm over the incident, but I want to learn the facts."

Lloyd said he will show his dogs at the coming shows in spite of the Great Dane's death.

One of the other dogs which died was a smooth-haired fox terrier belonging to C. R. Holmes of Santa Barbara. Dr. McKenna believes this dog died of what is called fright

IT IS sweet to know that you are bringing happiness into tired lives. "Old Observer" writes in to say that he was so overjoyed when I stopped writing all that hooey about Mexico that his family had a jubilee at the breakfast table.

WORLD PEACE

Dr. Joseph Wirth of Berlin spoke wise words when he predicted that the Olympic Games in Los Angeles will do much for world peace.

Peace cannot be brought about by working from the top down. After all, a naval conference is no more than a debate as to whether we shall stab each other with four-inch or eight-inch daggers. Peace pacts never accomplish anything.

Christ didn't waste any time signing protocols with the disciples. He sent them out to speak The Word to anyone they met.

GREAT SOLDIER'S ANSWER

The most hopeful promise of peace is contained in the proceedings of men who meet in the international Rotary clubs; in the new and changed business philosophy of co-operation instead of throat cutting.

When Gen. Allenby was in Los Angeles he said, in a private conversation, that there are in the world only two forces—violence and love. Violence has failed after a test of unnumbered centuries.

And this philosophy was not from a preacher; but from the most brilliant, daring and audacious officer of the World War.

"MA"

"Ma" Ferguson contributed somewhat to general hilarity while acting, more or less, as Governor of Texas. There is, however, another side to her candidacy. The most dangerous thing that could possibly happen in American public life is to elect a candidate with the full knowledge of the voters that the duties of the office will be administered by some other person. It destroys the fundamental doctrine of democracy—which is the personal responsibility of office-holders.

IRONY

This is just one of those ironic things: Appendicitis cuts down the worthy and those to whom life is sweet. Northcott, under sentence to be hanged, wants to die from appendicitis—refusing operations—and recovers.

FLATTERY FOR GIRLS

Chester Crowell, editor and magazine writer, gives advice to young authors in the current number of a high-brow magazine. He says the plain recipe for success in these days when women buy all the magazines is to appeal to their egos.

Editors want stories in which the woman triumphs, stories in which Alkali Ike is outdone by Mollie the Gun Girl; stories in which the fair young thing on the country club veranda is a doctor of philosophy in disguise, has killed lions and tigers, knows more about mining ore than the geologists and winds up by rescuing the swimming champion from drowning.

I could add a few remarks of my own, but, after all, I have only the heart of a lion—not a lioness.

HOSPITAL TO BE UNDER INQUIRY

Fitts Orders Investigation of Cruelty Charges

Psychopathic Ward Beatings Laid to Attendants

Experimenting on Patients Among Accusations

Charges of cruelty and mistreatment of patients in the General Hospital which have been accumulating for the last six months are to be made the subject of an investigation by the county grand jury beginning Tuesday, Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced last night.

The charges include accusations that certain physicians have experimented on patients, putting them to unnecessary pain; that attendants in the psychopathic ward have frequently beaten patients while they were handcuffed and confined in strait-jackets; that on one occasion a physician through an error made an incision on the wrong side of a woman while performing a major operation, and that on another occasion internes were placed in charge of a serious case over the protest of the parents who wished to employ a specialist. The patient died.

LETTERS RECEIVED

Nearly two-score letters from indignant former patients at the General Hospital have been placed in the hands of Fred Shelley, deputy District Attorney, who will direct the grand jury inquiry with instructions to press the investigation to the limit.

One of the outstanding complaints to be investigated was filed by Mrs. Luna Easeley of 456 East Thirty-seventh street, who charges that she was cruelly burned by a physician who insisted upon experimenting with her after she had been operated on for appendicitis. The woman asserts that the physician placed needles in the calves of her legs and burned the flesh so severely that it had to be cut away. This was done without an anesthetic, she said.

OPERATION FAILS

Mrs. Mary S. Niblock of 10953 Bloomfield street, North Hollywood, states that early this year she was taken to General Hospital for a major operation and the physician by mistake made the incision in the wrong place and the operation was not successful.

Another complaint filed several months ago by R. E. Ishmael of 6206 Sunset Boulevard also is to be investigated. He charges that a physician operated upon Mrs. Ishmael for cancer and during the operation gave such a long lecture to other physicians present that the woman came out from under the influence of the anesthetic and the operation never was finished.

Chiropractors to Meet Friday

With the chief executives of four national and international chiropractic groups present, the third annual convention of the California Chiropractors' Association will open Friday at the Biltmore to continue until Sunday night.

Approximately 700 delegates from all sections of the State will attend the sessions which, according to Dr. C. O. Hunt, Oakland, president of the California organization, will propose radical changes in legislative administration governing chiropractic practice.

For the first time, according to Dr. Hunt, national chiropractic groups are lending a united aid to California practitioners in obtaining recognition from State authorities.

A series of clinical lectures of demonstrations is expected to draw many visitors.

LION CUBS SAY "HOW DEE DO"

New Arrivals Find It's Great World

Otto Beyer, Zoo Keeper, and Baby Lions

MR. AND MRS. LION, designated in the last census as Rufus and Minnie, members of a fine old Nubian family, and whose home is in the exclusive Griffith Park Zoo district, always have been constitutionally opposed to publicity, and yesterday roundly denounced representatives of the press in no uncertain manner, when a request was made to obtain pictures of their two young daughters and son, who have not yet made their formal bow to society.

But, with the usual independence of the younger generation, the three juniors paid no heed to the roaring objections of their elders and not only posed graciously for a few snaps, but evinced a hearty and wholesome curiosity in their first trip outside of the four walls of their zoo home.

The cubs, born at the zoo on April 21, were three of a litter of five, but unfortunately Mama Minnie's atavistic instincts were responsible for the death of two of her children before Otto Beyer, keeper of the zoo, could teach her the error of her ways.

For a week after they were born, he said that he stayed with the group day and night and every time mama displayed an inclination to treat her offspring roughly, he applied a few whip lashes, so that finally she decided that her children might be a joy to her after all, and she gave up her ideas of infanticide.

Now, Beyer says, she is a perfect example of the doting and indulgent mother and noisily resents any interference with her management of her own children, while papa Rufus stands proudly by, saying nothing, but lashing his tail and licking his chops in such manner that one would think twice before venturing to criticise his family.

declared the District Attorney's office is not yet ready to accept the proposition made Monday by Defense Attorney Wood that the prosecution make a statement of what it intends to prove so that the court may decide whether the proffered evidence constitutes a public offense. Attorney Wood argued that two weeks has passed without the prosecution being able to get its testimony into the record and that the time and expense of the trial might be materially lessened. In answer, however, Stafford said the procedure suggested is a departure from usual practice which the District Attorney is not yet ready to accept. He said a further conference on the subject will be held.

The trial will adjourn tonight until Monday morning to allow the defendants and their score of attorneys to attend to business matters outside of court.

Wife Awarded Divorce From Football Coach

Mrs. Miriam Laraneta was granted a divorce from Manuel Laraneta, Jr., former football star, now a coach at the San Pedro High School, on a cross-complaint yesterday by Superior Judge Archbald, after presenting proof that he only gave her $150 during their married life.

Laraneta first sued his wife for a divorce asserting cruelty.

The wife's testimony was corroborated by her mother, Mrs. Pearl Pierce.

The couple married April 4, 1928, and separated on January 28, last.

PILOT FLIES EAST FOR WEDDING OF BROTHER

Cupid winged his way into the heart of a brother of Fritz Burns, president of Dickinson & Gillespie, real-estate concern, so yesterday Mr. Burns winged his way to Chicago on Western Air Express to be there in time for the nuptial ceremonies of his brother Robert. Fritz Burns is a pilot and aviation enthusiast but he preferred to use a commercial line rather than pilot a plane himself.

WAITING WIFE DIVORCED

Mrs. Emma Duvall waited for eleven years for the return of her husband, H. Hardin Duvall, after he deserted her in December, 1918, soon after they were married, before she asked for a divorce. "I think I have waited long enough," the wife told Superior Judge Bowron yesterday. "I do, too," said the judge as he signed the decree.

OUTDOOR THRILLERS REVIVE

Fox Delegates Hear of Increasing Demand for Great-Open-Space-Romance Films

Motion pictures filmed in the wide-open spaces have staged a comeback as the great American film entertainment; not the old-fashioned rip-roaring western with all its gun play and fantastic heroism, but outdoor romances with convincing plots, good acting and picturesque setting.

This was the report yesterday of James R. Grainger, vice-president in charge of distribution of the Fox Film Corporation, to 300 delegates at the second-day session of the international sales convention of the company at the Ambassador.

JAMES R. GRAINGER.

"The demand for outdoor pictures now is greater than in the heyday of Tom Mix," Grainger said. "An accurate check made of the 10,000 exhibitors throughout the United States and Canada proves it.

"Before the talking-picture era, the western or outdoor picture reached its highest point of popularity. But analysis of the audience appeal proved that a large proportion of audiences who demanded this type of picture were children. Red-blooded adventures, no matter how fantastic, appealed to the juvenile mind.

"When Fox made what was considered a daring experiment and filmed 'In Old Arizona' entirely out of doors, a brand new era of outdoor romance was inaugurated. That picture proved a sensation and proved to us that the old western era was dead. As a result an outdoor romance unit was organized and now is turning out pictures of this caliber."

BUSINESS GAINS

Grainger scoffed at reports that recent reorganization of the Fox corporation has proved a setback.

"On the contrary," he said, "during the period of reconstruction our volume of business increased 90 per cent over the previous three months."

Harley L. Clarke, newly elected president, also added his optimism as to the future prosperity of Fox Films.

"We do not owe anyone a penny," he said. "Every item of indebtedness has been cleared away, and the track is clear for a fast run."

PREVIEW TODAY

Today's program includes a preview in the morning of one of the latest pictures. Tonight the delegates will be guests of the Fox-West Coast Theaters at a dinner-dance at the Ambassador.

Harold B. Franklin, president of the Fox West Coast Theaters, yesterday called all division managers of his circuit to Los Angeles to meet Clarke. In the group of out-of-town managers are A. M. Bowles of San Francisco, Floyd Maxwell of Portland, Earl M. Crabb of Seattle, William Steege of Montana, Rick Ricketson and Gus Kohn of Denver, Elmer Rhoden, M. B. Shanberg and Howard Jameyson of Kansas City and Tom Reid of St. Louis.

EX-JUROR AIRS PLOT ON BRIBE

Mrs. Love Will Resume Her Testimony Today

Lewis Claims Victory When ex-Aide Keeps Silent

Court Threatens Discipline After Hot Exchange

O.K. and to send the package to 602 Strand Boulevard, Redondo Beach, to a female relative of mine. He wanted to know how things looked and I told him to beware of No. 2 and No. 3 jurors and then advised him to keep on fighting."

OTHER PHONE CALLS

Two other times, Mrs. Love testified, she telephoned Lewis and each time held some conversation regarding the bribe.

In the end the bribe was never paid, Mrs. Love told the jury yesterday, although she had discussed with her husband that the desired $20,000 could be used to build a new home.

"At one time I agreed to accept the money, but along toward the last I made up my mind not to take it even if $100,000 was offered," Mrs. Love said.

From Love the jury heard of Weaver's first visit to him and of Weaver's statement that he thought some money could be obtained from the various Julian defendants.

HE WANTED $20,000

"Weaver told me that he thought he could get $10,000," declared Love. "I told him that I did not believe that was enough," Love said, and then added, "I thought that $20,000 might be an interesting sum."

Love told of talking with his wife about the offered bribe and then of meetings between Weaver and his wife. He swore that he had never seen any money, although at one time Weaver told him he had collected $10,000.

Weaver, Love and Mrs. Love all agreed yesterday when questioned by Lewis that Weaver went to Love before he had approached Lewis and that Mrs. Love had announced that she did not believe Lewis guilty before any mention was made of money.

COURT ENDS HOSTILITIES

During the morning session fierce bickerings between Lewis and Costello for a time halted the trial while Judge McLucas admonished both men and for the rest of the day the both of them kept the peace.

Judge McLucas, who from the beginning of the trial early last week has made every effort to speed up the proceedings, announced at the close of court yesterday that court hours for the duration of the trial will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., with some sessions lasting until 5:30 p.m.

Police Slayer Ordered to Be Tried for Life

John G. Reyna, 29-year-old Mexican, will be tried for his life for the shooting of Police Officer Verne Brindley in a police automobile on the night of the 10th inst. Municipal Judge Turney ordered yesterday. He was remanded to jail to await trial.

The shooting, Officer Lawrence Miller testified, occurred just after Reyna's arrest at East Adams street and Central avenue on a drunk-driving charge. Reyna backed his automobile into the police car, Miller said, and was taken in custody. Reyna was placed in the rear seat of the police car, which contained several other officers and "before we had gone 100 feet he grabbed Brindley's revolver and shot him in the back," Miller declared. Reyna then fired four other shots, one of which struck Officer L. E. Williams in the knee, witnesses said. At Georgia-street Receiving Hospital Reyna told officers he was "sorry I didn't have my own automatic so I could get a few more of you," testimony disclosed.

Reyna also was held on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder for the shooting of Officer Williams.

Promoter Doyle Sued by Woman for $165,000

John Joseph (Jack) Doyle, sports promoter, was sued for $165,000 damages by Mrs. Anna M. McKee on assertions that he conspired to ruin her character and reputation.

Mrs. McKee worked on Doyle's Kern county ranch, it is asserted, with her son, N. T. McKee, who was a partner of the promoter. When Mrs. McKee reminded Doyle that he owed her son some money, she declares, he countered with the statement that she was dishonest. This statement, it is declared, was made in the presence of N. T. and T. J. McKee, sons of the plaintiff, and Doyle added that he had the plaintiff's statement in writing, and that he expected to make some "move" against her in the near future.

Broker Arrested and Books Held for Theft Quiz

District Attorney's investigators yesterday seized the books of Sergean & Co., brokers, in the Board of Trade Building, and arrested Bernard Sergean on a charge of grand theft.

The complaint was issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark on assertions of J. R. Voris, who accused the broker of misappropriating $2785 which he had placed in his hands for investment.

According to Clark more than thirty other complaints have been made by other clients involving approximately $50,000. Sergean's bail is fixed at $5000.

Census figures in Southern California would indicate that the following of Greeley's advice has not been confined to the young man alone.

IN EDGEWISE
Germany has over 3,000,000 more women than men. Is there any wonder why one sex we could mention never has a chance to express an opinion?

BEHIND THE TIMES
White Plains, N. Y., boasts a new-fangled stop signal that permits a pedestrian to cross a busy boulevard in safety. Long Beach has used the same idea successfully for nearly two years.

PROGRESS WITH DEATH
Road building is not keeping pace with high-speed cars. Thirty-three thousand were killed in the United States last year by automobiles. Looks as if we need special prisons for auto drivers, too.

THE YANKEE PULSE
Probably the New York American team owners feel better now about that $80,000-per contract. When Babe is doing his stuff the club climbs. To paraphrase a quotation, "As goes Ruth, so go the Yankees."

News reports from Trenton, N. J., would indicate that the police are trying to make the enforcement of obsolete Sunday "blue laws" as ridiculous as possible. Wonder why no legislature has had the courage to repeal them.

Marie Dressler, before sailing to Europe, was quoted as declaring that "modern Broadway is the old Bowery." And we might add that Broadway had moved to Fifth avenue and Fifth avenue to Park avenue. The Bowery evidently has become respectable.

A NEW ROME
Mussolini is planning a new Rome with broad streets and fine parks for a population of over 2,000,000. However, most folks go there to see Rome as it was. Retouching the panels and rebuilding the Coliseum will hardly appeal to the world. As a Premier, Mussolini is a marvelous iconoclast.

Great Britain furnished the largest number, 33,983; Germany came next, with 17,903; Poland followed with 4273; Italy, 3811. If we are after the Nordics we seem to be getting them.

RADIO
In Berlin churches are using phonograph records in place of the regular music and organs. Next they will have radio loud speakers to take the place of preachers. One minister will serve an entire community. We shall have to watch or they will be radioing our meals in to us and we may have nothing but hash.

BUYERS NOT GUILTY—BUT!
If the decision of the Supreme Court that a purchaser of intoxicating liquor is not guilty of a crime is construed as a wet victory—as it doubtless will be in some quarters—it is at most a very narrow and academic one, with very slight practical importance. It should be remembered that purchase without possession occurs in very few cases, if at all, and there is no doubt that possession is a crime under the Volstead Act, as it is in this State under the Wright Act. The chance for a purchaser to escape prosecution, therefore, is so slight as to be negligible, since he is almost inevitably involved in possession, transportation or some other of the crimes which the law penalizes.

The purchaser seems to have been deliberately left out of the Volstead Act on the theory that it was more important to catch the seller and that if purchase is not made a crime the purchaser can be compelled to become a prosecution witness. But the omission has not proved valuable; if any convictions have been obtained by using the testimony of purchasers (except, of course, officers or their agents) they have been so few as to escape notice. Congress might very well plug up this small loophole in the law, the only one that the ingenuity of wet lawyers has been able to discover in ten years.

A far more important point, from a standpoint of law enforcement, was raised in a case on which the Supreme Court declined to pass because the question was moot. It was whether a purchaser of liquor is a party to its transportation, or can be accused of conspiracy to transport. If, when the question is properly before it, the court holds that the purchaser can be held for one of these crimes, more sharp teeth will be discovered in the Volstead Act than Congress can add by merely making purchase per se a crime.

The moral effect, however, of making purchase a crime would be apt to be more important than the legal effect. Those disposed to give a more liberal interpretation to the Supreme Court's ruling than the facts warrant may salve their consciences in purchasing liquor with the thought that they are not criminals, forgetting that they immediately become criminals when the liquor gets into their hands. To amend the law would be to remove this quibble.

The agreement by the House Judiciary Committee upon three bills to expedite enforcement should, in the meantime, remove quickly any wet joy that the Supreme Court's decision brings. One of the obstacles to enforcement has been court congestion, and the Stobbs bill and the two Christoperson bills are designed to clear this away. The Stobbs bill does away with the application of the Jones "five-and-ten" act to minor offenders by defining sale, possession or transportation of less than a gallon of liquor by a person not a habitual offender, as a misdemeanor punishable by $500 fine or six months in jail, while the Christoperson bills permit trials of such misdemeanors before United States Commissioners without the necessity of indictment by the United States grand jury. Elimination of such minor cases from the calendar will leave United States District courts free to deal with the really serious offenses of large-scale and habitual operators. These laws, while not fully up to the recommendations of the Wickersham Commission, seem to meet the most pressing requirements of the situation and their early enactment seems to be probable.

The comments of former Judge Bledsoe at the City Club on the effect of possible liberalization of the Volstead Act are cogent and pertinent. The assertion that light wine and beer will meet the alcoholic desires of would-be drinkers has always been silly, and Judge Bledsoe disposes of that and of the further assertion that a more liberal law would be easier to enforce. Anyone who will obey one prohibition law will obey another, and anyone who will violate one law will violate another—that is plain common sense.

"The measure of the necessity is the measure of the power," the speaker said. "By substituting local option or State's rights for national prohibition we are not solving the problem, we are simply walking around it. The real problem is, 'Is drunkenness with all of its attendant evils and dangers to be encouraged?'"

The answer must be in the negative.

TALKIES AND POPULATION
For years the phenomenal growth of Los Angeles has worried the press of the large eastern cities, which has affected to believe that for this, that or the other reason, such a rate of increase could not continue and must slow down.

Old residents of this city have heard these slowing-down arguments of envious rivals with a smile. All the attention they give to them is to say: "We've heard all that stuff so many times that we are fed up with it. Meanwhile we are growing, and nothing is going to stop our growth."

The latest reason given by wise outsiders for the slackening of the progress of Los Angeles is solemnly advanced by the New York Times, which, after noting that this city is about to succeed Cleveland in fifth place in census figures, says that the talkies are going to retard our rate of growth, as they will "decentralize the film industry." The people of Europe, so it is gravely stated, want talkies in their own tongues, and it is this that is going to put the brakes on Los Angeles.

Of this sage dictum it is perhaps sufficient to say that while in 1929 the registered film talent in Hollywood numbered 17,500, this year it is 23,500, and that this increase has been largely due to the introduction of "sound," elaborate preparations for the extension of which are now being made.

But in the rather unlikely event of Hollywood merely holding its own until the next census, Los Angeles has so many other sources of cumulative growth that its progress appears fairly well assured.

HIGHWAYS TO RICHES
California is leading the States of the Union with an increase of 181 per cent in its budget for highways. And it has better roads as a base upon which to build.

Seeing California is one of our biggest assets. With seventy-three peaks over 13,000 feet high and most of them in the Bishop country with Mt. Whitney towering over all at an altitude of 14,501 feet, these mountains have their heads together in solemn conference over the future of the Golden State.

Motoring among the big trees in the center of the State, seeking beautiful Tahoe amid the fastnesses of the high Sierras, standing in awe of the silent, isolated majesty of Shasta, treading the soft flowered carpets of the Mojave to see the most glorious pictures ever hung on the mountain walls of nature's salon, watching her upset her paint pots on Dante's view in Death Valley, or following the coastline from headland to headland for hundreds of miles—all this has been made possible by our road builders.

California has been lavish, not lax, in expenditure for these vistas of vision and they have played no mean part in the expansion of this empire. People come to play and stay to live.

We learned long ago that it costs more than the extra taxes to drive a car in gear through chuck holes. Good roads are economy in gas and steel and nerves.

Our highways are the roads to health and wealth and happiness!

CONFESSION
By James J. Montague

I am told that now kids can have candy,
That parents both wise and discreet
Always keep a big box of it handy
For their hungering offspring to eat.
We have learned that a saccharine diet
Doesn't lead little children to crime
Or cause a digestive disquiet
That will certainly kill them in time.

As a child I was strictly forbidden
To buy any sweets at the shops;
The sugar was carefully hidden
And so were the peppermint drops.
Ginger snaps, which were not very snappy,
I sometimes regarded as boons
And I thought that I ought to feel happy
If fed six or seven dried prunes.

But the youngsters today have more freedom;
They can dine upon chocolate creams,
For the doctors assert that they need 'em
And that candy won't give 'em bad dreams.
They can eat any sort of confection,
Or honey spread over their bread,
Without any fear that detection
Will get them sent early to bed.

In my youth there was strict prohibition
Of sweetmeats and candy and such,
Yet always the family physician
Declared I was eating too much.
And his guess was a little bit closer
Than I dare to admit to myself,
For I did little tasks for the grocer,
And he paid me in sweets from his shelf.

The LEE SIDE O' LA
By Lee Shippey

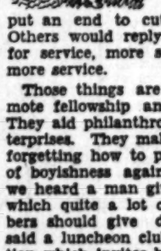
"WHAT are the luncheon clubs of which I see so much mention in the papers?" writes a subscriber down in La Paz, Baja California.

Well, they are a lot of things. Doubtless many men would answer that they are the vitalizing force in community life, the organizations which promote fellowship and put an end to cut-throat business. Others would reply that they stand for service, more service and still more service.

Those things are true. They promote fellowship and understanding. They aid philanthropic and civic enterprises. They make men who were forgetting how to play feel moments of boyishness again. But yesterday we heard a man give a definition to which quite a lot of luncheon clubbers should give due thought. He said a luncheon club is an organization which invites busy men to come and speak before it, for nothing, so that its members can enjoy private conversations, hold business conferences or crack jokes with each other while he is speaking.

Men Can Learn From Women

It seems to us a fact that there are quite a few things the men's clubs of Southern California could learn from the women's clubs, and one of them is courtesy to the entertainers who are working for them for nothing. We have attended half a dozen club luncheons recently at which scraps of conversation and horseplay were plainly audible all the time the entertainers were singing or speaking. To one of those gatherings the program chairman had brought two singers and a pianologist from the professional stage and a well-known speaker who had made a fifty-mile automobile trip in order to be there on time. He told us afterward that he had left his home at 10 o'clock and could not get back to it till after 4, so that luncheon practically spoiled the whole day for him. Yet at one table the club's most popular wisecracker was entertaining a group of hilarious friends with funny stories all the time the singers and the speaker were doing their best.



Remedy at Hand

We do not write this in any spirit of personal fretfulness. Luncheon clubbers and other clubbers have been kinder to us than we deserve. But it is our job to hold the mirror up to Southern California and we mention these incidents only as tendencies of the time.

But it does seem to us that organizations which take such delight in assessing fines ought to put an end to this growing practice.

Fur Might Fly

Lee: Perhaps your colyum would be interested in a lot at Avalon Boulevard and Forty-ninth street, which is recommended as a "Sight for Apartment-house:" also in knowing that a store at Twentieth and Main confides that it has "More Stoves Than Money," and the fact that the proprieor of a dog and cat hospital on Slauson is named Wolf.—Gib.

We've mentioned Wolf's Dog and Cat Hospital before, Gib. Also the fact that the proprietor of a dog training establishment on the other side of town is named Spitz. But wouldn't there be an awful mix-up if Wolf and Spitz should get into a merger?

Amateur Sport

You can rave about fights, if you want to,
And yell you were robbed, as you snort.
You may say that the wrestling is shady,
Well, why not try amateur sport?

Professional sport is a business;
Entertainment? A mighty poor sort,
With the exception of baseball, it's awful;
I'd rather have amateur sport.

For then you see swimmers and runners
Who race for the glory they court;
And gymnasts and tumblers and ball stars;
Let's patronize amateur sport.

We have basketball, handball and golfing,
With tennis in every known part;
And with the Olympic Games coming,
Well, I prefer amateur sport.

CARROLL VAN COURT.

Yeah, Carroll, amateur sport is fine. It's too bad we don't have some of it in the colleges.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

CALIFORNIA—THERE SHE GOES!
[New York Times]

If California justifies the forecast of a gain of 2,000,000 population since the last census, she will have established a proud record. And if the scientists are right in their predictions about birth rates and population increase in the future, it is a record which will never again be approached. She will have added in ten years a greater block of population than stands to the credit of any State in any decade since the heads of the American people have been officially counted. The nearest approach is the progress registered by New York State in the census of 1910, which showed a gain of 1,845,000 inhabitants over the 1900 census.

The New York figures are, indeed, so close to the California estimate that only the official count in the latter State can decide. But what is already decided is that proportionately California's showing is unrivaled. New York State had more than even seven million people to which to add another near two millions. California in 1920 had less than three and a half millions. She will have gained something like 55 per cent for New York's 26 per cent in the latter's best decade. But it will be no novelty to California, as she can with all propriety and with a quiet smile point out. The 1920 census registered a gain of 1,550,000 people over the year 1910, and that again is a figure only surpassed in the New York instance already mentioned. Even Pennsylvania in the decade of extraordinary growth preceding 1910 failed by nearly 200,000 people to do as well as California was to do in the next ten-year period. In the history of the expansion of the American people it is a rate of increase surpassed only in the ten years preceding the Civil War, when the Middle West was filling up, when Illinois more than doubled her population, Michigan and Missouri nearly doubled, and Iowa increased nearly fourfold.

CHOOSING YOUR CAREER

XV.

AUTOMOBILES

BY WALTER P. CHRYSLER.

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

[Walter P. Chrysler is president and chairman of the board of the corporation bearing his name. He began his career as a railroad mechanist's apprentice.]

You should have a liking for, and an understanding of, mechanical things, if you decide on a career in the automobile business.

The industry is divided roughly into the engineering, manufacturing, sales and service departments and unless you have a mechanical turn of mind you would be wise to try your hand at some other line of work.

Walter P. Chrysler

You should have confidence in yourself and your future, courage to take hard knocks and rise above them, a willingness to work hard until you have mastered your immediate problems, enthusiasm and the determination to succeed. If you have these things and good health along with them, you should make progress in the automobile industry, or in any other, for that matter.

Common sense, an ability to make quick decisions, the will to pass up bigger immediate financial returns for future opportunities, will help you in your career. Hard work alone won't carry you along the path of success. You have to back it up with other things.

If you like to create and to build when you are young it would be well for you to get all the technical training you can. High schools offer such courses of instruction nowadays. If you are unable to obtain an education along this line start in at the bottom in an automobile plant.

Many of you will take technical courses in colleges. You will find it wise to follow much the same tactics, no matter what your educational advantages.

While your weekly wage may be nominal at the start you will get pay increases fairly rapidly. Skilled mechanics, even if they have had no engineering training, are well paid in the automobile industry.

You can't be afraid of dirt and of soiling your hands when you go on a factory pay roll. It is no white-collar job. But such an experience will qualify you for work in practically every branch of the business. It will serve to teach you what there is to know about your particular product.

Promotion generally comes to those who have served their apprenticeship in the factory. Automobile makers prefer, when they can, to develop their own executives and to advance the man who has been through the mill. Most heads of departments in the industry today have come up from the ranks.

You can be assured, if you show ability, of going up the ladder in the industry more rapidly than in many other lines of work because of the constant growth and expansion of the business. This creates a demand for trained and skilled executives. Important department heads draw salaries running well into five figures.

If you have selling ability you will find an early opportunity in the sales department, once you have served your apprenticeship in the factory. While it isn't absolutely necessary for a salesman to go through a course in the plant, you will be a better salesman for such an experience.

Salesmen in the industry start at comparatively small salaries with a commission added in some cases. Once you prove that you really can sell you should be able to make a salary commensurate with that in any other line of selling. Your pay will vary, naturally, with your ability, your opportunities and your territory.

Those of you who, because of your home location or other conditions, are unable to get into an automobile factory for experience can start work in the service department of any of the big concerns, distribution agents or in a busy garage. There your mechanical ability will have a chance to develop.

Such experience will help to qualify you, if you have business ability and know how to save your money, to start in business for yourself. You may get a chance to open a garage and find a very profitable occupation. To get the best results in this line of work you will need the knack of meeting people. You should also possess considerable hard business sense.

If your talents run more to salesmanship than to actual mechanics, you will have a chance to get into the agency field. Manufacturers are always looking for the live wires in a community and if you know the business thoroughly you will not want for an opportunity to build up a profitable enterprise of your own.

Proves Need For Faith

GLENDALE, May 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I suppose Mr. Freud would like to have his atheistic and pessimistic productions dignified by the title, "German Philosophy." But there is about as much philosophy in them as there would be in the application of a buzz saw to a man's right arm, the application of a trip hammer to his head or a dose of carbolic acid to his stomach. They may be useful, however, in showing us to what depths of despair humanity would descend, if infidelity had its way in forcing its Christless scheme of life upon us.

Thank God there are millions in this part of the world who have the faith that enables them to bear their burdens cheerfully, meet their problems hopefully, look through all shadows and see a brighter day. This is because He who said, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world," has kept His promise.

Good Use For Tax Money

BALDWIN PARK, May 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Allow an old subscriber of your paper to express her appreciation of the article in last Sunday's paper by John Steven McGroarty in regard to stop building so many highways, and use the money to reforest the mountains, thereby giving work to thousands of idle men.

People are being taxed to death through the paving and widening of highways. Spend the money for something that will return us a hundredfold in the years to come.

The Camel's Back

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Whatever your motives in supporting prohibition and however incomprehensible, your attitude is not accompanied by either logic or good sportsmanship.

After your pet has been soundly whacked by the fairest of all possible tests by the Literary Digest, to turn around and assert, without a shred of evidence, that the fanatics—the so-called "drys" refrained from voting, is a feeble puerility utterly unworthy of an otherwise excellent newspaper.

Within a month of the inauguration of "prohibition," you published a letter from me, in which I gave seriatim the reasons why the attempt would prove a ghastly failure. Those statements have been fully borne out by events and I could now add several other reasons revealed by the experience of the last ten years.

Where Mail Comes Late

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Now that Los Angeles is to be assured of plenty of water, it is about time a little agitation is started over the mail subject in this seemingly fast-growing city.

The mail service is antediluvian, to say the least. I live in a district not four miles from town (that is, the center of town) and here it is 10 o'clock in the morning, and no mail yet. That is the common thing.

I have lived in Chicago, at the same distance from town, and had mail in the hotel by 8:30 a.m. The same is true of Detroit. Furthermore, there would be at least four or five mails a day and here we are only recently receiving three. If Los Angeles is going to try to compare herself with the "fourth city" in size, she had better step up in some other ways.

Anyone trying to conduct business back East who does not receive any mail till nearly noon has a pretty poor chance of accomplishing anything.

THE RETURN

There is a Rose that blooms eternally;
From its deep heart all other roses come—
And every rose that dies on earth returneth
Unto that heaven which is its true home.

There is a Bird that never stops its singing;
She is the mother of all birds that sing—
And never falls a sparrow that its spirit
Finds not a home beneath that mother's wing.

There is a Light that is forever burning
Beyond the dark blue walls of time and space—
And when the stars grow cold within their heavens,
Their light returns unto its dwelling place.

There is a Soul whose peace is never ending—
The Mother Soul that loves the souls of men—
The Mother Soul who loves her wayward children
And smiles to see them coming home again.

PEN POINTS

Jail: A tardy substitute for spanking.

You can't make an ass of a man, but you can give him a little authority and let nature take its course.

If men feel sorry for the groom and women feel sorry for the bride, nature has mated two of a kind.

Men are so primitive out in the sticks. They still settle arguments with their fists instead of dynamite.

And maybe Harvard graduates have few children for the same reason that lions are less prolific than rabbits!

If the wife is planning a party without apparent reason, she is mad at somebody.

What does it profit a country to go Republican if the stock market goes Democratic?

A hick town is a place where the leading sportsman is everybody who has a stop watch.

One reason why taxes are high is because the equal division of property appeals to the man who hasn't any.

One bite and the mosquito dies. We hope somebody will show this to our neighbor's fussy little dog.

You'll notice that big-hearted gossips never feel an urge to warn the bride about the groom's past.

Defensive preparedness isn't enough. You'll notice the little creatures with hard shells and quills don't multiply very fast.

Lawyers won't suffer when the meek inherit the earth. Helping meek clients settle such an estate will be heaven enough for them.

In common fairness it should be recorded that Babe Ruth isn't the only man with a salary like that who doesn't seem to be earning it.

A new thought is an old thought expressed by a new man in a different way.

An optimist is a man who would rather be a widow's second husband than her first.

The man who is always trying to get even finds the odds against him much of the time.

Giving advice never does any harm. The chances are that nobody will follow it, anyhow.

A real flapper is a girl who can't blush without a compact or get a meal without a can opener.

Somehow, what a man says in describing how hard he worked usually has some resemblance to an alibi.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

A FADING FAD

Starvation was a recent fad that made a million women sad; the crime, they thought, of losing plump, would lead them to th social dump: it was the fashion to be thin, and old-time curves were simply sin. But now and then, these days, I meet some lovely damsels on the street who look as though they see no wrong in rooting for the dinner gong. They look as though they filed away the standard three square meals a day. But yesterday I talked with Kate, who has become a heavyweight; she bravely struggled for a year to make the excess disappear; through long and weary months she tried to be just seven inches wide. She'd emulate the movie queens, and so, she cut out pork and beans and raw bananas rich and juicy, and all the wholesome fruits like tripe, and all the fruit girls adore she would eschew forever more. "Dame Nature," thinking she was right, Kate, "gave me an appetite, never thought it an ordeal to sit up to a good square meal, to eat no punishment to eat a three pounds of butcher's meat. When I'm asleep I always dream about a firkin of ice cream, and when at dewy morn I rise, my thoughts are much concerned with pies. And so it was a frightful thing to gnaw a scrawny chicken's wing. convinced if I should eat more, I'd gain five pounds or maybe four. I often ate a dish of slaw, a clammy compound cold and raw, when I was dying for a steak or something in the line of cake. The only comfort I could see was that I had good company, for all the other girls I knew tried thus to lose an ounce or two. But, sanity returned at last, and now I eat a big repast, and if such eating makes me fat, I care no hoot, and that is that."

Country's Very First Settlement

There is every prospect that visitors in large numbers will be attracted to Jamestown Island, to be made a State reservation. It was here that the first effort at settlement was made and the site is regarded by many as the most important landmark in the country. The island covers about 1200 acres and is owned principally by the association for the preservation of Virginia antiquities. For fifty years efforts have been made to induce the members of the national Congress to make the island a national shrine.

MOTHER FACES PRISON FOR FIRE

Woman Convicted of Burning Store

Court Finds Him Guilty on Twenty Counts

Four Years Possible Sentence Tomorrow

Convicted on one count of burning personal property, one of arson and eighteen counts of presenting fraudulent claims, Max Newman, former Los Angeles clothier, faces a possible prison term of four years when he appears before Superior Judge Fricke for sentence tomorrow morning.

The defendant was convicted in Judge Fricke's court yesterday following a lengthy trial. The counts, which also names Joe Bedell as co-defendant, charged the two with burning their clothing store at 922 South Los Angeles street December 18, and later collecting $111,000 in claims for insurance.

LONG INVESTIGATION

Newman did not stand trial with Bedell because officers thus far have been unable to apprehend him. The case marks the conclusion of one of the most sensational arson investigations conducted by the District Attorney's office in the last decade. The inquiry was started nearly a year ago by Hugh Evans, deputy District Attorney, in connection with the inquiry Mc-Cullagh was prosecuted. Newman.

EVIDENCE AT TRIAL

The prosecution charged that the burning of the store had been moved to a point of building into an adjacent structure shortly before the fire. Both Newman and Bedell were out of the city at the time.

In closing his case to the jury the prosecution was faced with the fact that he was connecting Newman with the crime by the fact that he was provided with an ironclad alibi. Evidence which figured in the conviction included the statements of witnesses that inflammable liquids had been sprayed over the floor shortly before the fire and that the safe in the store had been drilled to hamper the work of firemen.

HOUSE PLAN APPROVED

The Police Commission yesterday referred to the Traffic and Lighting Committee of the City Council for approval the proposed ordinance providing for the creation of a bureau of street-traffic engineering in the police department to take charge of traffic-signal bureau now operated by the Building and Safety Department. The ordinance was referred at a special meeting in the mayor's suite on Monday.

FORGIVENESS OF WIFE AT END

Fifth Time Husband Ran Off With Another Woman Proves Too Much

Mrs. Georgina Hardman forgave her husband, William Hardman, four different times when he ran away with other women, the wife declared yesterday when granted a divorce by Superior Judge Haslett.

"I reached the end of my patience," Mrs. Hardman said. "He left me the last time on March 22. That was the fifth time he had gone away, deserting me for another woman."

The couple were married at Liverpool, Eng., on May 24, 1924.

Dr. Van Bergen Returns After Finding Relics

Dr. Charles Van Bergen, associate in archeology of the Los Angeles Museum, returned to his home at the Biltmore yesterday from researches among the ancient ruins of the Casa Grande, Ariz. Relics found there, he said, transcend both geographical and political boundaries in their immense importance to science.

Among the pieces unearthed, Dr. Van Bergen said, were beautifully carved and decorated ceremonial pieces, potteries and incense burners which indicate a direct cultural contact at some distant period of Central American and Mexican Indians with the Gila tribes.

Dr. Van Bergen took occasion on his arrival to correct dispatches from Tucson in which it was stated he is affiliated with the Southwest Museum. He is with the Los Angeles Museum. The scientist further pointed out that he financed the expedition with his own funds.

COURT GRANTS DELAY IN McINTOSH DIVORCE

A continuance of two weeks was granted yesterday when the divorce suit brought by Burr McIntosh, former actor, now a radio speaker, against his wife, Mrs. Jean Snowden McIntosh, was called for a hearing before Superior Judge Smith. The case was continued until June 10, next, because of the absence of Gilbert J. Hefron, attorney for McIntosh. The former actor is charging desertion, asserting his wife left him in New York in April, 1927. They were married on Christmas Eve in 1914.

TREE TEA Orange Pekoe

TREE TEA

M-J-B CO.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the lovely affairs of the week was the tea with which Mrs. Rufus Bernard Von KleinSmid entertained Monday afternoon at the family home, 10 Chester Place, honoring Miss Mary Louise Wattles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gurdon Wallace Wattles of Hollywood, whose wedding with Wilson Dunlap Bryant of Omaha, is to be an event of June 3. As the guests entered the spacious solarium they were greeted with a huge basket of brilliant flowers, which concealed varicolored birds whose beaks jauntily held tiny cards announcing the betrothal of Miss Elizabeth Von KleinSmid to Frederick Ernest Potts, Jr., son of the late Frederick Ernest Potts and Mrs. Emily Potts of 2516 South Twelfth avenue. The wedding will be an event of June 30, in St. John's Church, West Adams and Figueroa streets, with Dr. George Davidson officiating, assisted by Dr. Bruce Baxter of University of Southern California. Miss Von KleinSmid was graduated from Girls' Collegiate and later matriculated at University of Southern California of which her father is president. She is a prominent member of Phi Beta Phi Sorority, while her fiance is a Stanford man and also was graduated from Harvard school of business administration.

Assisting Miss Von KleinSmid at the tea were Miss Margaret Jenkins, Miss Ella Sandberg, Miss Katherine Jean, Miss Isabel Kerr, Miss Katherine Gude, Mrs. Eloise Park Woods, Mrs. Adna Leonard, Jr., (Josephine Ekhart,) Mrs. Raymond Tremaine (Dorothy Souden Cook,) Mrs. James McCarthy Rounds (Edna Louise Ruwe) and Mrs. Daniel Ferguson (Jean Luton.)

Felicitations

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Percy G. Miss Helen Winnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winnett, went to St. Louis to visit with her sister and more than probably Mrs. Candy and the young son will come to the Coast in July for an extended visit with her relatives and friends here.

One of the charming brides-elect who is being much entertained with prenuptial courtesies is Miss Harriet Manierre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Manierre of El Molino, Pasadena, whose wedding with Jack Hartley Collins is to be an event of June 4, in Westminster Presbyterian Church of the Crown City with Rev. John C. E. Fry, an old friend of the Manierres, officiating.

This afternoon Mrs. Cameron Livingston Thom (Elizabeth Johnson) of North Fuller avenue is giving a beautifully appointed luncheon at the Los Angeles Country Club honoring Miss Manierre, decorations carrying out a bridal motif. Covers will be arranged for Miss Manierre, Miss Virginia Sevier, Miss Virginia Thom, Miss Edith Davenport Shankland, Miss Mary Isabel Fry and Miss Mary Hannah of Pasadena; Miss Catherine Newell Wilson, Mrs. David Walter, Mrs. Edward Austin Calvert Hammond, Mrs. Robert Hadley, Mrs. Charlton Dukes, Miss Ann Sumner and the hostess.

Tomorrow evening Miss Shankland and Miss Mary Isabel Fry are giving a dinner-dance at the Biltmore honoring Miss Manierre, with Mr. Collins sharing the honors of the evening, while Tuesday evening following a rehearsal at the church, Mrs. R. H. Collins, mother of the bridegroom, is giving a bridal dinner at her home in Pasadena. Miss Sevier gave a beautifully appointed luncheon and bridge in honor of Miss Manierre, at her home in Muirfield Road, a dozen intimate friends being bidden.

Prenuptial Affairs

Another bride-elect who is being much entertained is Miss Elsy Jane Myrick, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Willis Myrick of West Twenty-eighth street. Every day before her wedding with William Alan Black of San Francisco, June 7, is filled with charmingly appointed events.

This evening Miss Louise Innes, who is to be one of the bridesmaids at the ceremony, is giving a dinner-dance at the Biltmore, covers to be arranged for eighteen guests, members of the bridal party only. A bridal motif is being stressed and the guests are going first to the home of the hostess's aunt, Mrs. Willard James Doran in South Hudson avenue, motoring down to the Biltmore afterward.

Miss Innes and her father, William A. Innes, returned last Saturday after six weeks' sojourn in New York. Miss Innes went east to the reunion at Bennett School, Millbrook, N. Y., joining her father in New York City afterward.

Tomorrow evening Miss Louise Janss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Janss of Lucerne avenue, is giving a dinner for Miss Myrick and Mr. Black, while Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ransome Leeds, Jr., are entertaining with a tea at their home in Orange Drive with Miss Myrick and Mr. Black as special guests of honor.

Musicale at Home

Mrs. Guy Bush is entertaining tomorrow with a musicale at her home in South Serrano avenue, honoring Mrs. J. T. Carter, who is leaving shortly for an extended European trip, and Charles Wakefield Cadman, who is to present his new trio for the first time. Forty-five guests have been bidden.

Paul Von Linnicke, military attache to the German Embassy at Tokio, Japan, and Mrs. Von Linnicke, the room being artistically decorated with American and German flags, the national colors of the two republics also being stressed in the general color scheme of the table decorations and appointments.

Miniature loving cups with Prosit America and Germany engraved on each were presented to the guests as souvenirs. Capt. and Mrs. Von Linnicke were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Schildwachter while visiting in Southern California en route to New York, where they are to sail for Germany.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

MR. BLACKSNAKE IS DRIVEN AWAY

A situation that is tense
Is often saved by common sense.
—Old Mother Nature.

Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse didn't know what to do. Mr. Blacksnake had found their new home up in a tree. It was lucky for them that neither had been in that home. "I guess," said Danny, "that we shall have to look for a new home elsewhere."

"I guess," said Nanny, "that you are right. And that was such a beautiful home! Never have I felt more safe than I felt there."

"You wouldn't feel safe there any longer," said Danny.

"No, I don't suppose I would," Nanny replied.

"Still," said Danny, "if Mr. Blacksnake should be driven away, he might never again return. Somehow, I have a feeling that he is just traveling. I don't believe he lives around here. Oh, dear! I wish I were big enough to do something."

Just then Sammy Jay alighted in the tree. He didn't see Danny and Nanny, but he did see Mr. Blacksnake. "Thief! Thief! Thief!" he began screaming at the top of his lungs.

Now, when Sammy screams "Thief!" like that, every one knows that he has discovered an enemy, and most of the feathered folks within hearing flock to see what the trouble is. It wasn't long before the feathered folk began coming from all directions. Mr. Blacksnake withdrew his head from inside the tin can. He had found nothing to interest him in there. Now he was darting his forked tongue out and in rapidly, as he glared at Sammy Jay and the other feathered folk gathering around. He didn't like so much attention. No, sir, he did not like so much attention. He never does like attention. He held himself in readiness to strike at any of his tormentors who might come within striking distance. But none did. They would come almost within striking distance, but never quite. Mr. Blacksnake began to look about for a way out. He glided swiftly down that tree. Danny and Nanny saw him coming and took to their heels. Mr. Blacksnake didn't see them. He reached the ground and started away at a great pace.

After him flew the whole crowd

But he couldn't escape the sharp eyes of the birdfolk. After him flew the whole crowd, all screaming at the top of their lungs. It wasn't long before they were so far away that the sound of their voices reached Danny and Nanny only faintly. Mr. Blacksnake had been driven away.

"He won't come back," said Danny confidently.

"How do you know?" replied Nanny.

"I just feel it," said Danny. "We may as well keep our home. If we were living somewhere on the ground, there would always be the chance of a visit from Mr. Blacksnake."

"Perhaps you are right, Danny," said Nanny. "On the ground we would be in danger from others as well as Mr. Blacksnake. Come on: let's go back up home."

So Danny and Nanny climbed up to the old tin can, which was now their home. "I hate to think that that fellow has been in here," said Nanny, "but it can't be helped. We'll just hope that he'll never come again."

"He won't," replied Danny confidently.

And Danny was right. Mr. Blacksnake never did return.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, colitis for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, blues, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for also if you need your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

CHANGES IN CHILD'S HABITS COME ABOUT GRADUALLY

All of us are wont to expect immediate results from almost any new policy we adopt. We are disappointed if the miracle doesn't happen (the wrong conduct right itself or the new habit become established overnight) and pooh pooh the line of conduct we have espoused.

Almost any change we make with children is upsetting some type of behavior which has been going on for months. If we want the baby to accept a cup after months of bottle feeding or to feed himself after being fed or to keep dry after months of wetting, we can't expect that these changes will occur overnight. One mother stated that after three weeks of patiently offering a cup instead of a bottle she gave up and went back to bottle feeding. Now she may as well face the fact that it will probably take her six weeks to arrive at the spot which she had reached in three weeks before. The child is going to feel that if he holds out long enough he'll get the bottle back.

ALL STEPS FORWARD

There can be no going back in child rearing, all the steps must go forward. Incidentally, neither can there be any standing still. We must move. Mrs. S. R. R. has encountered difficulty in her feeding program. "My 12½-months-old baby weighs twenty-two pounds and has six teeth," she writes. "He has had these teeth since he was 9 months of age. Shouldn't he be getting some more?

"When I changed him to cup feedings he would not take all his milk, so I put some on his vegetables. Now he won't accept the vegetables unless diluted with milk. Shall I starve him to this? My mother says if he loses weight he'll be even slower in getting his teeth. Is this diet delaying his teeth? He gets nearly a quart of milk, all kinds of vegetables, fruits, orange juice, cereal and one soft-boiled egg a day. He sleeps twelve hours at night and four in the daytime."

REDUCE MILK GRADUALLY

Reduce the amount of milk on the vegetables a little at a time until baby accepts them in thicker form without being aware of the changes. It is quite all right to offer sieved vegetables for several months more. When he feeds himself he'll be more apt to accept food in any form than while he is being fed by you.

The average baby has six teeth at 1 years of age and twelve at 18 months. I wouldn't call this baby delayed in any way and the diet is splendid.

I am unalterably opposed to force in accomplishing anything. Starvation is a form of force, because you are "forcing" baby to do without food until he eats what you put before him. The only time when I think it a good plan to take food away is when the child has made his refusal of it a means of attracting attention to himself. If he finds that the food disappears when he musses it up and refuses to eat he will learn a valuable lesson.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Charles and Louise Mosconi, dancing stars, will be guests of honor at George Olsen's revue club, Culver City, tonight, on which occasion a brilliant program will be offered. Wednesday nights at Olsen's are proving the mecca for stage and screen players, and since the opening Eddie Cantor, Marilyn Miller, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians and others have attended and enjoyed gala nights dedicated to them. Olsen and his orchestra will feature a special group of dance selections tonight from New York shows in which the Mosconi Brothers have been starred.

BLOSSOM ROOM POPULAR

Incentive for the gathering of many screen celebrities in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel last night was the gala premiere of "Hell's Angels" at the Chinese Theater. A large number of notables made reservations for dinner parties both preceding the brilliant opening and for midnight supper following the event. Blossom Room patrons will enjoy another celebration tomorrow when "Surprise Night" is given again. Many look forward to this event, as there are always several surprise features presented. Irving Aaronson and his Commanders will add to the attractiveness of these presentations.

CAFE OPENS TOMORROW

A new type of cafe, an innovation in eating places and known as the "Merry-Go-Round" will open for business tomorrow on Figueroa street at Pico Boulevard. Eric J. Ellefson, organizer of the company, states that the cafe works on the principle of a cafeteria except that the food is brought to the patrons by means of a revolving table. Operators of this unique cafe system have two in operation in Long Beach and both are popular. They plan to open others soon in Los Angeles and later to expand into a chain system throughout the United States.

SERVICE HOURS LONGER

In anticipation of the opening of the new Pantages Theater in Hollywood the Harmony Cafeteria, directly opposite, will inaugurate continuous service from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. week days and 12 noon to 8 p.m. Sundays and holidays. To care for the prospective increase in business the Harmony has redecorated the establishment and installed new kitchen equipment.

VETERANS TO OBSERVE BATTLE ANNIVERSARY

The Battle of Cantigny anniversary meeting of the Southern California sector of the Society of the First Division, A.E.F., will be held tomorrow evening at the Mona Lisa Cafe, 2534 West Seventh street, according to the announcement yesterday of Gail B. Selig, president. Officers for the next year are to be elected. An entertainment has been arranged. The Battle of Cantigny being the first major engagement of the division, the society chooses that date for an annual meeting of importance.

Of Interest to Women

WOMEN VOTERS SELECT LEADER

Mrs. O. S. Barnum Chosen at Annual Meeting

Other Officers Installed at Gathering Monday

Other Events of Interest to Clubdom Occur

BY MYRA NYE

Mrs. O. Shepard Barnum, prominent in educational and club circles of California for many years, was elected president of the Los Angeles League of Women Voters at the annual meeting at the Biltmore Monday. Mrs. Barnum, who is a past president of the Friday Morning Club and member of the State Board of Education, succeeds Mrs. Harry R. Champlin, to whom many tributes were paid by her co-workers on her retirement from office.

MRS. O. SHEPARD BARNUM

Associated with Mrs. Barnum on the board and installed Monday are the following: Mrs. C. A. Dykstra, Mrs. Arthur C. Wier, Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. John M. Pfiffner, secretaries, and Mrs. J. L. Criswell, treasurer. Mrs. Barnum is representing the Los Angeles league at the ninth annual convention of the California League of Women Voters in San Francisco today and tomorrow. Other delegates are Mrs. J. L. Criswell, Mrs. Ernest Wallace and Mrs. John J. Troy. Mrs. J. C. Whitman of San Francisco is president of the California league.

Mrs. Seward A. Simons, California State chairman of international co-operation to prevent war, gave the chief address at the annual meet, speaking on "The Machinery for Peace." She discussed the London Naval Conference, the Kellogg-Briand pact and the International Conference on the Cause and Cure of War in Washington, D. C., as steps in the building of machinery of peace to offset war propaganda.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

DRESSING FOR HEALTH

Since we are required by the dictates of custom to wear clothing, we should learn how our clothes may affect our health, and which kinds of clothing are the least injurious. You know that in some of my previous articles I discussed how the skin is a living organ which requires light and ventilation to be in the best of health. There is no doubt that in mild climates the less clothing the better. However, it is bad taste to display certain purely physical parts of the body, and we are therefore confronted with the problem of wearing attractive clothing which will at the same time admit air to the skin and enough light to supply the body's needs.

The old-fashioned idea of wearing thick, heavy, dark clothing, whether summer or winter, is wrong, and should be discarded. The clothing should be adapted to the season.

The innermost clothes, worn next to the skin, should be loose enough to admit air and soft enough not to irritate the skin. For this reason, cotton, silk, or the new wood-fiber limitatio nsilk are preferable to wool or linen. Oddly enough, loosely worn undergarments are often warmer than tight ones, as the air between the meshes is a poor conductor of heat and therefore retains the warmth of the body. This type of underclothing may be worn the year around. In cold weather wear more of the outer wraps to retain the body's heat, so that when you come indoors where it is warm, you may remove your coat or sweater to suit the temperature. For the outer garments during the cold weather there is no doubt that woolen materials are the best. It has also been found that the darker clothes allow the heat rays of the sun to penetrate better than light clothes. For this reason it is better to wear dark clothes in winter and light clothes in summer.

During the cold weather special care should be used to protect the legs and arms from cold because the limbs have many large blood vessels near the surface and if these parts become too chilled, the blood vessels are contracted and drive the blood into the internal organs, including the respiratory passages, so that colds may more readily develop.

It is better always to have your clothing so that it does not bind or constrict. Most clothes can be arranged so that they are supported from the shoulders. One should not wear tight garters or tight belts. During the warm weather the outer garments should be as light in weight as possible. If too many clothes are worn the skin is overheated and the body is fatigued.

Whenever possible, one should wear clothes which are neat and attractive. The style of your clothes might not seem to be a health problem, but it is a fact that if you are well dressed you feel a self-confidence which you never feel in shabby clothes. Correctly fitting and well chosen clothes reflect the wearer's good sense and judgment. Choosing the right clothes is therefore important from the mental as well as the physical standpoint.

Glenn A. Leavitt, baritone, rendered vocal music. The program was arranged by the president, Mrs. A. O. Evans, and first vice-president, Mrs. Charles E. Noerenberg. Mrs. Evans opened the business meeting at 1:30 p.m., when officers for the ensuing term were nominated.

Preceding the luncheon at 11 a.m., Mrs. Charles McKelvey conducted the parliamentary law class.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

COUNTRY CAPTAIN

Cut a cleaned Belgian hare into pieces for frying, dip the pieces into half a cupful of flour, that has been mixed with two level teaspoonfuls of curry powder, and one level teaspoonful of salt. Heat two tablespoonfuls of oil in a saute pan and add one large onion sliced thin and cook until the onion is clear. Remove the onion, place the hare in the pan and fry until brown on both sides. Add three cupfuls of meat stock, and the fried onion, cover tightly, and simmer until the meat is tender. Heat four tablespoonfuls of oil in a saute pan, add three onions sliced thin and a half-cupful of blanched sliced almonds, and cook until the onions are a light brown, place the cooked hare on a hot platter, draining the oil from the onions and almonds, pour the onions and almonds over the meat, line the platter with cooked rice and serve.

CUCUMBER CATSUP

Peel and slice very thin thirty full-grown cucumbers, and mix with them two large peeled and thinly sliced onions, and two cupfuls of salt, spread on a large dish and allow to stand for six hours. Drain well and squeeze them dry. Place in a large bowl, add to them half a cupful of brown sugar, one cupful of olive oil, a half-pound of mustard seed, a quarter of a pound of ground black pepper, and two pour into hot sterilized jars, seal tightly and allow to stand for six weeks before using.

LEEKS AND EGG SAUCE

Remove the tough outer leaves from two dozen leeks, cut off the roots, cut off the white part about six inches from the bottom, tie in bunches of six, cover with cold water, and allow to stand for one hour, drain, place in a saucepan, cover with boiling water, bring to a boil, add one teaspoonful of salt, and one teaspoonful of lemon juice, and boil until tender. Drain well, place in a saucepan four tablespoonfuls of butter, and allow to simmer for ten minutes, place the leeks on a serving plate, remove the strings and pour over two cupfuls of white sauce, to which have been added two chopped hard-boiled eggs.

ICED BANANA SOUP

Peel six large ripe bananas, and rub them through a sieve, measure into a saucepan, add twice the quantity of cold milk and sugar to taste, add one tablespoonful of grated orange rind, and a few grains of salt, stir and bring to a boil. Slowly pour in three tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, that has been dissolved with a little cold water, stir and cook in a double-boiler for ten minutes, strain the mixture, place in the ice box for three hours before serving. Place in consomme cups and sprinkle the top with finely chopped mint leaves.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

FOREMOST ACTOR TO PLAY HERE

Maurice Moscovitch Will Star in "Outsider" at Belasco Theater

Although a Russian by birth, Maurice Moscovitch, the distinguished actor who will begin an engagement of two weeks in "The Outsider" at the Belasco Theater Monday night, has the distinction of being one of the foremost English actors on the London stage.

Moscovitch has appeared in command performances for British royalty often and one night had the distinction of appearing before two kings, King Alfonso of Spain, who was the theater guest of the Prince of Wales, and King George and Queen Mary of England, who occupied the opposite box.

"The Outsider" was written especially for Moscovitch by Dorothy Brandon and served as his starring vehicle for nearly two years in London.

'Last Mile' Sets Precedent for Current Drama

By its brazen portrayal of prison life in the death-house, unmasked by the routine requirements of so-called good theater, "The Last Mile," which comes to the Majestic Theater Monday night has set a precedent for the drama; and for so doing, it is one of the most discussed stage vehicles in a decade.

Delicate in theme, though quite the reverse in its vivid presentation, "The Last Mile" is said to rank John Wexley, its 24-year-old author, as one of the most forceful playwrights of the day.

"The Last Mile" is being personally directed by Lillian Albertson, and its Monday night presentation at the Majestic will be replete with all the effects and details that have brought the play into such theatrical prominence.

Musical Film Announced for Warner House

With a gala midnight premiere Saturday at Warner Brothers' Theater in Hollywood, First National will offer "Bride of the Regiment," an all-Technicolor version of the New York stage musical, "Lady in Ermine."

The cast includes Vivienne Segal, Allan Prior, Walter Pidgeon, Louise Fasenda, Ford Sterling, Myrna Loy, Lupino Lane and others. The story is laid in Italy during the Austro-Italian War in 1930.

"Bride of the Regiment" contains music of the original stage piece, supplemented by songs written by studio composers. John Francis Dillon directed.

Noted Names in Benefit Show

Zeta Phi Eta will stage an ambitious and interesting program at Bovard Auditorium, University of Southern California, Friday night for the benefit of its scholarship fund. Louise Dresser and Robert Edeson will head the list of talent by presenting "While Jack Sleeps," a one-act playlet.

Charles Irwin has been secured as master of ceremonies for the evening, and others who will contribute to the program are Fifi Dorsay, Lina Basquette, the Keaging Sisters, Tommy Clifford, Yvonne Pelletier, Marie Saxon and Wilbur Evans. An event of importance will be the appearance of Joseph Cawthorne and J. Harold Murray, two stellar comedians, accompanied by William Kernell, noted composer.

TIFFANY ALSO FILMS TOLSTOY

Musical Stars Sign For Paramount's "Better Wife;" Former Majestic Leading Lady Will Appear in Talkers; Lita Chevret Signs Long Contract With R.-K.-O.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

There is to be, after all, we learn, a neck-and-neck competition in the production of Tolstoy's "Resurrection" as a talking and musical picture.

As announced yesterday, Universal is to produce the picture, the deal for its production having been consummated through arrangement with Inspiration and Edwin Carewe. Work is to be commenced about the middle of August.

And Tiffany announced yesterday, through Phil Goldstone, its head, that that organization has its plans all completed for producing the story, also as a talker and musical. Indeed Tiffany is already in preparation, with music completed by Will Jason and Val Burton and ready to be recorded in connection with the action under supervision of Al Short, head of the musical department. Many of the sets, too, are completed.

It is likely, we hear, that Goldstone himself will direct the picture, as it is known that this story is the one closest to his heart of any story he has ever undertaken to produce.

The cast is being carefully sought, Goldstone having scouts now in New York who are making screen and voice tests of all available singers who can also act and look their roles. Color photography is to be used in filming the picture.

TOM PATRICOLA LOANED TO LASKY

When "The Better Wife" goes into production at Paramount studios no less fascinating a comedian than Tom Patricola is to have the featured comic role. We are promised, too, that Patricola, who has been the light and joy of many a musical and vaudeville program during the past several years, will have a chance to exhibit some of his clever hoofing.

RUTH CHATTERTON

Fox loaned Patricola to Paramount yesterday.

Another most interesting member of the cast who will be featured is Cecil Cunningham, another noted vaudeville and musical comedy headliner, who used to entertain us at the Orpheum with her charming character studies and songs.

Juliette Compton, the clever English star of film and stage, is to have still another featured part, while Huntley Gordon, Paul Lucas and Virginia Hammond will also be in important roles.

Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook, as already announced, are cofeatured in the principal roles, and Dorothy Arzner will direct the picture, the story of which is adapted by Zoe Akins, that brilliant playwright, from Gouverneur Morris's tale.

R.-K.-O. Signs Young Actress

R.-K.-O. has acquired the services of yet another promising young actress. She is Lita Chevret, who was signed yesterday on a long-term contract to play leading roles.

LITA CHEVRET

Miss Chevret played in "The Cuckoos" with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, and made such a hit with R.-K.-O. officials, the stars, and such of the public as have seen the picture, that it was decided by the organization not to let her go. Her first assignment under her new contract is not yet announced.

Cullen Tate With Cruze

That capable young man, Cullen Tate, has been engaged by James Cruze Productions, we learn, to act as production manager for the organization. The arrangement will be in the nature of a reunion, since Mr. Tate acted as Cruze's assistant during the filming of the Wallace Reid pictures directed by Cruze for Paramount.

Dulcie Cooper With Pathe

If you chance to remember Dulcie Cooper, and of course you do if you ever saw her act at the Majestic as Edward Everett Horton's leading lady, you will be pleased to know that she is now in pictures.

DULCIE COOPER

Miss Cooper is to play a leading role with Pathe, in a picture to be announced shortly.

The months which Miss Cooper has been missing from the local stage have been most profitably spent by her in New York, where she has been playing the lead during the long run of "Courage," in which she received from the New York critics the most flattering notices.

Miss Cooper also has appeared on Broadway in other productions since she left the Majestic.

Aileen Carlyle With Fox

Aileen Carlyle, having finished her featured comedy role with First National, in Mervyn Leroy's "Broken Dishes," has returned to Fox to appear in a Spanish version of "Harmony at Home."

'MAN'S MAN' TO REOPEN PLAYHOUSE

Dwight Frye, Mae Busch and Patsy Ruth Miller in Noted Cast

Negotiations carried on for some time have resulted in the decision to reopen the Figueroa Playhouse as the scene for an extensive stage production program, involving the presentation of several New York play successes. The establishment of a popular scale of prices will be effected.

As the initial offering, "A Man's Man," by Patrick Kearney, who dramatized Theodore Dreiser's "The American Tragedy," will be presented by a cast of unusual ability, headed by Dwight Frye, who was starred in the piece during its eight months' run in New York, and including Patsy Ruth Miller and Mae Busch. The production will open at the Figueroa Playhouse on June 8.

"BE HAPPY" AT FOLLIES

The Follies is presenting a speedy burlesque show, colorfully dressed and consisting of light entertainment. "Be Happy" is the title of the attraction, which consists of ten scenes. Bumps Mack and Jim Willis provide the bulk of the comedy. Evelyn Myers and Wanda Devon are heard in new novelty numbers.

GREAT THRILLS IN AIR FEATURE

"Hell's Angels" Arrives With Dazzle

Hughes's "Folly" Turned Into Hughes's Success

Grauman Gives Spectacular Show at Chinese

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The chap who has had everybody guessing as to the outcome of his mad enterprise has won out. He proved it last evening. "Hell's Angels," Howard Hughes's epic of the air (sometimes called Hughes's "folly,") is a magnificent picture.

It opened last night at Grauman's Chinese Theater to the accompaniment of what might be termed a "four million dollar" premiere. There was never so much going on even on the merry boulevard. The street show was a sweepstakes. It took place on land and air, and had there been a Venetian grand canal extending through the cinema capital it, too, would probably have been alive with lanterned gondolas in honor of the occasion. I don't know why Hughes didn't build one as long as he was spending so much money anyway.

The biggest crowd ever, turned out on the street, and more police reserves were required to hold them in check than ever. At the Chinese itself there was the most notable audience that has probably been gathered together for any first evening.

Proceedings out in the open air began long before the stellar procession started arriving. Airplanes flew about above the heads of the milling throng and furnished a display of fireworks. Lights gleamed and flashed and wigwagged from the hillsides.

Something about it all unquestionably said that Sid Grauman was back in the show business, and the atmosphere of the premiere pervading the film playhouse, the effervescent and pictorial prologue that accompanied the feature testified definitely and unequivocally to his presence.

"Hell's Angels," without a question, got off to the most dazzling start of any production this season, for the presentation within doors and out made for that.

Regardless of all this display, though, "Hell's Angels" would have gained a conquest. After all, it is a test for any production to start its showing at 10:45, (because the program was very late in beginning) and hold an audience in thrall until approximately 1:15. More than one picture has gone down to a less to itself under the strain of this particular battle.

COURAGE DECISIVE

Hughes has evolved a surpassing thriller of aerial warfare, and he has shown an amazing courage at every point of his undertaking. He has even defied the censors here and there with situations that are hotly sensational in their human aspects. I think he overdoes these a bit at times, but there is little to find fault with outside of that.

No small amount of talk during the intermission concerned itself with the portrayals of the different characters, and the ultra-modernity of the Hughes style of feminine garb received its share of attention, particularly in a certain boudoir event.

Away from all this mere persiflage regarding "Hell's Angels" one must go to its real greatness and sincerity—the fact that nothing seemed too much to do to gain the utmost of effect, and nothing seemed too essential to sacrifice if it meant keeping the story going.

There is no feeling of overfootage in "Hell's Angels." There is a chance for some adjustments in the big air battle toward the close, in order to clarify its action here and there, but that is only a matter of a title or two.

The great scene of the explosion and burning of the Zeppelin is in itself sufficient to make "Hell's Angels" an epochal accomplishment. There is positive genius displayed in the treatment of this entire sequence.

One of the most remarkable things is that throughout the Zeppelin's attack to the very end of its demolition the German characters all speak in German. It lends a masterly touch to the realism of the entire sequence of tragically engrossing happenings.

Wherever the meaning of what they are saying might be in doubt, there is a flash of a title in English while they are talking. One gets right into the heart of the thing as a result of this—a trick borrowed from the foreign method of presenting pictures made in English, but a trick most cleverly adapted.

None the less fine in this particular aspect are the final scenes in the picture where the German and English dialogues are again intermingled at length. The tragedy gains by the crisp military inflection given the Teutonic language in contrast to that spoken by the two British soldiers.

"Hell's Angels" is a story of brother love and patriotism. It is a challenge to war, but a subdued one. It is less of an arraignment than "All Quiet on the Western Front," and is evolved along totally different lines as a story. This is theatrical, dramatic, perhaps more scenarioized, but with the keen appeal of sensation and given to spectacular events that literally blow up the place.

The bombing of a munitions factory is a tremendous bit of drama, proportioned to overwhelm with its menacing thunder. The air fighting, while it becomes a bit bewildering, is grand in its scope, and recalls a similar panoramic battle in "Wings." The crashes to earth that occur seem more deadly than any seen heretofore.

Altogether there is nothing wanting of impressiveness in this picture. It is something to see for what it offers both to eye and ear.

Greatly the eye effect is increased by the use of the enlarged screen, which gives full amplitudes to the air maneuvers.

There are enough outstanding and individual touches to this film throughout to make it of interest to the technician in pictures, as well as to the public. The motivation of the plot is not wholly unguessable, but it is often extremely original. Marshall Neilan and Joseph Moncure March are credited with the story, and the adaptation and continuity are ascribed to Howard Estabrook and Harry Behn. It was apparently a large collaboration, doubtless partly because the picture was three years in the making. Hughes is nominated the director. James Whale staged the dialogue written by March.

THREE STARS DOMINATE

The cast lists fully forty persons, but of this total number Ben Lyon, James Hall, and the newcomer, Jean Harlow, figure most largely in the plot. The individual success of the first two principals can scarcely be measured, since they evidently put their whole heart, as well as three years' work, into the picture. Lyon has the more exacting role, and consequently will garner the most laurels, because of his fine performance. His death scene alone would entitle him to that. Hall is almost equally splendid in his part. Blonde Miss Harlow will by the majority be hailed as a find in her hard, brittle portrayal of a girl who plays havoc with the two aviators and various others. A true trollop character well drawn.

Lucien Prival, notably, John Darrow, F. Schumann-Heink and others will have their praises highly sung. Prival is exceptional in the later scenes.

A whole review might be written with reference to the Grauman prologue, and a paean of praise to the aviators, technicians and photographers of "Hell's Angels," among whom Col. Roscoe Turner was introduced from the stage by Frank Fay. The Grauman prologue can perhaps be most effectively described by saying that it is one of the best that he has ever produced, and that it is a complete contrast to the picture itself. Albertina Rasch and Muriel Abbott dancers, comedy by Mitchell and Durant, Fortunello and Cirillino, acrobats, and others render it a rare mingling of entertainment, and a few numbers that need to be excised will probably be so disposed of in a day or so. At all events, it proves that Grauman retains all his flair for this sort of divertisement, and it gives the show a tang besides.

PLAYLETS ATTRACT AT THEATER MART

"False Values" Leads List of Varied Offerings on Program

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Variously entertaining in their several discursive metiers were four one-act playlets at Theater Mart.

A revelatory passage in the cryptic heart of a woman of temperamental aspiration, patterned with fine feeling for the inner perspective is "False Values," by Alice Pike Barney. A fastidious creature lost in the mazes of disillusionment, longing for sympathy and bitter by loneliness, almost succumbs to the lure of romance as offered by a sentimental youth of nearly half her own age.

Clever, sophisticated dialogue touched here and there with a wistful unworldliness distinguished the opus. The lady of amorous proclivities as portrayed by Mme. Zandah, became rather a midwest temptress, of strange Delsartian gesturings and posturings. It was uneven in performance and unreal. Robert Martin, as the youthful lover, managed a nice degree of intensity and a proper chagrin at the loss of his inamorata. Stephen Benton made a pleasing impression as the older man.

George Carter, author and actor, was responsible for a delectable hors d'ouevre in "The Upper Set," dealing mainly with teeth. Married life at best is usually no joke, but Mr. Carter managed to extract the last ounce of joy from the marriage idea.

Justina Wayne, effervesced with her accustomed celerity and George Carter was prominently cast, Gayle Evers contributed her share to the vehicle.

"Convict at Large," from the pen of Howard Lorenz, who also essayed the leading part, was passionately conceived, dealing with the shifting lights and shadows of the underworld. Kay Sheffield, Howard Lorens and Ricardo De Angelis combined their several talents.

"Chinatown Charlie," by Elmer Ohmstad, was well imagined and performed by Elmer Ohmstad, Violet Le Plante, Dorin Mayler and Douglas Griffith.

RULING UPHELD ON BOND FEES

Court of Appeals Affirms Foreclosure Verdict

Decision Affects Issues Prior to July, 1927

Action Brought in 1926 on Santa Monica Case

The District Court of Appeal has just affirmed a decision of the Superior Court of Los Angeles in the case of J. H. Sammon vs. Charles A. Wing, reciting that in an action to foreclose a street bond issued prior to July, 1927, no attorneys' fees can be collected unless a personal demand has been made upon the owner of the property.

An action was brought to foreclose the lien of a street-improvement bond issued in Santa Monica in 1926, under the Act of 1911. The case was heard before Judge Engs sitting in the county of Los Angeles. After elaborate argument and a consideration of written briefs he decided that since the complaint contained no allegation of a personal demand upon the owner of the lot no allowance could be made for attorneys' fees.

The basis of his decision is that Sec. 76, which provides for the foreclosure of delinquent street bonds is controlled in connection with the matter of attorneys' fees by Sec. 27 providing for the foreclosure of street-improvement liens, because in Sec. 76 it is provided that the bonds shall be foreclosed in the same manner as provided for the foreclosure of the lien of delinquent assesments. Noattorneys' fees can be collected in the foreclosure of a lien of delinquent assessments unless there has been a personal demand.

The bondholder appealed from the decision of Judge Engs and the District Court of Appeals of the Third District announced its decision through presiding Justice Finch affirming the decision of the Superior Court in favor of the property owner. The case was tried on behalf of the bondholder by Attorney George W. Wright, and Attorney Marshall Stimson represented the property owner.

Opera Campaign Also Waged in Other Counties

The Los Angeles Grand Opera Association this year is expanding its activities into all Southern California counties, it was announced yesterday by Merle Armitage, general manager. Committees in nearly every important Southern California city have been formed to assist in making the fall civic opera season in the Shrine Auditorium the greatest season in local operatic history.

These committees, under the sponsorship of leading citizens of the particular cities, are now engaged in a ticket campaign and each city is expected to have a representation at the various performances.

Committees already organized and their leaders are:

Glendale, Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones; Santa Monica, Mrs. Joseph Brann; Riverside, Mrs. P. T. Evans; San Bernardino, Mrs. H. M. Barton; Redlands, Mrs. Lyman King; Santa Barbara, George McLellan; San Diego, Mrs. Jack Duncanson.

Jewelry Clerk Accuses Couple of Bunko Trick

Within a few minutes after Mrs. Anna Keller was taken into custody by Detective Lieutenants Reed and Edwards of the police bunko squad yesterday on suspicion of grand theft, Harry Keller, 33 years of age, was identified by Miss Genevieve Heaten, employee of the E. B. Nicoll Jewelry Store at 747 South Hill street as the man who switched diamonds on her last March.

Keller was arrested Monday. His wife, the detectives say, acted as a stall for him. Both he and his wife deny the charges. They gave their home address as 826 South Carondolet street.

Citizens Given Signal Rights

The ordinance which permits citizens to operate the pedestrian signal push buttons was adopted yesterday by the City Council.

It was found necessary to do this, as the traffic ordinance at present denies the right to control traffic to anyone other than a policeman or one authorized by the Chief of Police.

WOMAN FLYER WILL SURVEY DERBY COURSE

Mrs. Florence Lowe Barnes, wealthy San Marino aviatrix, who maintains three Travelair biplanes at the Metropolitan airport for her personal use, will hop off soon over the proposed Agua Caliente-Chicago route for the women's air derby to be held in connection with the national air races. Mrs. Barnes participated in the derby last year and was among the leaders when forced out by an accident to her plane. She will be among the first to enter the race this year. Mrs. Barnes recently returnad from a flight to Mexico City made in one of her planes. She is reported to be the first woman to make this difficult aerial journey alone.

CAMPUS WILL ISSUE HISTORICAL EDITION

A special historical edition of the Daily Trojan, campus newspaper at the University of Southern California, will be issued tomorrow in recognition of the year 1930 marking the fiftieth anniversary of the institution. It will contain an augmented news edition, as well as a six-page rotogravure section, according to Ralph Flynn, editor-in-chief. A symposium on what the next fifty years will bring to the university will appear. The paper will be distributed gratis.

CACTUS SHOW POINTERS GIVEN

First Annual Affair Opens Tomorrow

Among Well-Defended Exhibits for Event
Elinor Courtney and Margaret Mortensen with cactus specimens.

THOUSANDS of cactus enthusiasts are expected to attend the first annual Cactus and Succulent Show which will open at the Ambassador Hotel auditorium tomorrow and continue through Sunday. The exhibit is sponsored by the Cactus and Succulent Society of America, of which R. E. Willis and Boyd Sloane are president and secretary, respectively. J. A. Ekdom will be manager of the show.

According to Mr. Willis, many rare specimens of cacti and succulents from various parts of the world will be on display. Some of the plants will be in blossom.

"The public, generally, does not seem to realize the tremendous interest being taken by thousands of persons in growing and experimenting with cacti, nor the great commercial possibilities of the plants," said Mr. Willis. "It is not generally known that 50,000 homes in Los Angeles have cactus gardens and rockeries.

"Growing interest in cacti has been caused largely by dissemination of the knowledge that these plants not only are exceptionally beautiful for landscaping purposes, but that from them can be manufactured candies, syrups, liquors, strong ropes and cords and many medicinal liquids."

POISONING TALE SENT BY PLANE

Confession of Woman on Death of Idahoan in 1913 Forwarded to Officers

Details of the confession of Mrs. Margaret Norman Anderson that she poisoned her husband seventeen years ago were dispatched by air mail last night to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, in response to a request received by Detective Lieutenant Stevens from authorities of that city. Stevens yesterday received a wire from Prosecuting Attorney Knudsen of Coeur d'Alene stating that "the death of John Schmerr is being investigated. Will telegraph instructions immediately on receipt of confession."

Mrs. Anderson, 51 years of age, appeared voluntarily before police Monday and told them that in March, 1913, she had killed Schmeer, who was her husband at that time. She added that his death is recorded in Coeur d'Alene as a suicide. Goaded by a guilty conscience, she said, she resolved to confess.

DAUGHTER OF SENATOR WILL ENROLL AT S.C.

Arrangements to enter the University of Southern California next fall have just been made for Miss Maxine Adams, daughter of United States Senator and Mrs. W. Lloyd Adams of Rexburg, Idaho, who is to be presented at the Court of St. James tonight. Miss Adams has been attending Miss Yoder's School near Florence, Italy, during the past year, and will return to the United States in July. Miss Yoder formerly was dean of the school of speech, University of Southern California. Senator Adams is editor of the Rexburg Standard.

HUNDREDS OF WOMEN TO JOIN IN PLAY DAY

Five hundred Los Angeles women will forget household cares for a day and take part in a huge "play day" at Griffith Playground, beginning at 10 a.m. today, under the leadership of Mrs. Mildren Van Werden, director of women's activities in the Playground and Recreation Department. Marching, folk dancing, relay races and games will occupy the interest of the women during the morning. Following a picnic lunch and community singing, they will take part in golf, tennis, swimming and other sports during the afternoon.

Board Clears Junk Dealer

Isaac Iggiewitz, junk dealer of Thirty-second street and Central avenue, was exonerated by the Police Commission yesterday, after a hearing a week ago on a citation to show cause why his permit should not be revoked on the ground that an employee had purchased stolen silverware and failed to report it to the police.

Attorneys introduced evidence that Iggiewitz, "a fine Jew of high character, was attending Passover services when the silverware was purchased and knew nothing of it until several days afterward."

The commission dismissed the case with the warning that recurrence of a similar charge will end his permit. The commission left it up to Iggiewitz what to do regarding the employee who purchased silverware, valued at $60, for 75 cents.

OFFICE OF MAGAZINE ROUGHLY RANSACKED

The office of the King's Business, a magazine published in the Bible Institute at 540 South Hope street, was thoroughly ransacked early yesterday morning by burglars, who obtained $651 in checks and $24 in cash. Desks and files were pried open and their contents scattered about. The report of the theft was made to police by Miss M. Landrin, book-keeper.

INCREASE IN CRIME FOUGHT

More Purse Snatching and Robberies Reported as Police Redouble Their Efforts

With five more cases of purse snatching from women swelling the total for the last six days to nearly thirty, and almost a score of robberies of banks, stores, service stations and pedestrians still unsolved, Deputy Chief Cros yesterday took stringent measures to combat the sudden increase in crime.

Deputy Cross issued orders to all division commanders to use all available men and motor equipment in the work of apprehending the various pairs of purse snatchers who have been operating in all parts of the city for the last week.

NUMBER OF VICTIMS

Victims of purse snatchers Monday evening included Mrs. J. A. Johnson, held up in front of her home at 310 South Thomas street and robbed of her purse containing $20; Mrs. P. Humphrey of 1116 North Mariposa avenue, robbed of $4 at Normandie avenue and Santa Monica Boulevard; Mrs. E. W. Anderson of 632 North New Hampshire avenue, robbed of a purse containing a $15 pearl necklace in front of 570 North Alexandria street; Mrs. Henrietta Schelling of 4617 Compton avenue, whose purse, containing $28 in cash and a necklace valued at $25, was taken from her by three negroes at Lima street and Vernon avenue, and Miss Ella W. King of 823 South Union avenue, held up at Spence and Hollenbeck streets and robbed of her purse containing a $30 watch and a small sum of money.

During the same hours proprietors of a drug store and a service station, and two pedestrians were held up and robbed. I. Gray reported he was robbed by a bandit in a pharmacy at 2825 West Pico street of $100 in cash and then locked in a rest room. The bandit before he departed waited on several customers, Gray said.

OTHERS ROBBED

Two bandits who held up Charles M. Lee in the Mutual service station at 3626 South Main street, compelled Lee to lie on the floor while they plundered the cash register of $40.

Robert O'Higgins of 1314 West Seventieth street reported he was sitting on a bench at Florence avenue and Broadway when two auto bandits forced him into their car, drove him to an out-of-the-way spot and robbed him of $30.

As he walked by Eleventh avenue and Montclair streets Isaac Weiser stated he was set upon by two pedestrian bandits who leaped at him from behind bushes, robbed him of $2 and then threatened to kill him if he followed them.

BOARD NAMES NEW INQUIRER

S. F. "Nick" Carter Chosen by Police Commission

Thomas James's Resignation Previously Accepted

Politics Said by Latter to be Forcing Action

Effective next Monday, S. F. "Nick" Carter, acting detective-lieutenant of the Hollywood division, will become chief investigator for the Police Commission, which yesterday unanimously accepted the resignation of Thomas F. James, who has held the office since shortly after the first of the year. James is slated for return to duty as a police officer at the Seventy-seventh street division.

Carter, who joined the police department about the same time as Chief of Police Steckel, was seriously injured several years ago as a motorcycle officer and took up the study of chiropractic. Recovering from his injuries he was restored to the department as a detective.

James, former traffic officer at Seventh street and Broadway, became one of Mayor Porter's investigators under the new administration and later was transferred to chief investigation for the commission with the title of acting captain. He is a close friend of Carlin G. Smith, candidate last year for Mayor, and was one of the chief boosters for Charles W. Burke when the latter sought a job as reorganizer of the police department.

For more than a week rumors in the City Hall had it that James was to be shifted and he admitted that "certain persons were working hard against him."

His resignation, couched in the following terms, was accepted on motion of Commissioner Drake, seconded by Commissioner Wehn:

"Political events of the past year, coupled with conditions arising as the result of the appointment to my present position, make it imperative that I request a transfer in the department from your honorable body.

"In requesting leave from my present duties I desire to thank each member of the Police Commission for the hearty co-operation accorded me in my work, and I assure you I have performed my duties to the best of my judgment at all times to serve the administration, being conversant with its policies."

Selection of Carter for the job was on motion of Wehn, seconded by Maj. Walkup. The work consists of making a full report on the character and circumstances of all applicants seeking favorable action from the Police Commission.

LLOYD SEEKS DOG POISONER

fits. The stomach of the animal is now in the hands of the city chemist for analysis. A report is expected today. The city chemist also has a specimen from the stomach of Lloyd's dog.

The third dog was a dachshund belonging to Charles Bennett of San Mateo. Bennett, according to Dr. McKenna, reported at the time that the dog was subject to fright fits. Dr. McKenna is positive this dog died from natural causes. A German shepherd dog also died during the show from natural causes, according to Dr. McKenna. Bradshaw stated these dogs died before they reached the bench.

From what was learned yesterday three other dogs were taken ill. These, it was reported, were treated by Dr. Charles H. Reid, 5625 Sunset Boulevard. Dr. Reid would not be quoted yesterday. One of the dogs is a Doberman, the other a Pekingese and the third a Great Dane pup, owned by H. W. Hollingsworth of Beverly Hills.

The Hollingsworth dog became ill during the show, which started last Saturday and closed Sunday, and was immediately given an emetic. At the Willow Run Kennels in North Hollywood, attendants said they believed the dog's illness was caused by poison, but declined to name the poison.

From his long experience in the dog-show business, Bradshaw said he is confident none of the dogs was poisoned during the show.

"Harold Lloyd's dog left the show in good condition and arrived at its kennel in the same shape, McGuire told me," Bradshaw said yesterday. "There is absolutely no evidence to indicate any of the dogs was poisoned at the show. If such was the case, I would be the last person in the world to stand in the way of any sort of investigation. But the facts in the case in no way indicate such is true."

Dr. McKenna was also firm in his opinion that none of the dogs was administered poison during the show.

A. C. Robbins Plans to Marry Chicago Woman

Albert C. Robbins, 63 years of age, member of the automobile firm of Greer-Robbins, Inc., yesterday filed notice of intention to wed Mrs. Anna Grace Fulton, 41, of 547 Addison street, Chicago.

Although the wedding will take place in Chicago, a provision of the Illinois law makes it necessary for nonresidents of that State to comply with the marriage license requirements of the State in which they live.

Robbins lives at 3278 Wilshire Boulevard.

PLANE LINKS AIRPORTS

Daily airplane shuttle service yesterday was inaugurated between two of the Southland's leading airports when a Curtiss-Wright Flying Service monoplane, piloted by a cadet flyer, flew from Los Angeles Airport near Inglewood to Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale. Only fifteen minutes by air, the twenty-three miles through heavy vehicular traffic below ordinarily requires from one and a half to two hours. The service is daily, except Sunday, and is used as a medium of exchanging memoranda, departmental notes, packages and mail.

LICENSING MECHANICS GOES OVER

Mayor Returns Ordinance to Council Asking That it Hear Complainants

The flood of protests against the ordinance proposing to regulate and license automobile mechanics caused Mayor Porter yesterday afternoon to withhold his signature and to return the measure to the City Council for further consideration.

Mayor Porter said he declined to sign the ordinance at this time because he believes the Council should be given an opportunity to listen to complainants asking for changes.

The ordinance was taken to the Council by the Board of Mechanical Engineers. As explained by Louis Duni, president, and C. E. McGinnis, general manager, the purpose of the ordinance is to put a stop to fly-by-night garages and mechanics who do inferior work and make excessive charges.

The board contemplates conducting examinations and licensing mechanics in four grades, as master, journeyman, apprentice and specialist. A charge will be made to finance the examinations. Complaints against the work of a mechanic, they said, if proved, will result in the revocation of his license. There are about 10,000 mechanics in the city, according to Duni and McGinnis.

Mei Lan-Fang to Get Degree at Pomona College

Mei Lan-Fang, Chinese actor, who delighted audiences here during the past two weeks with his exotic art, is to receive recognition at the hands of Pomona College at Claremont this afternoon at the monthly convocation. He will be presented for a doctor of letters degree by Dr. Kenneth Duncan, professor of economics, who formerly was a dean of Lingnan University at Canton. The degree will be conferred by President Charles K. Edmunds, who himself spent more than twenty years in China in educational and scientific work.

According to President Edmunds, Mei Lan-Fang is more than an actor of renown; he is a student of Chinese dramatic literature and by his researches and adaptations has greatly advanced both Chinese and American appreciation of the ancient art of China.

The convocation will be conducted at 4:30 p.m. The chief address will be made by Rev. Luther Freeman, D.D., of Pomona, who formerly was pastor of the American Church in Shanghai.

Woman Escapes From Attacker After Struggle

While assailants who brutally attacked three women in the last week were still being sought by police, a fourth case was reported yesterday by Mrs. Lorene Rogers of 622 North New Hompshire avenue.

She said that a few minutes after she left her home late Monday evening a young man approached her and, after making an insulting remark, grabbed her about the waist and sought to drag her into a vacant lot. Fighting desperately, she succeeded in breaking his hold when her coat tore in two. She ran to a near-by drug store and notified police.

The suspect, described as about 18 years of age, dressed in white striped shirt and light trousers, bareheaded and carrying a book, vanished before the police arrived.

Oil Debt Suit in Judge's Hands

Following the close of the trial of the suit of E. L. Pauley and E. W. Pauley, oil company executives, against the Italo Petroleum Corporation for an asserted debt of $196,687, Superior Judge Smith yesterday took his decision under submission.

It was asserted the debt was incurred in the sale of stock of the Eureka Petroleum Corporation by the Pauleys wherein the Italo concern got complete control of the corporation. In answer, the Italo Petroleum Corporation said the assets of the Eureka Corporation were misrepresented at the time the stock was sold.

Diamond Rings Alienate Couple

Ralph P. Hartley, automobile mechanic, forcibly took two diamond rings from the fingers of his wife, Mrs. Beatrice L. Hartley, and left her, according to her testimony before Superior Judge Archbald yesterday when granted a divorce.

Hartley had filed an answer to his wife's complaint in which he declared she gave a diamond ring, belonging to him, to a man friend named Morris.

The couple married on June 13, 1929, and separated on October 18, 1929. Mrs. Hartley was formerly a teacher of physical culture.

POLICE SEEK MOTHER IN ADOPTION MOVE

Appeal was made yesterday by police juvenile authorities for Mrs. Queenie Bonnelli to communicate with them so that they may allow the adoption of a 2-year-old boy who they said, was abandoned by Mrs. Bonnelli six months ago. Fifteen persons are willing to adopt the child, Policewoman Proffitt stated, but none can do so until a release is obtained from the mother. The latter will not be prosecuted, Mrs. Proffitt promised, if she appears. The baby was left in the care of Mrs. Bernice Johnson at 1529 East One Hundred and Third street. Six months ago the mother vanished, and Mrs. Johnson put him in charge of the police.

BABY PLANE HIS VEHICLE

Flyer to Try for New World's Record

Small But Mighty

Clarence C. Prest, San Bernardino pilot, with ship made at Arlington.

SAN BERNARDINO, May 27.—Flying a plane weighing but 430 pounds and equipped with a forty-horsepower motor, Clarence O. Prest will attempt to set a new world's speed flight mark tomorrow for ships of the "baby type."

Prest, one of the pioneer pilots of the West, will fly along a 100-kilometer course over Base Line, from a point near Highlands to the San Bernardino-Los Angeles county line. The flight will be timed by Joe Nikrent, representing the National Aeronautical Association and the Federation Aeronautical International.

Prest's ship, the Baby Pursuit, which he built himself at his factory at Arlington, is unique, both in design and performance. It has a top speed of nearly 100 miles an hour, carries but eight gallons of gasoline, and is capable of all the acrobatics performed with the Army's pursuit-type ships. A monoplane, it has a wing spread of twenty-four feet and is but eighteen feet in length.

The existing record for ships of its type is held by C. Fauvel, a French pilot, who flew a Mauboussin-Peyret 86.8 miles an hour at Le Bourget flying field near Paris, on September 4, 1929. Prest is confident that his plane will establish a mark of ninety-five miles an hour or better over the 100-kilometer course (62.136 miles,) which was surveyed by County Surveyor Howard L. Way. The course follows Base Line, the United States Geological Survey line in Southern California. The flight will be made between 8 and 9 o'clock in the morning.

Only Three Voters in Election

VENTURA, May 27.—California's smallest annexation election took place in Ventura today.

Only three persons were eligible to vote, and the territory in question was a pie-shaped piece of land just 300 feet long and 100 feet across the front.

It is known as the Willard Tract and is the east side of Ventura avenue, immediately north of the city limits.

As the result of State election laws, the three voters each had to serve as an election officer, and were obliged to keep the polls open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. today.

Edward J. Willard was inspector, Mrs. Nora Willard, judge, and Mrs. Cora Willard, clerk. All three had voted for annexation by 9 o'clock this morning, according to City Clerk Ruth Mellandt, who visited the polling place at 826 North Ventura avenue to see that the officers had taken their oaths and that the election was running smoothly.

FOUR WOMEN INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

TORRANCE, May 27.—Two women were seriously injured and two other occupants escaped with minor bruises when an automobile in which they were riding turned over after plunging into a power pole at Hawthorne and Emerald streets here yesterday.

The impact almost cut the pole in two. The most seriously injured are Mrs. Fay Clark of Sawtelle, driver of the car, whose arms were broken and left leg fractured, and Mrs. F. Oberton of Barstow, who sustained a fractured jaw and lacerations. Both are at the Torrance Memorial Hospital. The two others in the car did not require medical attention.

Students Pick Leaders for School Sports

REDLANDS, May 27.—Eight initiates were taken into the Redlands High School "R" Club today. Elections were also held for basketball, track and baseball captains. Art Fisher, star hurler, was elected to lead the Terrier track forces next year. The basketball captain will be Carl Bauer and Charles Bruchart was picked baseball head.

"R" Club officers selected for the coming year were: Louis (Bus) Hahn, president; Halley Jonnson, vice-president, and Wesley Griffith, secretary-treasurer.

To be eligible for membership in the "R" Club one must have earned a letter in a major sport. The current crop from the track and baseball first-year letter winners includes Art Fisher, Chuck Bruchart, Paul Osborne, Nick Pune, Herb Wiles, Ed Brooks and Wran.

"Scum week" will be in effect at the high school next week, during which time those initiated will be forced to obey al ldictates of the older members.

Hyde Heads Secretaries' Association

TORRANCE, May 27.—Carl Hyde, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, was chosen president of the Southern California Secretaries' Association at the annual meeting in Avalon, Catalina Island, over the week-end.

Other officers elected are Burl Martin, Whittier, first vice-president; Carl Bush, Hollywood, second vice-president; Charles P. Bayer, Los Angeles, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the arvisory council of the association include J. H. Chambers of Santa Maria; John Wallace, Ventura; Harrison Elliott, Bakersfield; Rey Beaton, San Pedro; George Raymer, Santa Ana; Earl Porter, Riverside; Pansy Cleggett, Escondido; Leo Watts, Calexico; A. E. Isham, Redlands.

The June meeting of the association will be held in Chula Vista.

Venice Woman Ends Her Life

VENICE, May 27.—Mrs. David E. Goodwin, 60 years of age, committed suicide at her home, 632-A Sunset avenue, Venice, by taking a poisonous disinfectant last night, according to a police report here. She was rushed to the General Hospital in Los Angeles when her niece, Mrs. E. H. Kelsey, learned of her act on hearing Mrs. Goodwin cry: "I have taken poison!" She died in the ambulance on the way to the hospital.

Police Officer Gets Promotion

REDONDO BEACH, May 27.—Jack Smith has been appointed night desk sergeant here, to take the place of Sergt. Beebe, who resigned after fourteen years of service with the department.

Smith, who takes the rank of sergeant, is a former member of the force, having resigned some months ago.

FIVE HURT IN CRASHES

Imperial Valley Highway Scene of Series of Automobile Accidents

INDIO, May 27.—The Imperial Valley highway through Coachella Valley, although known as one of the most dangerous stretches of road in Southern California, has been remarkably free from accidents for several months past until yesterday when five persons were injured in three crashes.

Edward Suderman and Stanford Downey of Pasadena were en route to the Imperial Valley late yesterday afternoon when Suderman, who was driving, went to sleep at the wheel near Coachella. The car ran off the road and tipped over, pinning both men beneath it.

They were rendered unconscious and while in this condition, another party of travelers robbed their car of everything in it. Suderman regained consciousness just as the men were loading the stolen goods into their car and called for aid but the men finished loading and drove down the highway. Other motorists finally extricated the two men and they were brought to the Coachella Valley Hospital, where it was found Stanford was suffering from a broken leg and possible internal injuries. Suderman received cuts and bruises.

Henry Yoon, a Chinese vegetable dealer of Los Angeles, is in the local hospital, also suffering from a broken leg and internal injuries following a crash on the highway near Edom. He was riding yesterday on a truck driven by R. A. Moore of Imperial Valley, when, in attempting to pass another truck parked on the highway, he ran into it, smashing his truck and throwing Yoon for some distance into the road. Moore was not seriously injured.

Mrs. Max Goldberg of Compton was driving west from Imperial Valley last night when a large truck going in the opposite direction forced her car from the highway into the soft desert sand where it turned over. Mrs. Goldberg was brought to the local hospital by passing motorists, where she is said to be in a serious condition from shock, cuts and bruises.

DR. M'CRACKEN ELECTED

Fresno Man Chosen as Head of Osteopaths at State Convention in Session at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, May 27.—Dr. Frank E. McCracken of Fresno is slated for the presidency of the California Osteopathic Association, now in convention at Hotel del Coronado, it was indicated today by report of the nominating committee. Selections of the committee will be submitted to the convention at the formal election of officers tomorrow afternoon. At present Dr. McCracken is vice-president of the organization. The nominating committee picked Dr. Errol V. King of Riverside, now program chairman, for the vice-presidency, and renominated Dr. C. B. Rowlinson of Los Angeles, incumbent, for secretary-treasurer.

Considerable sentiment favoring Del Monte for next year's convention site was evident today. The 1931 location will be chosen tomorrow afternoon.

California osteopaths favor a eugenic-marriage law for this State, Dr. Edward B. Jones, osteopathic staff member of the Los Angeles County General Hospital, said today. "Some twelve or fourteen States now have social hygiene law relative to marriage," he asserted. "For instance, Oregon requires a medical examination for the male party to a marriage contract."

The present three-day "gin marriage law" in California is an approach to eugenic marriage legislation, Dr. Jones believes.

Dr. Charles H. Spencer of Los Angeles, well known for his work in treating athletes suffering from sprains and similar injuries, asserted his belief that osteopathic manipulation is better for this type of hurt than the old-time splints and mustard plasters, Dr. Spencer said in an address this morning.

In the last thirty years Dr. Spencer has treated with success many major-league baseball players, football players and acrobatic dancers, he stated.

Boat rides and an automobile trip to Point Loma, where a glider exhibition was staged, were enjoyed this afternoon. Fraternity and sorority banquets were held at 7 p.m.

ECONOMY PROGRAM AT CHAFFEY

Recent Bond Defeat Causes School Board to Make New Plans

ONTARIO, May 27.—A program of educational curtailment to give Chaffey Union High School District sufficient funds with which to go ahead with plans to erect a junior college building was launched here today, following a meeting of the board of trustees.

The board voted to discontinue the junior high school system and let it revert back to the old method. Other departments in Chaffey's system will be cut, it was declared following the meeting. This cut may be felt in the day and night courses, now heavily patronized by adults and school students of various ages.

An architect was authorized to draw plans and specifications for the junior college building, which is to be erected at the corner of Fifth street and Euclid avenue. The first unit of the junior college building will be put up this summer, and the other unit next year, according to present plans.

The present program of junior college building was adopted by the trustees when the $450,000 bond issue was defeated a second time this month. The bond issue would have provided an expansion of Chaffey's system throughout the district, including Fontana and Upland. A 50-cent tax is to be levied for the purpose of building the junior college structure.

Yacht Owner in Plucky Battle With Angry Sea

SANTA BARBARA, May 27.—Following nearly a twelve hour battle with tremendous seas around Point Concepcion, Charles D. Boynton of the San Diego Yacht Club in the 45-foot power cruiser, Chalice, finally rounded the great continental headland on a second try, after midnight this morning, according to officials of the local yacht club.

Boynton with his wife and two other friends left the harbor early yesterday morning on their way up the coast in their power boat. They were caught in the heavy seas beating around Point Concepcion in the late morning and early afternoon, and the boat was nearly swamped.

Huge waves washed the deck of the boat and broke over the smoke stack of the seaworthy craft on occasions. The boat nearly foundered, but was finally brought back in the harbor under its own power after a twelve hour battle with the waves.

The party left again in the early hours of today, considered more favorable time for rounding the two continental headlands, points Concepcion and Arguello.

Field Workers Demand Pay

COACHELLA, May 27.—James Reeves of Bakersfield, an onion harvest contractor, is being sought today on a charge of fraud following a riot last night on the Dave Thomas ranch near here, in which about twenty-five Mexican onion packers took part.

According to the Mexicans, Reeves had been complaining for several days about their grading of the onions. They said that when they went to get their pay last night they found Reeves had gone, but had left checks with his wife for only a small part of what was due them. They could not find Reeves so started to tear up things about the place and raised such a rumpus that a call was sent in to Deputy Sheriff Ben De Crevecoeur, here, who quieted the men after considerable difficulty and made out a complaint against Reeves, who is said to have left the country.

SYNDICALISM JURY STILL INCOMPLETE

EL CENTRO, May 27.—After two days of controversy between attorneys, the jury which is to hear the case against T. Horrichi and nine fellow-defendants, accused in grand jury indictments of criminal syndicalism, was still incomplete late this afternoon.

The complaints against the men allege that they conspired to disrupt the harvesting of the Imperial Valley melon crop by force and destruction, and sought to break down the organized agencies of government. The case is being heard by Judge Vaughn Thompson of the Superior Court.

Following the opening of the trial yesterday, Dist.-Atty. Elmer Heald secured the dismissal of the complaints against two of the defendants, F. Funes and R. Brissenden, with the explanation that they were to be used by the State as witnesses.

Those on trial are Danny Roxas, Lawrence Emery, Edward Herrera, Oscar Ericson, Emilio Alonso, Braulio Orozco, H. Hall, Kaye Mathews, Frank Spector and Horrichi. All except Spector have been in the County Jail, unable to raise the $15,000 bond fixed by the court.

Redlands to Pay Tribute to Hero Dead

REDLANDS, May 27. — Redlands business houses will be closed all day Friday and the entire city will observe a holiday Memorial Day. It will be a quiet celebration here, featured by decoration of the graves of the hero dead in Hillside Cemetery and by a parade and memoral service.

The parade is in charge of the American Legion and will form at the Casa Loma Hotel at 8:15 with the Legion drum corps and fraternal organizations taking part. The parade will move at 8:30 and at 9 o'clock the services will be held in the bowl, with the Spanish War Veterans in charge.

The first principal feature of the program will be a flag-raising ceremony in charge of the Spanish War Veterans. American Legion buglers will participate and the Redlands High School Band will play "Star Spangled Banner." Lincoln's Gettysburg address will be recited by Billy Van Leuven, high school youth.

The University of Redlands male quartet, known as the Vagabond Four, will sing "America the Beautiful."

Presentation of the Redlands Community Hospital memorial fund project will be made by A. E. Isham, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. He will refer to the attempt that is being made this Memorial Day to obtain enough funds to endow a charity bed at the Community Hospital, which would be available to the poor in the name of the American Legion.

Commander Munson of the department of California, United Spanish War eVterans, will deliver the principal address. Music and the benediction will end the program.

Resignation of Police Chief Causes Rumors

EL CENTRO, May 27.—Sterling Oswalt, Chief of Police here for the past four years, has been suspended from duty pending action of the City Board of Trustees on his resignation, which been in the hands of board members for several days, according to information confirmed today.

Police Commissioner Fred Gianola refused to comment on the matter, except to verify the report that Oswalt has been relieved from duty temporarily and that final disposition of the case probably would be made by the trustees at their next meeting on June 4.

Oswalt has been sick for the past two months and it is understood that illness was given as the reason for the resignation. Members of the board were noncommittal regarding rumors that the conduct of the office is also an issue in the matter. No charges have been filed against the Chief, it was stated.

Conduct of the police department was criticised during the city election in April, but men who were believed to be friendly to Oswalt's administration were elected. Capt. Frank McCaslin is acting as head of the department during Oswalt's suspension.

PASADENA, May 27.—The Pasadena dog show, which will be held in a large tent at Colorado and Hudson streets for two days, starting Friday, June 6, is expected to be one of the largest of its kind ever held in Southern California, according to Dr. Frank Porter Miller, president of the Pasadena Kennel Club, sponsoring the canine exhibit. It is expected that the number of entries will be more than 1000, surpassing any number entered during any of the eighteen previous dog shows in Pasadena.

The entries to the show will close tonight, according to Frank Foster Davis, secretary.

NOTED CHINESE HIGH FLYERS

Orientals Try American Air Transport

On Visit to San Diego

SAN DIEGO, May 27.—Three outstanding representatives of modern China, a statesman an educator and an artist, made a short visit T.A.T.-Maddux Air Lines plane this here today. They arrived on the morning from Los Angeles and returned via the same route this evening. Their local visit was semi-official in nature.

Dr. E. P. Chang is a world-famous statesman and is renowned for his refusal to accept the Presidency of China, when it was offered to him. Prof. Chi of the University of Tient-tsin, the educator is probably the most famous teacher and student of China today. Mei Lan-Fang is acknowledged as the foremost Chinese actor—and strangely enough is best-known professionally for his impersonations of women.

All three gentlemen understand the English language, although only Dr. Chang attempts to say much in the speech of this country. Dr. Chang, however, is exceptionally fluent and his English is delightfully precise and correct.

"Primarily ours is a good-will tour," said Dr. Chang, "although we are accompanying Mei Lan-Fang on his professional tour. He is appearing in only four cities, and then only upon invitation, with a result that we have been entertained royally everywhere by both civic officials and commercial bodies. We are grateful indeed."

Questioned about the reception given the artistry of Mei Lan-Fang, Dr. Chang stated, "the audiences everywhere have been wonderfully kind. They have reacted to his artistry, and even though not understanding his language, they surely seemed to appreciate his pantomime. Mei Lan-Fang has only pleasant memories of his professional appearances in the States."

In San Diego, as in other cities, these eminent Chinese students were entertained semiofficially. They were escorted throughout the city, and all three of them showed an amazing knowledge of early California history and local historical landmarks.

Their itinerary compelled their return to Los Angeles, and they flew back on the afternoon T.A.T.-Maddux plane.

SAUGUS, May 27.—There is on exhibition at the McCain ranch in Bouquet Canyon, seven miles above here, a white wildcat. One of the ranchmen found three baby wildcats. Two of them were of normal color but the third was entirely white with the exception of black ears and tail. The young animal is the first of the sort ever seen in this section.

CITY PREPARED FOR EMERGENCY

"Mobilization" at Pasadena Proves Success

Legionnaires Gather in Less Than Five Minutes

Famous Sprinter Makes New Speed Record

PASADENA, May 27.—Less than five minutes after the roar of army signal bombs warned local residents at 6:30 p.m. yesterday that a "disaster" had occurred, 518 of this city's 800 Legionnaires had dropped their soup spoons and reported for active duty at one or another of fifty-six stations.

The trial mobilization proved the value of the Legion emergency organization plan adopted by Pasadena Post, No. 13, a year ago, according to Alfred Theurich, chairman of the Legion's emergency committee, and may result in adoption of the plan throughout the United States.

"In the event of serious fires, civil disorder or other emergency," Theurich asserted, "the wonderful response of the veterans last night shows that more than 500 trained and patriotic men could be mobilized here at a moment's notice."

Living up to his sobriquet, "the world's fastest human," Charles Paddock, former Olympic champion sprinter, was the first to report his emergency squad present. He ran from the dinner table at his South Madison-avenue home to the police box at California street and Lake avenue in exactly forty-eight seconds.

One of the Legion's seventy-six doctor members was in the act of snipping off an appendix when the bombs burst in front of the six local fire stations. He reported twenty minutes late and his patient was reported in fine condition today.

There is one boy who is happy that R. L. Daugherty, chairman of the Board of City Directors, declared a civic emergency to exist at exactly 6:30 p.m. In the words of Legionnaire Tom Heller of 1051 South Pasadena avenue, "I had the old hair brush all ready to spank Tom, Jr., but just then the bombs exploded and the boy escaped a spanking."

At the police station, reports of the emergency organization lieutenants and sergeants were received by Albert Engvall, commander of Post No. 13, and R. M. McCurdy, Legion fourth-area commander. Mayor Michaels of Santa Monica and police and fire officials of the beach city were interested spectators.

While Legionnaires of Post No. 13 were assembling, a similar mobilization demonstration was given by 165 members of the Lamanda Park Legion post.

W. O. Kelley, chairman of the Lamanda Park emergency committee, reported that nine airplanes, twelve horses and thirty-two trucks were made available for emergency use within five minutes.

A few loyal wives reported for husbands who were out of the city, including Mrs. Harold Landreth, whose husband is in Sacramento, where he is serving as secretary to Gov. C. C. Young.

In order to keep this city's peacetime soldiers on their toes, an annual mobilization will be staged, it was revealed today by Commander Engvall of Post No. 13.

Glendale Man Free of Guilt in Murder Case

GLENDALE, May 27.—Carl Champion, 624 Western avenue, who was arrested six weeks ago in connection with the murder of an Indianapolis officer, is on his way to Oklahoma today, cleared of any connection with the crime, according to information received here today.

Champion and Thomas J. McNight of Tulsa, Okla., were arrested on a charge of murdering Paul Miller, a policeman, and were taken to Indianapolis, after Sanford Satterfield, now a prisoner in the Oklahoma penitentiary, had implicated them in the crime. In spite of Champion's alibi that he was in Oklahoma at the time of the murder he was extradited and taken to Indiana to stand trial, along with McNight.

Under questioning of a deputy State's Attorney, who sought to gain additional information from Satterfield linking the two men with the murder, the prisoner broke down and admitted that his statements concerning both men were false. The prosecution at once moved to dismiss the case against Champion and McNight.

Champion's wife and children moved to Oklahoma immediately after his arrest, but they will return to Glendale shortly after he rejoins them there.

Experts Begin Water Survey

UPLAND, May 27.—E. D. Stafford, State hydraulic engineer, and Harold Conklin, assistant State engineer, met with a group of Upland and Ontario officials today as the first step in launching an ambitious program of flood-control and water conservation.

A survey of Cucamonga water basin is under way and engineers are figuring costs of various types of flood-control dams.

Meeting with State engineers were A. C. Reynolds, secretary of San Antonio Water Company and chairman of the water-conservation committee; Austin Burt, Royal V. Ward, Ralph Shoemaker and John Klusman.

They were named on the committee recently by C. E. Grier of Upland, chairman of the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors.

BLUEFIN TUNA LURE SAN DIEGO FISHERMEN

SAN DIEGO, May 27.—Purse-seine fishermen today prepared to put to sea following word that bluefin tuna had appeared on Thirty-five Mile Bank, southwest of Point Loma.

With the annual appearance of the elusive fish reported, one of the great unsolved mysteries of the Pacific is recalled to mind.

Annually the bluefin appear in large numbers during the summer months and then disappear completely. Where they come from and where they go is an unanswered question. Local canneries are hopefully preparing for delivery of the season's first local catch.

City Officials Honor Memory of C. H. Brown

SANTA MONICA, May 27.—With Mayor Michel, city commissioners and prominent citizens acting as honorary pallbearers, funeral services for Charles H. Brown, who died suddenly from a heart attack last Sunday at his home, 2447 Fourth street, Ocean Park, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 from the Masonic Temple, Santa Monica Boulevard and Tenth street, with Masonic rites. Rev. Edwin J. Bradner will officiate.

"Harmony" Brown, as he was known during his twenty-six years of active political and business life here, was 72 years of age. He ran unsuccessfully for the office of Mayor a number of times, but was regarded as a highly successful leader in various public enterprises. He was first active in Venice in the real-estate field, and later moved to Ocean Park. He was one of the organizers of the crusade two years ago against "beach gambling" concessions. Recently he directed his efforts against certain phases of the proposed oil-drilling in this city.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Rose Brown, and two children, Othmar and Charlena.

CHAMBER BANQUET AT MONTEBELLO

MONTEBELLO, May 27.—Montebello Chamber of Commerce entertained last evening at a midseason banquet the members of the organization.

Herman A. Nater, vice-president of the Bank of Italy of Los Angeles and chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker of the evening, Nater's subject being "Two Items of Interest."

Mrs. Oda Faulconer, attorney of Los Angeles and prominent in the work of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, was also a guest of honor.

N. C. Banks, president, presided during the short business session. The constitution and by-laws of the Chamber of Commerce were amended, doing away with the monthly membership meetings and providing for two meetings a year in addition to the annual meeting.

FINES TOTAL LARGE SUM

Sixty-six Men Assessed for Being Present at Cock Fight Near Ventura

VENTURA, May 27.—All but twelve of the seventy-eight men arrested Sunday by Sheriff's officers in a raid on an alleged cock-fighting concession at Wheeler's Canyon near Santa Paula, have paid their fines and have been released from the County Jail.

Justice Dimmick, before whom all those arrested were arraigned, collected a total of $1133 in fines today.

The twelve men jailed on default in payment of their fines were expected to raise the amounts soon.

One man, Mariano Castle, drew a sentence of $400 or 400 days, half of which was suspended pending his good behavior, because of possession of intoxicating liquor.

What to do with the thirty-odd fighting roosters confiscated in the raid was a problem today to Sheriff Robert E. Clark and his deputies. To dispose of the chickens it will be necessary to have a court order, Sheriff Clark opined.

Deputy Sheriff Ed Hearne, whose hand was severely lacerated by spurs on one of the fighting cocks during the raid, was on the job again.

CLAW HAMMER CLEW IN KILLING

Motive for Rooming-house Murder Unexplained

Death Instrument Hunted as Link to Slayer

Woman Victim Last Seen Alive on Monday

Search for a claw hammer, such as is used by carpenters, featured the investigation yesterday of Detective Lieutenants Stevens and Kynette into the murder, Monday night, of Miss Ida Gautier, 45-year-old rooming-house proprietress. Finding of such a hammer on the premises at 113½ East Ninth street, where the woman was found beaten to death, may lead to the identification of the murderer, the detectives believe.

Otherwise no clews were discovered indicating the character of the slayer or the motive for the crime. Search for the claw hammer followed examination of the body at the County Morgue, which showed the woman had been struck at least ten blows. Several of the wounds disclosed the imprint of hammer claws.

An inquest into the death will be held at the County Morgue at 8 p.m. today. A brother of the slain woman, Albert Gautier, arrived here from San Francisco yesterday to attend the inquest and identify the body.

The detectives yesterday established that Miss Gautier was last seen alive at 2:20 p.m. Monday. At that time she conversed with a woman friend. At 5 p.m. her body, clothed only in flimsy undergarments, was discovered in her bedroom by a tenant, C. C. Aldrich. There were many bloodstains on furniture and walls, showing the woman had struggled desperately with her assailant. Robbery as a motive of the murder was immediately discounted when it was found that a diamond ring on the woman's finger and other jewelry in the room had not been touched.

Miss Gautier, the detectives learned, was a native of France. A bank book found among her possessions showed she had $9000 saved.

WOMAN IN ROW LAYS BLAME ON ADVERSARY

Anna Willey, 23 years of age, was the victim, not the aggressor, in a fight with Miss Marlowe Murray, 19, her sister-in-law, she told Municipal Judge MacCoy yesterday in pleading not guilty to a charge of battery filed by Miss Murray against her. "I went to my mother-in-law's home at 1014 North Virgil avenue to see my two children," she said, "and while I was holding one of them Marlowe knocked me down and kicked me in the stomach." Deputy City Prosecutor Jack reported Miss Murray was scratched and bruised in the affray. Jury trial for Mrs. Willey was set for June 6, next.

CUSTOMER AND BANKER GO TO TRIAL

Prichett and Grose Face Federal Court on Charges of Fund Misapplication

Frank J. Prichett, former cashier of the first National Bank of Culver City, and E. H. Grose, a customer, went on trial before a jury yesterday in United States District Judge Cosgrave's court. Prichett is accused of misapplication of several thousand dollars of bank funds and Grose is accused of aiding him. R. R. Westfall, who likewise was indicted, pleaded guilty and yesterday appeared as one of the government's main witnesses.

It was charged by Asst. U. S. Atty. Layng that in April, 1927, Prichett, with the assistance of the two other defendants, misapplied the funds of the bank, the manipulations involving more than $100,000, all of which was made good by the board of directors. It is expected that the trial will last more than a week.

New Vaudeville Team

Neal Abel impersonates surgeon at bedside of his new partner, George Moran.

Moran was long a member of "The "Two Black Crows," the other being Charles E. Mack. This injunction was denied by Superior Judge Gates, but with leave for Moran to amend his complaint.

Further Delay in Suit Against Doheny Granted

Further continuance of the trial of the case of Frank H. Kunkel, a Cincinnati attorney, representing various stockholders of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company against Edward L. Doheny, former head of that and other Pan-American companies, was granted yesterday by United States District Judge Cosgrave. As the result of a stipulation of attorneys on both sides, the case was continued until June 10, next.

Kunkel is suing Doheny for a refund to the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company of about $11,000,000, which he asserts was lost to that company and its stockholders by the cancellation of leases and contracts with the government in the Elk Hills oil reserve.

It was intimated a settlement of the action may result before the case comes up in June.

COMMISSION SUSTAINS OUSTER OF POLICEMAN

Dismissal on March 14 of Officer Roy Berg by Chief of Police Steckel for asserted "shooting up" of the North Hollywood station on February 23 was sustained by the Police Commission yesterday on motion of Commissioner Drake following an investigation. Sixty days were suspended. The action followed an appeal against his dismissal by Berg.

Mrs. Gregg Lifur Annexes Second Place

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE
"Times" Staff Representative

CATALINA COUNTRY CLUB, May 27. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Roy Green of the California Country Club, Los Angeles city women's champion, wrote a new chapter into the story of her meteoric golfing career here this afternoon when she shot a record - smashing 34-33—67, even men's par, to win the Catalina invitation women's tournament by six strokes.

MRS. ROY GREEN

Making up for every lost stroke by sinking putts and holing chip shots for five birdies, Mrs. Green rounded the turn in perfect figures and, after birdieing the first two holes on the incoming nine, finished with six consecutive pars.

While Mrs. Green was winning all by herself Mrs. Gregg Lifur of Riviera, after a troublesome first nine, finished with a string of pars and birdies to take second place with 40-33-73. Little Mrs. Mark Steele of the San Gabriel Country Club played some fine golf to take third, 38-36-74. Mrs. H. P. Gates of Wil-

MISSION REDS GET DRUBBING

Angel Hurler Leads Attack on Nelson and Knott

Rosenberg and Boone Clout Homers for Visitors

Moore and Dittmar Connect for Circuit Wallops

BY BOB RAY

"Gee, but it's great to be home again," remarked Jack Lelivelt's Angels and they then proceeded to celebrate their first game at Wrigley Field in three weeks by thoroughly trouncing the Mission Reds, 10 to 2, thus starting the series in an appropriate manner.

BILL PETERS.

"Sheriff" Bill Peters, the lone Seraph southpaw, finally was given a chance to start a game and he turned in a nifty piece of mound work to chalk up his fourth win of the season against no defeats. Peters, aside from holding the heavy-hitting Reds to eight well-scattered hits, put on a slugging act of his own by clouting a triple and two doubles in four times at bat, driving in two runs and scoring a pair himself. In fact, Mr. Peters had quite a day for himself. Until yesterday Peters hadn't been given one chance to start a contest although he did manage to get credit for three victories while acting in the relief role.

The Seraph southpaw had perfect control and exhibited a neat curve and change of pace that kept the Mission sluggers well in check. For six innings Pete had the Reds blanked with four hits, two of them of the infield variety and the other a Texas leaguer. In the seventh, however, Ike Boone rammed one over the right-field wall for his thirteenth homer of the season. Two other hits followed in that round but there was no more scoring until the ninth, when Rosenberg's towering fly barely dropped into center-field bleachers.

MOORE, DITTY HOME

The Angels were also represented in the home-run column, Johnny Moore and Carl Dittmar rapping the agate out of the lot. Dittmar's circuit clout came with two mates aboard in the fourth. Ditty also hit a triple. Dittmar is playing great ball this season and hitting around the .400 mark. He deserves plenty of credit for the Angels being up there so near the top.

Mert Nelson, the young man who was sent back to the Missions this year after having had a trial with the Detroit Tigers in the spring, started on the mound for Red Killefer's clan but failed to last through the fourth inning. Knott replaced Nelson just in time to have Dittmar greet his second pitch for a homer with two men on. That blow put the Seraphs out in front, 9 to 0, and took all the starch that was left out of the ball game.

The Seraphs, just back from a three-week road trip, had plenty of pepper and never looked better. They're just a half-game behind the league-leading Sacramento Senators and still have three more series slated with the lowly Indians and Ducks before the first half ends, which ought to give them some sort of an edge.

ANGELS SCORE FIRST

Los Angeles got off in front in the opening inning when the Reds presented the Lelivelt ians with a gift run. Sigafoos led off with a short fly in right field that Boone got under and then lost in the sun.

WILDCAT HANDED SOUND THUMPING AT OLYMPIC

Vallejo Scrapper Earns Right to Meet Mickey Walker for Crack at Middleweight Laurels

BY PAUL LOWRY

Dave Shade achieved an ambition of long standing last night. He made a pussy cat out of a Wildcat.

Before virtually a capacity crowd at the Olympic the Vallejo veteran beat Ace Hudkins to the well-known frazzle.

He won every one of the ten rounds, and outscored the Wildcat as easily as did Mickey Walker, the middleweight king, in the championship battle at Wrigley Field last October.

DAVE SHADE

Shade didn't punish Hudkins quite as badly as did Walker, but he punished him badly enough. He jolted the Wildcat with lefts and rights to the face and body, and had Hudkins swinging wildly all over the place.

It wasn't a sensational fight, but then no fight can be sensational when one man wins all the rounds and has the other fellow swinging like a gate.

SEVEN TIMES

Whether by accident or not Hudkins fouled Shade seven times by actual count, and for the first time in his long and illustrious career as a fighter in this city, the Wildcat was booed vociferously when he left the ring.

He came in like the proverbial lion, and went out like a lamb. Shade was given a mild greeting when he entered the ring while Hudkins was cheered to the rafters. It was just the other way around

GIANTS, REDS CONCLUDE DETAILS OF BIG TRADE

NEW YORK, May 27. (AP)—The biggest major league baseball swap of the season was completed today by the New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds, each with the hope that the results will improve their chances in the sensational National League pennant race.

Although made public as two separate transactions, the trade involves the shipment of Larry Benton, right-handed pitcher, and Pat Crawford, slugging young infielder, to Cincinnati in exchange for Second Baseman Hughey Critz, Outfielder Ethan Allen and Pitcher Pete Donohue.

Both clubs, as is the quaint major league custom, scrupulously avoided any mention of cash but the understanding is that the Giants balanced the deal with a sum estimated at from $35,000 to $50,000. That portion of the transaction involving Crawford, Allen and Donohue was announced today, several days after the preliminary Benton-for-Critz trade.

TROJANS ARRIVE IN EAST

S.C., Stanford Runners Take Light Workouts in Harvard Stadium

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) May 27. (AP) The cream of the Far West's mighty track and field forces today worked out in the Harvard Stadium to get in trim for the fifty-fourth I.C.4-A. championships here on Friday and Saturday.

DEAN CROMWELL

Thirty - four colleges will send teams to contest for the intercollegiate title. However, the meet appeared doomed to be nothing more than a dual contest between two California institutions, Stanford, which won the title last year, and Southern California, unless the athletes of Harvard and Pennsylvania, the two strongest teams in the East, perform in an unexpected manner.

Robert L. (Dink) Templeton had eighteen of his Stanford stalwarts working out late this afternoon. Most of them took easy jogs about the track, but Harlow Rothert, the Cardinal's great shot putter, unlimbered enough to toss the sixteen-pound ball better than 51ft.

The delegation of twenty Trojans from Southern California took matters easy under the SHADES of Jim Thorpe and Fred Thomson! Do you think that either of those great old-time all-around athletes could beat Barney Berlinger of the University of Pennsylvania? There's no way of telling, for they set marks in all-around competition, while Barney competes in the decathlon, but the large and smiling Mr. Berlinger will give anyone a run for his money in either contest, no doubt about that, unless his opponent is a combination Hercules and Mercury.

Barney Berlinger is a bit of such a combination himself, with quite a lot of Apollo thrown in for looks. To see him (and he's easy to see, because he is everywhere on the field in a dual meet, skipping from one event to another,) you'd never dream that a lad heavy enough to put the shot better than 49ft. could be agile enough to pole vault better than 13ft. In the indoor I.C4-A. meet in 1929, Berlinger vaulted 13ft. 4 3-4in., and in the outdoor meet the same year he put the shot 49ft. 3 5-8in., to hold second place until Eric Krenz, the 1928 champion, finally unleashed a 50ft. heave. He also tied for second in the high jump. In the indoor I.C4-A. meet in 1929 he placed in four events, and in the meet last March in three, and that in as classy a meet for competition as is held anywhere.

Penn is counting on this happy-go-lucky kid for a lot of points in the intercollegiates on the 31st inst. He scored 15 points in five events in the dual meet with Yale on the 3rd inst. There seems to be no limit to his endurance in an all-around competition, except in the mile run, which he hates like poison—almost as bad as studying! Barney won the septathlon (seven-event test) at the Illinois relay carnival the last two years, and likewise the decathlon at the Penn relays. This year his point total for the grueling ten-event test was 7460.808, a new record.

TWO ITALIANS QUALIFY FOR INDIANAPOLIS RACE

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27. (AP)—Foreign competition in the eighteenth annual 500-mile automobile race to be run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Friday, was assured today when Baconi Borzacchini and Letterio Cucinotta, Italians, qualified their respective mounts.

Borzacchini, whose home is in Bologna, Italy, toured the course in his sixteen-cylinder car of fire engine red at 95.213 miles per hour. Cucinotta, whose home is in Messina, Italy, negotiated the ten-mile qualifying trial at 91.584 miles per hour in an eight-cylinder racer.

While the foreign entries were the attraction at the speedway today, it fell to Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis, veteran dirt-track driver, to steal the show by passing the test at 106.132 miles per hour in a four-cylinder car.

Three others qualified today, bringing the total to thirty. They were Joe Huff, Indianapolis, 101.978 miles per hour; Marion Trexler, Indianapolis, 92.978 miles per hour, and William (Speed) Gardner, Pittsburgh, 95.585.

Tomorrow officials have announced, will be the last day for qualifying trials. Fifteen cars of the original entry list have yet to take their trials.

SAD SAM JONES PITCHES WASHINGTON TO VICTORY

Ruth Gets Three of Yankees' Four Hits; French Stops St. Louis; Giants Defeat Brooklyn

NEW YORK, May 27. (AP)—Sad Sam Jones turned in another splendid pitching performance today as he won his seventh successive victory of the season. He let the New York Yankees down with four hits as Washington won its seventh game in a row, 7 to 2.

Jones held all the Yankees but Babe Ruth in complete subjugation. Ruth made three of the hits and drove in one run. Joe Judge led the Senator sluggers with four of their fourteen hits, including a triple and two doubles. Score:

CARDS CHECKED

PITTSBURG, May 27. (AP)—Pittsburgh Pirates stopped the winning streak of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals today, when they prevented a ninth straight triumph for the invaders by taking the game, eight to five.

Larry French pitched on two days rest to defeat the Redbirds. The move was necessary on account of the illness in the Pittsburgh hurling squad.

French helped his own club to a big extent in the second, when he tripled with the bases filled. The inning brought four runs. Score:

GIANTS ANNEX

BROOKLYN, May 27. (AP)—Bill Walker, New York southpaw, ended the Giants losing streak of five games today by pitching effectively to give New York a 3-to-1 victory over the Robins. It was the second time this year the Giants have beaten Brooklyn.

Walker was effective in the pinches and hurled shut-out ball for the first seven innings. He yielded the one run in the eighth on successive doubles by Bissonette and Bressler and got out of trouble in the ninth by fanning Babe Herman with the tying runs on base. He struck out seven Robins altogether. Score:

TWO FOR TRIBE

CLEVELAND, May 27. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians took their second double-header in two days from Chicago today, winning in the first game, 3 to 2, and the second, 9 to 8.

The first was a pitching duel between Harder and Henry. Both the Sox runs were on home runs by Jolley and Harris.

In the second, the Indians held a three-run lead in the eighth, but the Sox went ahead by scoring four runs in the first of the ninth. The Tribe scored two in the last half of the ninth to win.

Jolley made four hits in the second game. His homer was his third in two days.

Shires and Fonseca were knocked out simultaneously for about three minutes in the final inning when they collided. Physicians were called to revive them. The scores:

SERAPHS DRUB MISSION REDS

The ball bounced off Ike's ankle for a double. Siggy took third on Moore's infield out and scored when Hofmann's effort to pick him off third resulted in a heave down the left-field line.

Four more Cherubs crossed the plate in the second, which was featured by the first of Peters's three extra base wallops. With one away, Statz singled and stole second. Warren walked. Peters poked one to center that hit a sprinkler to get past Rosenberg. Statz and Warren scored and the Seraph slabster managed to ankle his way to third after considerable effort. Sigafoos's infield out allowed Peters to score and then Moore parked one into the center-field stands for the circuit to make it a quartet of runs for the round.

Peters started another four-run rally in the fourth with a double to right. He scored on successive singles by Sigafoos and Moore, which was the signal for Killefer to call Knott in to the rescue. Dittmar lined Knott's second pitch over the left-field fence and crossed the plate behind Siggy and Johnny to put the game on ice.

The final Angel run arrived in the sixth when Dittmar tripled to right and scored on Schulmerich's sizzling single to center.

PETERS WASTED ONE

Peters doubled in the eighth for his third extra base hit but perished on second when Sigafoos, Moore and Dittmar were unable to advance him any farther than third. Score:

TIGERS WIN

In a loosely played contest yesterday at the Arroyo Seco Playground, the Lincoln High lightweight baseball team trimmed the Franklin Panthers, 10 to 6. Franklin outhit the Tiger babes 2 to 1, but were unable to convert them into runs. The big feature of the game was the manner in which the winners behaved when once they got on base. The official score credits them with having stole seventeen bases. Score:

MILLERS GET HILL

ST. LOUIS, May 27. (AP)—Carmen Hill, veteran right-handed pitcher, has been sent to the Minneapolis club of the American Association by the St. Louis Cardinals, it was announced today.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By Paul Lowry

JONES AND TOLLEY

THE big ones start falling in the British amateur today. In fact two of them crashed yesterday—Don Moe and Doc Willing, pillars of the Great Northwest, "where men are men and they hole their putts."

But the Doc, who was scored heavily by some of the galleryites for making Cyril Tolley hole one-footers at Del Monte in the national championships last summer, wasn't dropping his putts yesterday and was bumped off by a Scotch bank clerk.

Moe didn't succumb to a virtual unknown, his conqueror being a British Walker Cup player, but his defeat was a surprise nevertheless.

With the men from the west coast out of commission the burden of winning the British amateur for American consumption now rests with the peerless Robert Tyre Jones of the South and several cohorts of the East.

The real match today will be that between the peerless one and the Hon. Cyril Tolley, the big Englishman, who is the defending champion.

Of course, this meeting is based on the assumption that both gentlemen will win their morning matches. If successful the short, stolid Georgian and the strapping 200-pound Englishman tangle in the afternoon.

This is the red-hot battle of the day. Sir Cyril came to Del Monte last summer to crown Bobby, but Bobby was crowned in the first round by Johnny Goodman, and Sir Cyril met defeat by Doc Willing in the quarter finals. Maybe they will have better luck today, and finally get together.

DETROIT OR CHICAGO?

COMES a report from Chicago that Young Jack Thompson, the new welterweight champion, has been offered $75,000 to defend his title in a bout with Jimmy McLarnin next September.

This rather conflicts with a statement by Ralph Volks, trainer of Jackie Fields, ex-champion, that Jackie is to meet Thompson in a rematch for the crown at Detroit the same month as the proposed Chicago match.

Thompson can't fight in both places, and there is a suspicion he will go where the money beckons.

McLarnin can drag more shekels through the gate than Fields, and that's what counts with champions these days.

Without the title McLarnin has made more money than any welterweight champion, and the mere mention of his name in a match is enough to send the cash customers rushing to the box-office.

COLLEGE PACHYDERMS

MR. LUIGI DARO, the pachyderm entrepreneur, shoots his newest star and one of the better tried and true ones at the boys and girls tonight.

Don George, the former Michigan boy, is the new one, and Nick Lutze is the old favorite.

It's quite the thing to have wrestlers with college pedigrees as the pieces de resistance these days, and the Hon. Daro, with an eye to pleasing his cash customers, never fails to unearth the antecedents of his boys.

When Lutze was first trotted out he was heralded by the p.a. as a Notre Dame boy. However, it developed later that Nick had only been in the front door and out the back.

But it's different in the case of George. He's bona fide. He attended Michigan. Was a member of the 1928 American Olympic team, and went to the finals, losing on a technicality.

SHADE DEFEATS HUDKINS

Hudkins fought as if he intended to wear Shade down with his advantage in weight—161 1-4 pounds to 158½.

But Shade, looking fitter than he ever has for a local fight, soon demonstrated that his long training siege at Soper's had not gone for naught.

BILLY GOAT STUFF

He let Hudkins lay on him, mauling and flailing with head buried under chin, and breaking away clipped the Wildcat with lefts end rights without a return.

Perhaps the best of Shade's rounds—an example of the way the fight went—was the fourth.

Shade laughed at a low blow below the belt and five times in succession landed one-two to the Hudkins anatomy—right to the stomach and left to the face.

In the ninth—another big Shade round—the veteran California fighter, waging the 416th battle of his career, scored repeatedly with lefts and rights to the face.

Most of Hudkins's intended blows sailed harmlessly over Shade's head as the bobber ducked under them.

Those that did land were slaps on the back or side.

In the sixth Hudkins landed one stiff right. There didn't seem to be another blow the Wildcat started that assayed a thing.

The warriors were fighting for a chance to meet Walker for the middleweight title and Shade's victory was so decisive that there doesn't seem to be a thing to do about it except give him a chance against the champion.

IN 1925

They met as welterweights five years ago. Since then Shade claims Walker has just been as adroit at ducking him as Hudkins until cornered for this fight.

There were no knockdowns, not a semblance of one, but Shade opened a cut over Hudkins's right eye early in the fight and pecked away at it often enough to keep the claret rolling.

In only one department did Hudkins come out on top last night. He was fighting on a guarantee of $12,500, while Shade was to receive 20 per cent of the gate receipts.

The house grossed approximately $30,000, so Shade comes out with half as much as Hudkins.

All the preliminary fights went the limit except the semi-wind-up. Here Wally Frazier, substituting for Roy Moore, won by a technical knockout over Tom Morgan in the fourth round. Morgan was on the floor in the first round, and badly beaten in succeeding rounds until Referee Holborrow stopped the fray.

SOFT PICKINGS

Jack Stephens won an easy victory over Willie Fausto in six rounds, and might have scored a knockout but for an injury to his right hand in the first round. Stephens is a good little two-fisted fighter and looks promising.

Henry Rollins and Manuel Davilo fought four rounds to a draw, and so did Marcellino Lomelli and Frankie Dias in

...ck Lutze and Don George Mix Tonight at Olympic Auditorium

...NNER OF BOUT TO GET CHANCE AT SONNENBERG

...er Michigan Athlete Hoping ...Continue Winning Ways at Life Guard's Expense

...a bout with Champion Gus Sonnenberg as the goal, ...e and Don George will hook up at the Olympic Audi... tonight in the feature event of Lou Daro's bimonthly ...ard.

...ty is signed to mingle ...ompson here in July, but ...follows he can replace the ...e in the title bout if he ...t. Lutze is equally afraid ...e move might be made if ...he is beaten, all of which points to a highly interesting evening.

George is the former University of Michigan and Olympic heavyweight star, who has teased Dan Koloff and Stanley Stasiak in successive starts here. The ex-Wolverine has been every bit as impressive as was Everett Marshall, in his initial local starts, and many fans are predicting that he will climb to the dizzy heights that Marshall did.

Right now Lutze looms as the greatest obstacle in his path. Lutze has been angling for a match with Sonnenberg ever since "Gus the Goat" won the title. He almost had one when he went up against Marshall, and was tossed back down the ladder again. He has since come back strongly, and will be battling with everything he's got to hang on to that contract match with the title-holder. If Lutze loses tonight, there seems small doubt but that George will replace him on the title card.

George, like Marshall, is young, very fast, and an expert at almost any kind of a hold, with particular emphasis on those of the arm variety. He tossed Koloff in a hurry in a preliminary to the Marshall-Sonnenberg match, and it took Lutze more than an hour to subdue the "Bulgarian Lion." George tossed Stanley Stasiak, the Polish giant, on that same card, again demonstrating his speed and science.

Tonight's battle ought to be a furious affair from start to finish with Lutze probably having the edge because of his greater experience in professional ranks. However, don't fall over in a dead faint if George wins, for its well within the realm of possibility.

Lee Wycoff, former amateur of some note, makes his local professional debut in the one-hour, one-fall semifinal affair. He meets Buck Olsen, rough and tumble Salt Lake resident. Olsen beat Rex Smith in his last local start, which is something of an accomplishment and he ought to give Wycoff a real test.

Al Baffert, returned from a tour of the Midwest and Northwest, hooks up with Tommy Thompson in the opener. Thompson, former Oklahoman, is now a resident of Long Beach, and hopes to campaign his way into matches with the first-flight stars.

Brasill declared the bout "no contest" and ordered both purses withheld.

Pick Lincoln to Take Game from Franklin

Coach Frank Malette's Lincoln Tigers are heavy favorites to win their fourth straight major-league baseball game today, when the North Broadway boys and the Franklin Panthers tangle on the Glendale Broadway High diamond in Glendale.

The game is a Lincoln home game and as the Tigers haven't a field of their own the contest will be played in Glendale.

Two other games are listed, Manual Arts taking on Poly, on the Mechanics' diamond, while Jefferson travels out to Hollywood.

The Democrat-Redshirt game promises to be very close, while Poly seems to have a slight edge over the Tollers.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pc.
Lincoln	3	0	1.000
L. A. High	1	1	.500
Jefferson	1	1	.500
Poly	1	1	.500
Hollywood	1	2	.333
Manual Arts	1	2	.333
Franklin	0	3	.000

ANOTHER REVISION

O, East is East and West is West,
And soon the twain shall meet
In the realm of might from the Javelin's flight
To the rush of flying feet;
Where the Stanford pack leads a new attack
For the fame of the Golden West,
And U. S. C. looks to victory
When they come to the final test.

O, East is East and West is West,
But when it is toe to toe
The western sun seems to help them run
And hurdle and jump and throw;
O, the East still dreams of its winning teams
And the records that used to be,
But it's different now in the big pow-wow
With Stanford and U. S. C.

The Big Barrier

TRACK-AND-FIELD teams from Oakland, Stanford and the University of Southern California have now won eight of the last nine intercollegiate championships held at Franklin Field and the Harvard Stadium. And it doesn't help the eastern situation to any great extent to know that U.S.C. and Stanford are back again with two of the strongest outfits the Far West has sent across the country.

In the last nine years California universities have won this big meet eight times and the manner in which they have won and their strength on the cinderpath and on the field indicate that there is no way to get around a showing of this sort except to admit the supremacy of the Pacific Slope. The East has more than a normal supply of stars this spring, but it takes much more than a normal supply to roll back the western sweep.

Dean Cromwell has probably the best team U.S.C. ever sent into action. Dink Templeton of Stanford has a flock of his best men left from last year's winning tribe. But if any one is to stop U.S.C. it might as well be done this spring because most of Cromwell's athletes are sophomores.

At St. Andrews

Other bolts from the blue—volleys from a hidden ambuscade—in the second day's play at St. Andrews, prove again the uncertain turn of a British amateur championship.

Doc Willing, for example, was rated one of the stoutest match play stars on the American side, a finalist in the recent championship at Pebble Beach. Yet the doughty Doc fell with a crash at the hands and wrist of an unknown bank clerk in the first round, a Scot by the name of Spark.

Willing is a fine golfer and a hard fighter but they all thought he was hooked at the getaway.

Don Moe's defeat was not so surprising, as Rex Hartley is one of the best of the English stars. He beat Willing at Sandwich and Moe at Ft. Andrews, which seems to indicate that he is deadly poison over our Northwest, where the hope was that Willing or Moe would at least move up to the final ditch. But on fast hard greens in an eighteen-hole test, it cannot only happen, but it can happen in a hurry.

The Old Democracy

Some time ago a Los Angeles taxi-cab driver parked his bus, entered a big California tournament and won out.

A few days ago a young man named Sid Roper put up his milk wagon for the night, got some pal to help out for a day, and then gave Bobby Jones at St. Andrews one of the stiffest battles the Georgian ever faced. Bobby had six birdies, an eagle and a flock of pars and then only won by 2 and 2 against a steady string of 4's. Roper would have beaten almost any other starter that first day.

Johnny Goodman hitch-hiked to the last open, and two months later at Pebble Beach eliminated Jones in the first round. No champion today knows when a janitor or a truck driver may suddenly emerge with a few clubs and burn up the course. One wealthy and well-known amateur had a hard day beating his own gardener for the city championship and a young iron molder from Bridgeport carried Henry Topping to the thirty-sixth green for the Connecticut title.

TROJAN, CARD TEAMS IN EAST

direction of Coach Dean Cromwell, who appeared so confident of victory he announced his plans to run Frank Wykoff only in the 100-yard dash. Cromwell figured that his well-balanced outfit, which has already taken the measure of Stanford, would pile up enough points to spare his great sprinter from doing double duty in the 220 event.

Though Coach Walter Christie brought but seven of his University of California squad east, he has high hopes that his handful will finish third, behind the other two California delegations.

Christie predicted Southern California would edge Stanford out of the championship by a scant margin.

Templeton, however, had different views on that subject. He predicted that his Cardinals would lead the big field again if some of the eastern stars were able to take points away from the Trojans in the low hurdle and high jump events.

Eddie Farrell put his undefeated Harvard team, about the best in the East, through its last workout.

Tonight the other thirty teams were en route to the stadium and all of them will have a chance to try the track and field tomorrow afternoon. Trial events will be held Friday, with finals Saturday.

CLOSE AVERAGE

There is a difference of only twenty-seven points in the strongest and weakest-hitting teams in the Coast League. Sacramento, with the lowest team batting average, is first in the league standings. Splendid defense, plus good pitching, accounts for the Senators' high position in the pennant race.

ATHLETES TRAINING FOR GRIND

Marathon Entrants Toil in Preparation for Big Race Here June 14

With the second annual Times Pre-Olympic marathon just eighteen days away, the numerous entrants who will run in the long grind are training industriously. Most of them are working out in the cool of the evening, although a group regularly journeys to Del Rey on Sunday mornings to jog up and down the beach for hours at a time, conditioning themselves for the grind.

CHARLEY KEPPEN.

While it is generally conceded that the race lies between Clarence DeMar, the veteran Melrose ace, and the many Sherman Indians entered by Coach Charlie Jamieson, the rest of the entrants are bent on collecting the gold and bronze medals which will be presented to the finishers. The first ten men to cross the finish tape at First and Broadway at the end of the twenty-six mile 385-yard grind, will receive gold medals. Every other man who finishes inside the four-hour time limit, which has arbitrarily been set by the executive committee, will receive a bronze medal.

"The race has two important purposes," Manager Charles Keppen said yesterday. "Primarily we want to create interest in the long-distance event which will be part of the regular Olympic Games program in 1932. Secondly, we hope to develop increased interest locally in marathon running for the purpose of developing talent for the American team. The United States has always been weak in this event, and it is only through the annual staging of races such as this that real contenders will be developed."

Present indications are that more than fifty runners will go to the post in the classic. Entries are still being received daily by Keppen, who enthusiastically predicts that the time for this year's run will be much faster than it was last year when Harry Chaca, one of Jamieson's Indians, beat DeMar in a great battle over the entire length of the course.

AMERICANS WIN FRENCH MATCH

ternats shots against Mlle. Simone Thion de la Chaume and Mme. A. M. Vagliano. Teaming well, Glenna and Bernice were up on the match all the way to the thirteenth hole, but at that point Glenna began to hook her shots. The Americans' lead dwindled fast and on the fifteenth hole the match was all square.

HOOKS BADLY

When Glenna hooked her second shot after a good drive by Bernice, the Americans became 1 down at the sixteenth hole. The match ended on the short seventeenth when Glenna hooked her drive, while Simone was on the green.

The only other lost foursome match was that of the writer and Mrs. Hazel Martelle, America's No. 2 team, against Mme. P. P. Munier and Mlle. Diana Esmond. The French defeated us, 4 and 3.

Helen Hicks partnered with Mrs. Lee Mida, ran away at a gallop, 6 and 4, from Mme. Waddel and Mlle. Durand, who were not of scratch caliber.

Virginia Van Wie, partnered with Virginia Holsderber, teamed well to defeat Mme. Thion de la Chaume and Mme. Florand while Fritzi Stifel and Rosalie Knapp won an easy victory from Mme. Aublin and Mlle. M. Lavigne.

As she had anticipated, Glenna had a close match in singles in the afternoon with Simone de la Chaume, whom she defeated, 2 and 1. The match was won by Glenna on the short seventeenth when Simone hooked her tee shot.

In my own match with Mme. Munier everything seemed to be working right for me and I went out in 37 to be 7 up. The match ended at 8 and 6 in my favor.

Helen Hicks swamped Mme. Thion de la Chaume by going out in 37 to win by 8 and 7. Virginia Van Wie won a well-fought battle from Mme. Vagliano, whom she conquered, 3 and 1.

The first loss in the singles for America was that of Mrs. O. S. Hill, who bowed before Mlle. Diana Esmond, 1 down, on the eighteenth green.

FAST FINISH

Edith Quier's match with Mme. De Vilmorin ended all square on the eighteenth. Edith pulled the match out of the fire by playing the last three holes in par figures.

A surprising defeat was that of Mrs. Stewart Hanley by Mme. Waddel, who won by 3 and 2. Mrs. Federman won, 3 and 2, from Mme. H. Monier, while Louise Fordyce, playing well, finished off Mme. Bourn in 4 and 3. Peggy Wattles, competing for the first time on the singles team, scored a fine 6-and-4 victory over Mlle. D. Du Soulier.

FAVORITES FACE TOUGH SLEDDING

Competition Stiff in Meet Next Saturday

Junior Olympic Boys Set for County Finals

Shoults and Okura Leading at This Time

BY BRAVEN DYER

Although Ord Shoults of San Pedro and T. Okura of the same metropolis are favorites in the Los Angeles county finals of the Junior Olympic Games next Saturday there are plenty of boys capable of beating them out in the race for honors.

HOWARD GRAVITT.

Shoults and Okura hold the edge because of having made the highest scores to date, the former having 654 and the latter 608, thereby leading the senior and junior divisions.

However, it's every boy for himself Saturday and past performances mean nothing as far as this week's scores are concerned. It's a safe bet that some of the contenders have been holding back a bit for just such an occasion as Saturday's meet and the favorites are apt to be rudely surprised.

GRAVITT DANGEROUS

For instance, there is young Howard Gravitt of Compton, who made 547 points in his district finals two weeks ago. Howard happened to have a rather bad day in the basketball throw at this meet, getting only eleven, where he is accustomed to bagging fifteen or sixteen. The Compton boy has done 634 this year, which means that he is a very likely winner Saturday if he can hit on all cylinders.

Gravitt has thrown the baseball 219ft., broad jumped 7ft. 8in., chinned twenty-seven times and negotiated the 75-yard dash in 9 2-5s.

Young Jimmy Montgomery of El Monte is also capable of extending Okura to the limit. His mark of 596 in the El Monte district finals is good enough to indicate that he can better 600 points if clicking correctly. Jimmy had the same difficulty as Gravitt—he couldn't waft the caroms through the hoop consistently. If he has brushed up on his baseball throw a bit and can get fairish accuracy with the basketball it will be a great struggle.

As for the seniors any one of four has an excellent chance of surprising Shoults. Sam Waxman with 626, Clark Crane with 619, Frank Takeuchi with 612 and Paul Lee with 593 are the youngsters capable of extending the San Pedro boy.

Waxman has a score of 645 made earlier this year and if he happens to have a good day Saturday may turn out to be the fair-haired senior of the lot. He represents Echo Park Playground and is a fighter all the way. He is particularly good in the basketball throw, having taken part in the recent Los Angeles county free-throw contest.

CRANE MAY WIN

Crane, who hails from Huntington Park, is potentially one of the best prospects entered in the entire competition. He has an ideal build for an athlete, being long and lean without having wasted away to skinniness. His mark of 619 can easily be bettered by a little more attention to the baseball throw, where he is not getting his maximum distance.

Takeuchi, who, like Shoults, is coached by Arthur Dietz, has done 648 this spring and must therefore be given due consideration.

Paul Lee, a junior last year, is a great little athlete and if he has a good day Saturday can do in excess of 630 points. His coach, Marion Sparrow, has been in the Junior Olympic Games coaching business three years and can be depended on to get the most out of his boys.

The meet will start promptly at 1:30 at Moore Field. All contestants must be on hand by 12:30. Each entrant must bring his birth certificate or he will not be allowed to enter the meet.

CARD COMPLETED FOR MAIN-STREET SHOW

Carlo Curtis yesterday completed the card for the weekly boxing show at the Main Street Athletic Club Saturday night. Sandy Casanova and Jack Venable box the six-round main event. They are 165-pounders. Manuel Trevino and Sergio Redham, 120-pounders, will box the six-round semi-wind-up. Other bouts on the card are William Keosabbain vs. Evans Fortune, 165 pounds; Lee Murchison vs. Gene Mullen, four rounds, 154 pounds; Sol Ortega vs. Johnny Chrismas, four rounds, 133 pounds; Joe Saldivar vs. Henry Celaya, four rounds, 135 pounds.

Tilden and Cochet Dominate Net Tourney

FRENCHMAN IS DOUBLES KING

Captures Title Paired With Jacques Brugnon

Bill's Work Puts Team in Mixed Doubles Finals

Fans Eager for Singles Play Between Stars

BY THOMAS T. TOPPING
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUTEUIL (France) May 27. (AP)—Two men—William T. Tilden of the United States and Henri Cochet of France—stood head and shoulders above all the other players engaged in the French tennis championships in doubles today.

Cochet's uncanny tennis brought the championship to France—the men's doubles—and Tilden's brilliant work placed the United States in the finals of the mixed doubles with a splendid chance to carry off the title tomorrow.

Paired with Jacques Brugnon, who seconded him nobly, Cochet undertook a varied and deceptive plan of campaign. The French Davis Cup pair changed from soft drop shots and lobs to fast drives and deadly smashes. Baffled, their Australian opponents, Harry Hopman and Jim Willard, were soundly beaten in the final at 6-3, 8-7, 6-3.

Tilden, playing as if he held a personal grudge against Jean Borotra, completely swamped the Basque in the semifinals of the mixed doubles. The straight-set victory of Tilden and his young German partner, Cecilie Aussem, at 6-1, 6-2, might have been more crushing had not Elisabeth Ryan, Borotra's partner, scored many points for the Franco-American combination. Fraulein Aussem was little more than a spectator.

The great playing of Tilden and Cochet had the fans discussing with relish the prospect of a duel between them in the singles final. Experts declared that never before has either player reached such a peak of playing condition and effectiveness at this time of the year.

Cochet could do nothing wrong. He brought off hazardous shots with ease. Big Bill looked like the Tilden of 1921.

The old rivals meet in mixed doubles tomorrow with the title at stake as Cochet, paired with Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall of England, also reached the final round, defeating Mrs. Phoebe Watson and J. Colin Gregory of England, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4. Cochet and Mrs. Whittingstall are the defending champions.

Miss Ryan, a British resident, but a daughter of California, gained the third round of the women's singles at the expense of Mme. Bordes, France, winning without pressure at 6-1, 6-3. Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, Helen Jacobs and Wilbur Coen, the other American entrants, were idle today.

A surprise in the men's singles play was the elimination of Jack Crawford, young Australian and Davis Cup star, by J. Colin Gregory, sturdy English internationalist. Gregory's victory at 6-3, 6-2, 6-2, increased England's hopes of beating Australia in their Davis Cup series in England next week.

Foul Tips

The Angels were certainly hitting the ball hard, as well as often yesterday, seven of their fifteen hits being good for extra bases.

It looks as though Burt Cole, veteran Mission southpaw, will be the starting Angel pitcher in today's game.

Just when it looked as if Bill Peterson never was going to get a chance to start a game, Lefty Gaw gave him the chance yesterday. Peterson certainly showed he was deserving of the opportunity, though he was wobbly at times. Already that is said to be enough for Angel manager Hall to work him regularly from now on.

Peters, by the way, nearly ran himself out of the ball game. In the second he tried to run to left center field, rounded out a triple, while in the fourth he doubled to right and had to slide to make it when the ball took a bad hop off the stands right into Boone's hands.

Two double plays were started from the outfield. In the second, leading batsman Jamerich raced into snare Hutt's short, lazy fly and looped to Jacobs. Time after time Boone cut off plays tried to take third after Boone caught Warren's drive in the fourth and big Ike's perfect throw to Sullivan neatly doubled Lester.

Both Jacobs and Berres, the rival Mission catchers, made nice catches of foul flies. Jake took Nelson's high fly after it had come down the first-base line in the latter's whole league leading style over the railing in front of the Mission dugout to spear Warren's foul fly in the fourth.

Fred Haney, who is away out in front as the leading base-stealer of the league, pilfered his twentieth base of the season in the third inning. Jigger Statz stole a couple of bases.

Johnny Moore's home run in the second was hit plenty hard. The ball sailing on a line into the upper center-field corner of the bleachers. Dillinger's other drive was a line drive over the left-field wall, while Moore's circuit clout in the seventh landed just in Avalon Boulevard on the first bounce.

Red Killefer's present batch of Missions certainly do not look like the team that at this time last year forced the circuit to order grass because the Seals were so far out in front they had spoiled the race.

RALLY WINS FOR JAYSEE

After eight innings of scoreless baseball the Long Beach Jaysee nine scored five runs in the last stanza to nose out the Woodbury Business College, 5 to 4, in a game played on the former's diamond yesterday. Woodbury's also scored their four runs in the final inning. Both teams made ten hits and were charged with two errors apiece.

SLOWING UP

Frank Crosetti collected nine home runs in the first four weeks of the season. He hasn't clouted out a circuit drive in the past three weeks. He should collect a few this week in the small San Francisco park.

TOTH KAYOES JENKINS

SANTA ROSA, May 27. (AP)—Bill Toth, 157 pounds, Santa Rosa, knocked out Bob Jenkins, 167, Sacramento Negro, in the second round of a six-round main event on the American Legion card here tonight.

Keep Body Still While Playing Chip

BY SOL METZGER

While there is a slight flow of body with any short shot, even with the putt, due to the player's relaxation in playing it and his desire to let the club follow through, it's best to try to keep the body still. In short, don't sway.

If you sway when chipping, according to Walter Hagen, everything is wrong in the shot. You will probably fluff the ball from its lie into the hazard ahead and have a harder shot than ever to reach the appointed place—a spot dead to the pin.

With those don'ts in mind the next point is the way to stroke the ball for a chip.

If you can't control your long iron shots Metzger's free illustrated leaflet on "Long-Iron Shots" will undoubtedly help you. Address Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and ask for it. Inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

STARS TRIUMPH OVER SEAL CLUB

Elmer Jacobs lasted only one inning, during which he was touched for six hits and four runs. Only one of the runs was earned, however.

Gazella opened the game with a hit. Lee grounded to Sheely, who threw to second to force Gazella, but Crosetti dropped the ball and both runners were safe. They moved along on Brannon's sacrifice. Green got his first of three hits and Carlyle followed with another. Heath was walked and Rumler sent out a sacrifice fly. Bassler hit and Shellenback forced Heath at third to retire the side. Four runs in.

Gazella and Lee hit safely in the second and that was enough for Jacobs. Montgomery got the side out and went along until Heath knocked a home run with two on base.

Montgomery was lifted in the last of the fourth to let Jimmy Zinn make a home run for him, driving in a runner ahead of him and putting the Seals in the ball game for a few minutes.

Perry began pitching in the fifth and blanked the visitors for two innings. In the seventh, however, Shellenback doubled and scored on Gazella's single and the latter counted on Green's double.

Perry was lifted in the last of the seventh to let Alex Gaston swing for him with the bases bulging, but the latter popped out. Frank Crosetti had a great chance then to put the Seals in the game but he rolled out to Brannon.

McDougal pitched the last two innings and got by unharmed except for a home run by Heath in the eighth. He struck out Lee and Brannon in the ninth and threw out Carlyle himself.

Lifters Hold Sway Tonight

Many of the strongest and most-skilled weight-lifters of the world will try for new records in a sanctioned amateur tournament at the Los Angeles Athletic Club tonight. The program starts at 8 p.m., is open to the general public with no admission fee. Among those who will participate are Maurice Arolf, Jere Kingsbury, Mario Cerretani, Frank and Nathan McCann, Leonard Welte and Leonard Hall. The above men have beaten world and American marks in recent tests and all of them will be after A.A.U. recognition tonight.

WILLING, MOE ARE DEFEATED

their morning efforts, they will meet in the fourth round in the afternoon, bringing a contest between the open champion of the United States and the amateur champion of Great Britain.

A thirty-mile wind sweeping across St. Andrews fairways today altered all the famous golfing problems of the course and created new ones at every hole. Not only did shots not properly hit, do weird things in the air, but the wind made duffers of some of the world's best putters.

Willing was one of the putting victims, for weakness in the greens was the main cause of his downfall. It was Scotsmen's day at St. Andrews, and the player who could run up his approach shots instead of pitching them high was the one who won his match.

The American Walker Cup players have been reduced to six but the British also suffered losses in J. A. Stout.

The cosmopolitan character of the competitors is still maintained. Rev. David Rutherford of Biggar, Scotland, was beaten as was the young Edinburgh surgeon, Dr. J. B. Saunders, but William Sutton, the artisan golfer, won, and the young St. Andrews postman, William Fowlis, remains to challenge Tolley tomorrow.

Beaumont Pease, director of a great London bank, was eliminated today, as were the veterans, Edward Blackwell, who is 63, and Joshua Crane, a grandfather who came all the way from Boston with his sawed-off putter to be beaten by Francis Ouimet, a fellow-townsman.

Three Americans, Roland Mackenzie, Walter G. Povargue, Aberdeen, Wash., and Rowland Saunders, Miami, Fla., advanced today without playing, their opponents scratching their entries.

STEVENS BEST

Frank C. Stevens, Jr., Hollywood, Cal., and J. B. Gwaltney, New York, won their matches today while Eric H. Chambers, Portland, Or., and Howard V. Davis, Salem, Mass., were eliminated.

Americans living in London and France who won today included Frank Sweeney, R. B. Foster and Douglas Grant, London, and H. M. Brower, Dinard, France.

Well-known British players winning the right to continue in the competition included T. A. Torrance, John Nelson Smith, Roger Wethered, Maj. C. O. Hezlet, Robert Harris and the Hon. Michael Scott. T. A. Bourn, English native champion, was eliminated.

The defeat of Willing and Moe today raised the question of whether the American Walker Cup players are in danger of becoming stale. Johnston and Voigt yesterday had tough fights against strong opponents and although Voigt won today from J. R. A. Stroyan, 6 up and 4 to play, his golf was not up to the pitch at Sandwich last week.

Von Elm in defeating Dr. Gardiner Hill, 4 and 2, seemed on his game, however.

Matches today in which players from the United States played:

SCHMELING HAS NEW LEFT HOOK

German Challenger Floors De Mave With Punch

ENDICOTT (N. Y.) May 27. (Exclusive)—Max Schmeling uncorked a murderous left hook to the midsection here today. It's a wicked puncher, travels only a foot or so and he delivers it with his head low, his back arched in a crouch and his right hand curled and tucked against his ribs, cocked for a ripping cross to the jaw. He knocked out Jack De Mave with it and he shook up George Neron. The only person who foiled him was the lanky, fast-stepping Stanley Pareda, who won his tenth consecutive round of boxing against his employer.

SHARKEY'S WEIGHT REFUSES TO DROP

ORANGEBURG (N. Y.) May 27. (Exclusive) — With thunderous, heart-warming applause he received from about 7000 fans at Mechanics' Hall in Boston last night still ringing in his ears, Jack Sharkey, the squire of Chestnut Hill, returned to his training camp at Gus Wilson's shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon. Tomorrow he will resume training for his fifteen-round bout with Max Schmeling on June 12 at the Yankee Stadium.

No matter how he tries Sharkey cannot hold his weight below 200 pounds. When he pitched camp two weeks ago he weighed 205. When he knocked off work Sunday to take a two-day rest he tipped the beam at 200. When he strips for action tomorrow he will be close to where he originally started. Yet he hopes to scale about 197 for the fight.

MRS. ROY GREEN AVALON WINNER

shire, an eight-handicap player, surprised with a well-scored 37-38—75 to tie with Mrs. Leona Pressler of San Gabriel, 37-38—75.

MISS LAWSON SHINES

Others who broke the eighty mark include Miss Helen Lawson of Wilshire, 76-2-74; Mrs. C. W. Fellows of California, 77-5-72, and Mrs. E. S. Browne of Los Angeles, 79-5—74.

Mrs. Gus Dembling of the Fox Hills Country Club proved that it is possible to repeat in golf by winning Class B laurels with a 77-13—63.

While Mrs. Green was ranked among the logical favorites, she was not favored to defeat either Mrs. Pressler nor Mrs. Lifur. It was apparent, however, from the first hole on that Mrs. Green did not intend to play second fiddle to anyone. Playing with Miss Lawson, the California player was on the difficult first hole in two, and sunk a fifteen-foot putt for a birdie 3. She went one over in the short second hole, but holed a fifty-foot chip shot on three for a second birdie. On the 450-yard seventh hole, Mrs. Green was on in two and took two putts for a birdie 4.

Coming in, the Californian dropped a seven-footer for her fourth birdie on the tenth hole, and then conquered an old-time jinx to birdie eleven by holing another putt of seven feet. Mrs. Green lost all chance of winning the Catalina event a year ago by putting four balls out of bounds on eleven. From there in the ultimate winner clicked off par after par, and had a putt rim the cup on seventeen for a birdie.

As a reward for her efforts, Mrs. Green gets a vacation with all expenses paid to Vancouver, Denver or any other city within a similar radius of Los Angeles. This well-worth-winning prize was put up by William Wrigley, Jr.

For winning second low gross, Mrs. Lifur was awarded a sterling cake pedestal. A cloisonne compact went to Mrs. Gates for low net, 75-8—67.

Mrs. Dembling carried home a silver coffee set, and Mrs. Rex Taylor of Brentwood won a cloisonne cigarette case for second low gross.

Low net in Class B was won by Mrs. George Crook of Hacienda, 90-13—68; Mrs. J. K. McDonald of Santa Ana, with 83-14—69, was awarded a traveling clock.

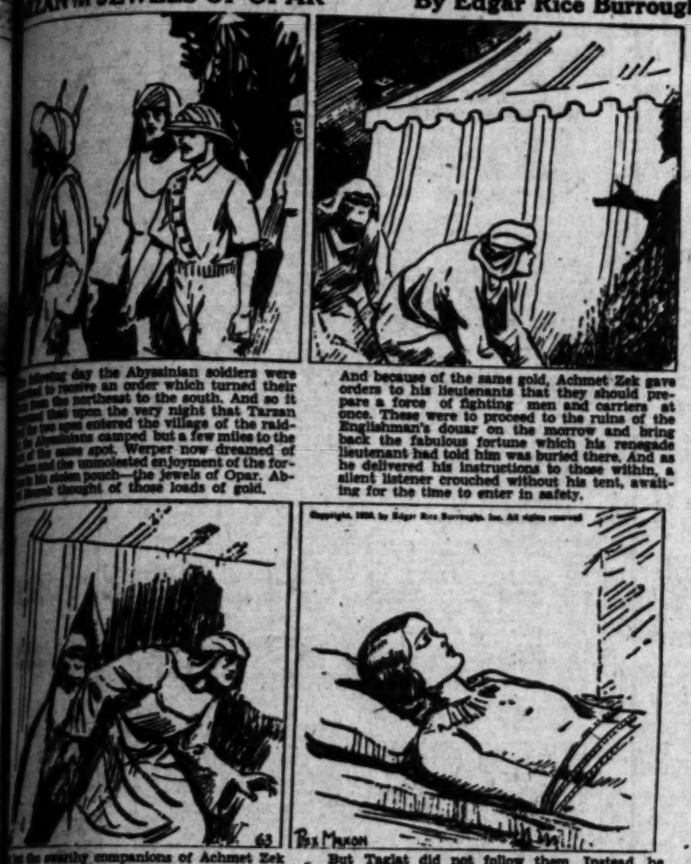
TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR — By Edgar Rice Burroughs



On the following day the Abyssinian soldiers were ordered to receive an order which turned their faces from the northeast to the south. And so it happened that upon the very night that Tarzan and the two apes entered the village of the raiding Abyssinians camped but a few miles to the northeast of the same spot. Werper now dreamed of safety and the unmolested enjoyment of the fortune in his stolen pouch—the jewels of Opar. About the latest thought of those loads of gold.

And because of the same gold, Achmet Zek gave orders to his lieutenants that they should prepare a force of fighting men and carriers at once. These were to proceed to the ruins of the Englishman's dooar on the morrow and bring back the fabulous fortune which his renegade lieutenant had told him was buried there. And as he delivered his instructions to those within, a silent listener crouched without his tent, awaiting for the time to enter in safety.

Of the swarthy companions of Achmet Zek and his tent, and the leader went with them into a pass with one of their number, leaving in one other habitation unguarded. Scarcely had the last when a knife blade was thrust through the fabric of the rear wall, some six feet from the ground, and a swift downward stroke made an entrance to those who waited without. Through the opening came the ape-man, searching for the jewels of Opar. Close behind him came his huge Chulk.

But Taglat did not follow them. Instead, he turned and slunk through the darkness toward the tent where the "she" who had arrested his brutish attention lay securely bound. Before the doorway the sentries conversed. Within the young woman lay upon a sleeping mat, resigned through utter hopelessness to whatever fate lay in store for her. Creeping silently toward the sentries, a figure approached the shadows at one end of the hut. Here it halted and peered around the corner of the hut.
